SENATOR OWENS WINS; UNION LABOR DEFEATED.

Move to Recall Ninth District Member Ends in an Utter Fiasco.

Contra Costa and Marin Counties Rebuke P. H. McCarthy for Foisting the Cost on the Community—Lawmaker Who Refused to Do His Bidding Receives a Double Indorsement from the Constituency.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—State Senator James C. Owens today won out in the recall fight waged against him in Contra Costa and Marin counties by the State Federation of Labor.

The vote in Contra Costa, Owens's home county, was as follows: For the recall, 3552; against recall, 4042; majority in favor of Owens, 490.

The vote in Marin county was: For the recall, 1623; against recall, 2705; majority in favor of Owens, 1082.

Out of a total of 11,922 votes in both counties 5175 were for and 6747 against recall, Owens winning by 1572.

The showing for Owens is remarkable for the fact that the only interest in the election was shown on the side of the Socialists and laborites who instituted the recall election.

An interesting feature of the election was the vote for Owens in Marin, a county the Progressives have been claiming Mazza would carry by a large majority. The Democratic incumbent Senator came out with 719 more votes in Marin than he got in his own county.

At Corte Madera, Mazza's home town, the Progressive candidate received 41 votes, the Republican ten and the Socialist eighteen, but the will of the electors on the recall was [illegible] against and 47 for.

Owens ran strong in all the outlying precincts in Marin county.

San Rafael went against recall by [illegible] to 543. In Sausalito Owens lost. The vote was 280 yes; 243 no.

Fisher, Republican, carried his own town, Tiburon, the result being Fisher, 46; Mazza, 11; Lenhardt, 20. Sentiment in Tiburon was for recall, the figures being 77 for and 12 against.

In San Anselmo, Lenhardt's place of residence, Owens won. The vote was 155 for and 217 against recall, with the Socialist candidate leading with a total of 133; Fisher second with thirty votes and Mazza third with 23.

Mill Valley gave a majority of 100 in favor of the Contra Costa Senator and against the movement to unseat him.

As indicating Owens's popularity in the outlying precincts of Marin are the results in Bolinas and Marshall. Bolinas went 71 to 3 against recall and Marshall 35 to 5 the same way.

At Olema the vote was 40 to 0 for Owens.

The movement to recall Senator Owens wa sstarted primarily by labor interests in Marin and Contra Costa counties and later was taken up by the State Federation of Labor.

It was set forth by the federation as grounds for the recall that the Contra Costa legislator had voted against labor and repudiated the platform pledges of the Democratic party. Owens voted against the anti-injunction bill, the eight-hour bill and industrial insurance at the last session of the Legislature.

In a long campaign statement Owens denied that he was against labor.

The Democratic State Central Committee came near being involved in the fight. The Bourbon County Central Committee of Contra Costa met in a special session at Martinez and LOWER HOUSE VOTES FOR REPEAL, BUT THE SENATE IS YET TO ACT.

Sims Bill Now Goes to Inter-Ocean Canals Committee Whose Chairman Is Bitterly Opposed to It.

Greatest Crowd That the Capitol Has Sheltered for Many a Year Hears Champ Clark's Oration Against the All-Britannic Policy Which He Insists Stultifies the President and Violates the Baltimore Platform.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The House of Representatives tonight, after one of the most spectacular legislative struggles in the history of the nation, voted to repeal the provision of the Panama Canal Act exempting American vessels from the payment of tolls. The vote on the repeal bill was 247 to 161, a majority of eighty-six votes in support of the personal plea of President Wilson.

This verdict on the issue, which has absorbed Congress for weeks, came at the close of a stirring day, made memorable in the annals of the House by a party division which found Speaker Champ Clark, Majority Leader Underwood and other Democratic chieftains lined up in open opposition to the President on an issue which the latter had declared vital to his conduct of the nation's foreign policy.

Tomorrow the bill goes to the Senate, where the fight will be renewed with all of the vigor and determination that attended it in the lower house.

On the final vote 220 Democrats in the House stood by the President, giving him in "ungrudging measure" what he had asked, "for the honor of the nation" in its foreign relations. Twenty-five Republicans and two Progressives also voted to sustain the President. Fifty-two Democrats followed Speaker Clark and Leader Underwood to defeat in their steadfast determination that the President was wrong in his decision that toll exemption for American ships is a violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty with Great Britain.

Nothing, it seemed, could stem the tide of administration success. Speaker Clark, for nearly twenty-two years a member of the House, made the speech of his life to forestall what he termed "unquestionable degradation" of the nation. In this he failed, but he did smooth over the party breach with kindly words for his adversaries, praise for President Wilson and an unqualified denial of any vaulting ambition on his own behalf.

When Speaker Clark had closed the debate for the opposition to the repeal with an impassioned argument he was triumphant in defeat, for the entire legislative assemblage, in which were many Senators, rose to cheer him.

President Wilson was at dinner when the result of the vote was announced. He was gratified but made no comment.

In the Senate the bill will be referred to the Committee on Interoceanic Canals, of which Senator O'Gorman of New York, a vigorous opponent of the measure, is chairman. Senator O'Gorman has said he would call a meeting of the committee at once to consider the bill.

That there will be a fight in that committee is certain. How long it will be there cannot be predicted, but administration Senators propose that a vote shall be taken by the committee within a reasonable time. Senator Owen is leading the fight for the President there.

The committee will have many proposals before it, several of them in the nature of compromises, some of them resembling a motion of the House minority today to recommit the repeal bill and to repeal the exemption clause with a declaration that the United States should have complete sovereignty over the canal. This motion in the House was defeated by a vote of [illegible] to 176. It will be the aim of administration Senators to have the repeal reach its final vote within two or three weeks.

There was keen interest in the attitude of the California delegation, because of the activity of Congressman Knowland and on account of the State's peculiar interest in the bill. Congressmen Kent (independent) and Church (Democratic) voted for the repeal of the tolls exemption. The remaining nine voted against it. They are Congressmen Curry, Kahn, Knowland, Hayes, Republicans; Nolan, Bell and Stephens, Progressive Republicans, and Raker and Kettner, Democrats.

THE VOTE.

The vote in the House tonight on the passage of the Sims bill to repeal the toll exemption provision of the Panama Canal act was 247 "aye" and 161 "nay" and one "present." The vote:

SAN FRANCISCO SUPERVISOR FAVORS INCREASE.

Finance Committee Directs an Accountant to Examine Into the Receipts and Expenditures of Ewing's Club for Several Years Past to Justify Boost.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—At the request of Supervisor Edward L. Nolan, who advocates a large increase of this city's baseball park license tax, the Finance Committee of the Supervisors has directed its expert accountant, William Dolge, to examine the books and accounts showing the receipts and expenditures of Cal Ewing and his associates for each baseball season for several years past.

Ewing offered to submit his books and accounts for examination when Nolan's proposed raise of the license fee to $5000 a year was discussed in committee some weeks ago. Ewing said that the receipts did not justify such a high boost of the tax. He now pays $75 per quarter.

THE REBELS STILL FAKING; TORREON STILL STANDS.

Gen. Carranza Says He Is Still Hoping for Its Early Capture, but Position of Troops Has Not Changed in Twenty-four Hours and Wild-Eyed Reports Are Being Sent Out.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JAUREZ (Mex.) March 31.—At 8 o'clock tonight Gen. Carranza stated positively that while there was every reason to hope for the early capture of Torreon, the town had not yet fallen, and that the position of the troops has not materially changed in the last twenty-four hours.

This information was given out through Roberto V. Pesquiera, confidential agent of the Constitutionalists, and Alfredo Breceda, secretary to Carranza. They also traced to its origin the report this afternoon that the city had fallen.

The town burst into flame when a rebel official exhibited to two American a telegram sent yesterday by Theodore Hamm, American Consul at Durango, to Secretary of State Bryan. It said he had been informed that Torreon had fallen.

"The situation in a nutshell," said Senor Pesquiera, "is that the capture of Torreon seems certain, but no one can predict when."

The report of Torreon's fall failed of verification or denial early in the afternoon.

The rebels telegraphed to Gomez Palacio, asking Gen. Villa if the news were true; the operator replied that he was under orders to transmit no messages of any kind.

Gen. Carranza said he regretted that he could not confirm the report, and other officials had the same reply.

The first report had it that Marion Letcher, United States Consul at Chihuahua, had transmitted to Secretary of State Bryan a report from Vice-Consul George Carothers, who has been at the front with Villa as a representative of the United States, that Torreon was captured at 1:30 this afternoon.

On the heels of this, some rebel official telephoned to the offices of the Mexico and Northwestern Railroad

Officer Who Has Just Returned to This Country to Assume Presidency of War College Declares Policy of Increasing Army in Department Is Being Continued.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—Brig.-Gen. Montgomery M. Macomb, recently commander of the Department of Hawaii, arrived here today on the liner Wilhelmina, accompanied by his wife. The officer, who has had a long and brilliant record in the service, is on his way to Washington, where he will assume the important post of president of the Army War College.

The condition of the military in the islands is excellent, according to Gen. Macomb, who has been succeeded by Maj.-Gen. William H. Carter.

"The government is going on with its policy of increasing the military forces in Hawaii," said Gen. Macomb. "The force now numbers 8000 men."

SONORA PEONS FACE FAMINE.

Unfed Masses Expect Aid from United States.

Empty Bellies Only Result to Average Mexicans.

Asked Whom He Favors He Answers "Quien Sabe?"

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CANANEA (Sonora) March 20.—The specter of starvation is gradually casting its shadow over the State of Sonora. The time is not distant when from 40,000 to 50,000 hungry Mexican men, women and children in the State will stretch forth their hands, appealing to the United States for sufficient food to keep body and soul together.

A few scattered ranches, producing a small amount of frijoles, corn and wheat, offer at this time the only relief to the famine-threatened State. There are thousands of pesos of rebel money circulating in the State not worth the paper it is written on. There are millions of pesos of the scrip in circulation, the value of which ranges from ten to twenty cents on the dollar. Ninety per cent. of the merchants of the State have closed their doors because they are unable to buy the necessities of life with any of the various insurgent issues of the "shinplasters."

TOLL OF REBELLION.

Three and a half years of continuous revolution have brought the inhabitants to the realization that the present is far worse than the past and the future only a vision of suffering and misery. The revolutions of today and yesterday have exacted their toll. The Mexican peon, and he numbers 90 per cent. of the Sonora people, has paid his toll. Today there is nothing to wring from him.

PEON'S POLITICS.

Ask the average Mexican in the State today what revolutionary faction he favors, he will reflect for a moment, on his own impoverished condition, his hungry family, shrug his shoulders and reply, "Quien sabe?" He has suffered the consequences of supporting one after another, in his simple way, the many leaders whose personal ambitions did not prevent them from using the blood and sinew of the State to enrich themselves, but which does prevent them from offering assistance to a slowly starving people.

MONEY AND FOOD SCARCE.

Food is daily becoming scarcer. With the exception of a few American mining companies, the mercantile companies of which sell only to their own employees, and a half dozen small Chinese merchants along the border, the merchant in Sonora has been forced out of business. He cannot buy American merchandise with rebel scrip. Goods of American manufacture are all that are available. The State is shut off from all other markets, which likewise demand payment on a gold basis. The Mexican, who is not employed by one of the American companies, cannot secure even the necessities of life except that he gather them from the fields—and a year's harvest in Sonora will feed its people for two months.

EXPERT HELP FROM NORTH.

From all quarters of the State reports of unrest arrive daily. So serious has the problem become that all who can are making their way to the border in hopes of securing employment on the American side of the boundary. But for every one leaving his home there are a thousand who face the question of life and death by their own fireside. The Sonora army of unfed is growing daily. The demand for food is still pacific, and while few talk violence, urging the forcible seizure of what yet remains in the State, the thousands of Sonorans begin to yearn for the time to come when the rich nation to the north will open its bounteous larders to the starving peon of the south.

VILLA CURRENCY OFFICIALLY "BAD."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

AGUA PRIETA (Sonora) March 31.—Orders prohibiting further circulation of the so-called "Villa Currency" were received here today from Serapio Aguirre, Secretary of the Carranza Cabinet, who instructed Constitutionalist officials in Agua Prieta to transmit the orders to all other insurgent officials in Sonora.

The principal reason for the orders was said to be the issuance of counterfeiters of bogus "Villa" bills amounting to 1,000,000 pesos.

Although without official advices, Sonora people are being assured that the "Villa currency" now in their hands will be redeemed by a new Constitutionalist issue which is expected here from New York within two weeks.

Although the buying power of the present issue is said to be as great as ever in insurgent territory, it has depreciated along the border, bringing only from 7 to 12 cents on the peso. It is believed that this may be another reason for the orders prohibiting its further circulation.

Rebels Still Faking.

here that the capitulation of the Federals was officially announced.

The rumors spread rapidly, and in a few moments the streets leading to the telegraph office were jammed with people. At the international bridge was a stream of interested persons pouring in from El Paso, and orders were issued that all be searched for weapons. The saloons, which were allowed to reopen last night, were again closed.

That something was wrong with this news began to be suspected when rebel officials were observed among seekers for information. Singly and in groups they returned from Gen. Carranza's office, shaking their heads, and went to the telegraph office. Here, too, verification was lacking, and finally Frederico Gonzales Garza telegraphed directly to Gen. Villa, only to be informed by the operator that his message could not be handled.

The whole incident left the impression that something of importance was taking place in the south and it was hoped that official announcement of the victory was merely being delayed for some purpose known to Villa alone.

A telegram from him to Gen. Carranza sent this morning and given out this afternoon felicitated Carranza on his welcome to Juarez and said that Villa hoped to announce the surrender of Torreon in a few hours. Another telegram purporting to come from Villa said that he was meeting with desperate resistance in attempting to take the general barracks, the last position held by the Federals, and was about to dynamite buildings in the neighborhood so that he could bring his artillery into play.

BRYAN HAS NO WORD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary Bryan tonight said he had received no word from Consul Letcher announcing the fall of Torreon and that no important news from Mexico had come to the State Department during the day.

Three official telegrams were received at the State Department tonight purporting to come from Consul Hamm, the American diplomatic representative at Durango, Mex.

The first two messages were dated yesterday and reported that the Federals were then evacuating Torreon. The third telegram, however, was dated today and explained that the previous messages were "premature and unreliable." It added that large Federal reinforcements were arriving at Torreon "from the East." It was explained that strong Federal reinforcements for Torreon left Saltillo Saturday morning and were scheduled to arrive at Torreon tonight.

The long expected battle in the neighborhood of Tampico is still in abeyance, according to reports today from the naval officers in that vicinity.

REPORT REBEL DEFEAT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—What the Mexican Consul-General here described as "official news" relative to conditions at Torreon, was made public today as follows:

"The rebels have suffered serious defeats at Torreon. The Federal general, De Moure, with 5000 fresh soldiers from Saltillo, is near Torreon at the rear of the rebels. In recent engagements in Monclova, the rebels had about 1000 casualties as well as about 100 at Cerro de Arteaga. The advance guard of the rebels in Tamaulipas has been annihilated."

Mystery.

BELIEVE CONSUL WAS VICTIMIZED.

REPORT OF TORREON'S FALL IS CALLED A FAKE.

Rebels at Juarez Unable to Trace Source of Message and Intimate the Name of American Official at Durango May Have Been Forged to Bryan Telegram.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JUAREZ (Mex.) March 31.—That Theodore C. Hamm, American Consul at Durango, had been victimized by news fakers or that his name had been forged to a message addressed to Secretary Bryan, officially announcing the fall of Torreon, is the only explanation advanced by high Constitutionalist officials tonight after a rigid investigation and an exchange of telegrams had failed to unearth evidence that Villa was in possession of the city.

A later dispatch apparently confirming the alleged report of Consul Hamm and which was purported to have been signed by Marion Letcher, American Consul at Chihuahua, is now believed by Constitutionalist secret service agents to have been used without authority in a bold attempt to create a newspaper sensation.

All attempts to learn how copies of these messages were obtained from the rebel telegraph office in this city have proved fruitless up to a late hour tonight, although Felix Sommerfelt, chief of the secret service, asserts that the mystery would be cleared within a few hours.

The wide publicity given to the messages supposed to have been signed by the two American Consuls created the wildest excitement both in Juarez and El Paso. Federal sympathizers whose fortunes were hanging in the balance ran through the streets, shouting agonized appeals to their patron saints, while hundreds of sorrowful refugees lined the river bank on the American side, awaiting the official confirmation that Torreon had surrendered.

An immense crowd of rebel sympathizers, anxious for an official confirmation, stood in front of Gen. Carranza's residence for nearly an hour, when Private Secretary Espinosa Mireles appeared on the balcony and told the people that Consul Letcher, in a dispatch to the Washington officials, had fully corroborated the earlier report of Consul Hamm.

For the next two hours the police had difficulty in preserving order as the emotional crowds became frenzied with the joy of victory, and some of the more enthusiastic discharged revolvers in every direction without apparent thought of the danger of hitting someone.

After the first outburst of enthusiasm on the part of the higher officers, the suggestion was made that congratulatory telegrams should be sent to the victorious rebel commander, and a rush was made to the telegraph office. There it was learned that none of the operators, either at Chihuahua, or at the front, had been informed of Villa's victory and as far as could be ascertained, the fight at Torreon was still in progress.

When informed of this phase of the situation Gen. Carranza called in Chief Sommerfelt and other secret service officers and requested that an immediate investigation be made to ascertain the facts.

Although he had not yet completed his investigation Sommerfelt stated that the first message announcing the victory had been sent to Juarez from Chihuahua, where it was supposed to have been received direct from Durango City. As the message was addressed to the American Secretary of State and was signed by an American Consul there was no delay in forwarding it to Washington, according to the secret service officer.

Within ten minutes after the message had passed through the Juarez office, the newspaper men were in possession of copies and the news was given to the world.

Later a call was made at the home of Mrs. "Pancho" Villa where the wife of the general declared that she had received no message from her husband since yesterday.

"If Torreon had been taken as reported in the newspapers," she said, "I am sure that my husband would have sent me word even before he informed the officials at Juarez. I hope the report is true, but if so I can give no explanation as to why I have not been told about it," she said.

The best explanation of the mystery was made by Secretary of the Interior Zubiran, who frankly stated that newspaper competition seemingly was responsible for the fakes sent out in the last two weeks.

"As a matter of fact scores of telegrams dated at the front and many of which were supposed to have been signed by Gen. Villa himself, have been published since the fight at Torreon commenced. As I stated in an interview yesterday there have been no such messages sent over our lines. Where the messages originated I don't know but I do know that the columns of gush did not originate with Gen. Villa and were not handled by us. It is true that a few short bulletins reporting progress were allowed to come through, but nothing more than this. I suspect that the messages announcing the fall of Torreon perhaps may have been filed at Chihuahua and were intended as a basis for another sensational report, or else the consuls were misinformed by some one who shrewdly guessed that they would pass the report on to Washington."

At 10 o'clock tonight Chief Sommerfelt said that whether the messages were forged or not, the person who "leaked" would be prosecuted and perhaps shot as soon as his identity became known.

There are reasons for believing that if the message had not "leaked" out of the Juarez office it would have appeared as a great newspaper "beat" in the morning. All attempts to get into communication with either Hamm or Letcher were unavailing tonight.

Former Japanese Minister of Justice Accedes to Emperor's Request to Replace Count Yamamoto.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

TOKIO, March 31.—Viscount Keigo Kiyoura, formerly Minister of Justice and Minister of Education, accepted today the task of forming a new Cabinet to take the place of that under the premiership of Count Yamamoto, who resigned office owing to the naval scandals.

Vice-Admiral Matsumoto, who was recently relieved of the command of the Kure naval station in connection with the naval scandals brought about by the alleged acceptance of illicit commissins by naval officers in return for their influence in the allotment of contracts, has been sent to prison. He was confronted with Vice-Admiral Matsue, Vice-Admiral Fujii and Kenso Iwahara, a civilian, all of whom are alleged to be implicated in the illegal practices.

POISON FOR BREAKFAST OF MINISTER'S FAMILY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

RICHLAND (Or.) March 31.—The family of the Rev. Frank Hopkins, pastor of the Methodist Church, South, here, recently a witness before the grand jury at Baker, was the object of a poisoning attack last week and investigation tends to show an attempt was made to kill the entire family by placing poison in the baking powder and salt. Tuesday morning, Mrs. Hopkins, in preparing breakfast, placed some of the salt on the potatoes which she was frying. Eventually she threw out the potatoes, but not until the fumes from them had made her sick. The baking powder showed signs of a foreign substance also. There are four little children in the family.

The Rev. Mr. Hopkins was the object of another sort of attack early this year. He had delivered a sermon on boot-legging and Walter Jones took offense at the remarks which he believed were addressed toward his father. After the service he followed the Rev. Hopkins to a country road, where he thrashed him, according to his own story. He was indicted.

FEDERAL RULE HIS PANACEA.

Sir Edward Grey Suggests It for British Isles.

Offers It as Solution for Home-Rule Problems.

Morley Abandons Resignation from the Cabinet.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 31.—Establishment of a Federal system of government for the British Isles was suggested to the House of Commons today by Sir Edward Grey as a solution of the home-rule difficulty. The suggestion was received with great attention by the House, which was engaged in debate on the second reading of the home-rule bill.

"I believe," Sir Edward said, "that if our present difficulty is not solved by the introduction of a Federal system, the country will go under through the sheer inability of Parliament to transact its business."

Sir Edward Grey put forward a hint that the government was ready to go to the country for a general election if Parliament would enact its bills abolishing the system of plural voting, giving home rule to Ireland and disestablishing the Welsh church.

"If an election could be assured," he said, "on the terms of securing the abolition of plural voting and of placing home rule and the Welsh disestablishment on the statute books, the method would be worthy of consideration."

ASQUITH'S ABSENCE.

After a week of sensational developments in connection with the Ulster situation, the House of Commons started the debate on the second reading of the home rule for Ireland bill. It is expected the measure will occupy the House for at least three days. The absence of Mr. Asquith, who was in charge of the bill, was bitterly complained of by the Unionists.

It is reported from Dublin that Premier Asquith is to be opposed in the bye-election for East Fife by James Larkin, who, as head of the Transport Workers' Union, was leader of the strike in Dublin last autumn In connection with the strike, Mr. Larkin was sentenced to seven months' imprisonment in October for inciting to riot, but was later released.

MORLEY STICKS.

Viscount Morley of Blackburn, Lord President of the Council, abandoned today his intention of resigning from the Cabinet, intimated in the House of Lords yesterday.

The Cabinet met and the strongest pressure was brought to bear on Lord Morley not to add to the difficulties of his colleagues by giving up his office. When the House of Lords met later in the day, Lord Morley announced to the members that he had not quit the Cabinet.

Viscount Morley said:

"If Col. Seely's first resignation had been accepted by Premier Asquith, mine would have followed, as I had been a party to his irregularity in adding the two amended paragraphs to the Cabinet document."

Morley contended that Seely's second resignation was independent of what had occurred between himself and the Secretary for War was for the purpose of disposing of all appearance of a bargain with the military officers.

The Lord President of the Council reiterated his belief that the spirit of the two paragraphs added to the memorandum sent to Brig.-Gen. Gough was not at all alien to the view of the government.

The vital fact so far as his action was concerned, he said, was that when he saw the paragraphs he had not seen Gen. Gough's letter, so he was quite unaware that there had been any attempt to dictate terms or that the letter was in reply to Gen. Gough's request for assurances.

SIR EDWARD'S SPEECH.

In the House of Commons, Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, spoke on behalf of the government. He said that the ministers were not prepared to make any concession beyond the six years exclusion of the Ulster counties from the operation of the bill offered by Premier Asquith.

"The country," he said, "must settle the question at the end of that time. Meanwhile the question of the coercion of Ulster cannot arise until after a general election, but if there are sporadic outbursts in that province, force must be used and if an attempt is made to set up a provisional government and defy the imperial Parliament, the army must be used.

"If there had been a general election last week, it would have been on a much greater issue than home rule.

"If the army had taken active sides in politics, the country would have faced a graver problem that it had faced in three centuries.

"If there is any question raised of government by Parliament without interference, I myself take a stand as firm as that of any labor member."

Sir Edward suggested the resumption of conferences between party leaders in order to see whether a settlement could not be reached on the basis of establishing a Federal system for the whole country before the end of the six years named by the government in its offer to Ulster.

THE DAY'S EFFECTS.

The Unionists are alarmed at the specter which the Carsonite methods have raised of an election fought on a platform cry of "The Parliament vs. the Army." Even the moderate Liberals are anxious to avoid a struggle, which it is foreseen would let loose a flood of passion exceeding even that which attended the agitation to abolish the veto power of the House of Lords.

Hence the proposal of Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to the House of Commons today for a Federal system of government for the British Isles, as a solution of the difficulty, which he put forward in a most conciliatory speech, has been received on both sides of the House with great sympathy and it is expected will lead to a renewal of negotiations between the two front benches for the arrangement of an acceptable compromise.

The large body of opinion, both inside and outside Parliament, supports a settlement on the Federal basis and a meeting of about fifty members of the House, representing both parties, was held today to discuss such a settlement.

Viscount Morley's decision not to resign as Lord President of the Council pleases the Liberals, as at his advanced age it would have meant his permanent retirement from politics, and the party would regret to see the veteran statesman retired under a cloud.

I Am the Angelus

¶ I am the Angelus, the original, the Father of the Player Piano idea.

¶ I was first introduced to music lovers in 1895. Now I have hundreds of imitators. I am flattered.

¶ I have brought to the world a new, a delightful, a perfect method of playing the Piano. I have made expert musicians of thousands who otherwise never would have known the joy of creating beautiful melodies.

¶ I have made the Piano, formerly a silent ornament, a source of musical joy and satisfaction to every member of the family.

¶ I have made the famous Masters of the Piano—Chopin, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Lizt, Bach, Schubert, Mozkowski—and a hundred others, the intimates, the friends of thousands of households; their musical compositions the common property of the people of all nations.

¶ I have made good music a universal language, understood, appreciated and loved by the people of every land and every tongue.

¶ I have brought to every being who loves music, the skill of the master pianist, the technical fluency of a Paderewski, a Bauer, or a De Pachman; the ability to phrase, to interpret, to render with perfect assurance, in perfect measure, time and tone, the most intricate and beautiful piano compositions ever written.

¶ I have raised mechanical piano playing above the mechanical. I have imparted to it the soulfulness of the human temperament, the touch of the human finger, the perfection of wholly human interpretation. I have simplified its mechanism and controls, raised it from the mediocre into the realm of the artistic.

¶ I give more in artistic results for less effort; more in satisfaction.

¶ I have made the touch of a single finger on my "PHRASING LEVER" more potent, more resourceful, more perfect in the interpretation of the masterpieces of piano literature than all the ten digits of any, save the greatest of pianists.

¶ I am mechanically, musically and artistically, the most perfect piano playing device ever conceived, ever constructed. I am more simply controlled, more durable, more beautiful in tone, appearance, design and finish than any other Player Piano.

¶ I am built in several beautiful Pianos of various prices and I am low-priced indeed when my superior features are taken into consideration.

¶ I am sold on easy payments and your old Piano will pay a part of my purchase price.

¶ I AM THE ANGELUS. You may examine, see and hear me at any time at the store of my sponsors.

"The World's insinuation that I am influenced by ship subsidies is too contemptible for consideration. Everybody, including the World, knows that from my first entrance here I have fought all ship subsidy propositions.

"On one occasion I led the fight which defeated a ship subsidy proposition by one vote.

"Not satisfied with the foregoing slanders, the World attributes the fact that I am standing on the Baltimore platform to the fact that I have not forgotten the Baltimore convention. How can I forget a performance which nobody else in America seems able to forget, including the New York World? It, along with every editor in America who hopes to be Ambassador, Minister Plenipotentiary, Consul-General or to hold some other juicy job, has been endeavoring to place me in antagonism to the President ever since the election. These papers assert that I am opposing this surrender to Great Britain as an opening gun in my campaign for President in 1916. It may surprise these obsequious courtiers to know that I never hinted to any human being that I would be a Presidential candidate in 1916, and that I am not a candidate. Consequently their slander has been a gratuitous mental degradation.

"It will surprise these limber-backed incense swingers still more to know what I had uniformly told those who have suggested my candidacy in 1916, and it is this: 'If President Wilson makes a success of his administration he will be renominated and elected in 1916; but if he makes a failure, which God forbid, the nomination will not be worth having.'

"I never entertained the slightest ill-will toward the President about the Baltimore convention. I wish him well. I did all I could to elect him. I have supported him until we are called upon to bolt the platform. I refused to do any such thing.

"One more word on this head. I do not believe that the fact that I led on twenty-nine ballots at Baltimore, receiving a clear majority on nine and that I got a majority of more than 300,000 over the President in primary elections where he and I competed, precludes me from discharging by duty or exercising my rights as a representative in Congress and as Speaker of the House to stand up for America against Great Britain.

"Finally the New York World says that I am to be defeated for Speaker as punishment for 'bolting the Presidency.' So be it. The World tried to beat me for re-election to the Speakership; but nevertheless I received every vote in the Democratic caucus. At that rate I would be older than Methuselah before it will defeat me.

"The New York Sun practically nominates the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) for Speaker.

"Here is its exact language: 'Reports have it that already the "little leaders"—now I resent for my distinguished friends the title of "little leaders"—they are big-bore leaders; but the Sun says:

"'Reports have it that already the "little leaders" have decided that Representative Glass of Virginia would be a good man for floor leader, and that Representative Sherley of Kentucky would make an ideal Speaker.'

"The strange part of that paragraph is that it makes no mention of my voluble, vehement and vociferous friend from Texas (Mr. Henry) for the Speakership, for the Sun must know that he has had his eagle eye on the Speakership for lo, these many years. It seems to me that the Sun has dealt him the most unkindest cut of all by omitting him from the list.

"Kentucky has furnished many Speakers—mang them the greatest of them Henry Clay, 'Harry of the West,' 'the mill boy of the slashes,' who through his long career of mingled victory and defeat was followed by a great multitude of Americans who loved him with the intensity of enthusiasm of the old guard for Napoleon.

"It has been often wondered why this marvelous man was elected Speaker on his first day of service in the House. Some months ago I searched it out. For years the British had been committing gross outrages upon our ships and seamen, and the American people rose in protest against it. The administration was not disposed to force redress. So in 1811 Henry Clay, in the prime of his splendid powers came over the mountains loudly demanding the wrongs and outrages on our shipping and our sailors be redressed. The people were with him, the House was with him and he was triumphantly elected. He is one of the immortals. I have this to say:

"The fact that I am making this fight for our platform pledges may end my public career. There are many things worse than being defeated for Congress or defeated for the Speakership or even worse than to be defeated for the Presidency, and one of them is to repudiate the platform on which you are elected.

"I can be happy without the Presidency. I can be happy without the Speakership. If my constituents, who have stood by me with unshaken fidelity, should retire me to private life, I can still be happy in the love and affection of my wife and children.

"Why have the plutocratic World and others of its kind made these false statements; these base insinuations, these ugly threats? To bully and browbeat me into helping to do an un-American thing—an utterly unjustifiable thing—a thing which will excite scorn and derision of the civilized world. It cannot be done.

"I have no criticism to make on the Democrats who are going to vote for repeal.

"I entertain a genuine affection for the members of this House. Some of them have said things about me which they wil regret when their fever cools down, but I pass them by. The gentleman from Texas (Mr. Henry) and the gentleman from Kentucky (Mr. Sherley) became extremely heated because I exercised the right which they reserve to themselves; that is, of voting as it seemed to me was right. So far as the gentleman from Georgia (Mr. Hardwick) is concerned, I say 'Shoo fly, don't bother me. Shoo fly, don't bother me.'

"I have no word of criticism for my Democratic friends who are going to vote for the repeal. We have worked together too long; we have fought shoulder to shoulder, heart to heart, too often; we have mourned together in defeat for sixteen years, but never were disheartened; we have rejoiced together in our victories in many more.

"'With deep affection.

"'And recollection.'

"I often think of the 172 Democrats and thirty-odd insurgent Republicans who achieved our great victory on March 19, 1909, which started a political revolution. I love those men too well to quarrel with them now. You and I, Mr. Speaker, happened to be Democratic leaders in that historic parliamentary contest and among House Democrats you and I have been the chief beneficiaries. You owe the leadership of the House and I owe the Speakership to the fact, fortunate to us, that we were the Democratic leaders on that memorable occasion, but I have asserted a thousand times, and I do now assert, that every man of the 172 Democrats and thirty odd Republicans who fought with us on that bloody field is entitled to his full share of honor. In the immortal words of Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, 'There was glory enough for all.' With such men I will not quarrel. Indeed, the dignity of the high position which I hold by the partiality of the House forbids that I quarrel with any member. I refuse to degrade the Speakership by so doing.

"I assume that every member will vote honestly the way dictated by his intellect and his conscience dictates, but why should I be denied the same privilege? No man here should be a 'rubber stamp' Congressman.

"I never spent as much time thinking about what my duty was as upon this. I looked at it from every conceivable angle to see if there was any justification for not keeping our platform pledge, but to save my life, I could conjure no excuse for bolting the platform. That is the reason why I am so slow in announcing my conclusion in the matter. Having had so much trouble in coming to a determination myself, I never asked a single member to vote as I did. I am certain that the entire membership of the House will bear me out in that statement.

"On the 19th day of August, 1893, I made my first speech in the House. On that occasion, as on this, a platform figured in the proceedings. Among other things, I said:

"'I am a Democrat. I stand by the platform—by all of it—by every jot and tittle of it, because I believed in it with my whole heart when it was made and I believe in it with my whole heart now. It contains the Democratic gospel, pure and undefiled.' Over no political utterance did I ever rejoice more than that, because it was not a Janus-faced, double-meaning, good Lord-good devil, all things to all sorts of men sort of document, but was a clear, bold, honest, manly, masterful, comprehensive declaration of Democratic faith. From a hundred rostrums, in the presence of high Heaven and thousands of intelligent, of law-abiding, industrious, God-fearing, patriotic people I pledged myself to stand by it here, and come what may, I am going to keep my word. . . .

"'It is an old saying that all things are fair in love and war, and some people appear to believe that anything is fair in politics. I dissent in toto from any such immoral doctrine. The people have a right to honest treatment at the hands of those who aspire to be their agents in public affairs, and to the man who betrays them they will send the silken bowstring for his own destruction.' . . .

"'What is a platform anyway? Is it an honest declaration of principles which the framers honestly intend to enact into laws if they attain to power, or is it a dishonest device whereby to entrap the unwary voter? Is it a candid statement of the faith that is in us, or is it a bait to catch gudgeons?

"'Is it the plighted word of men of honor to accomplish certain things, or is it only "good enough Morgan" till after election, which palters with the people in a double sense—which "keeps the word of promise to the ear and breaks it to the hope?"'

"I have stood by that declaration ever since, now almost twenty years. I stand by it now. I will stand by it until I am bereft of my senses. It is the rule of conscience and of patriotic service. No other rule will do to live by or to die by.

"That statement is in language more bizarre than I would use now, but the idea expressed therein is the same idea I entertain now and will entertain until I am in my grave.

"There has been much felicitation among the supporters of this bill about their tremendous victory on the adoption of the rule. When it is remembered that the majority was only twenty-eight on the rule and that a change of fifteen votes would have defeated it in a house with 144 Democratic majority, the grounds for the self-congratulation are hard to discover.

"When Pyrrhus, King of Epirus, was walking over a battlefield whereon he had won a hard-fought victory and observed the number of dead and wounded among his own soldiers, he mournfully exclaimed: 'Another such victory and we are undone.'

"To whom does the Panama Canal belong, anyway? To the United States of America. We built it at the enormous cost of $400,000,000. We built it on American soil. We have fortified it; we will control it. In order to get a chance to build it we created a republic.

"For whose benefit did we build it? Primarily for our own, secondarily, for the world's benefit.

"Why did we build it? In order to secure cheap water freight rates.

"Who fought the building of the canal for fifteen long, wearisome years? The transcontinental railroads.

"Who would be chief beneficiaries of this repeal bill? The same transcontinental railroads—the Canadian Pacific and Tehuantepec National Railway heading the list. To do a thing to enable them to hold up their old rates as altruistic generosity run mad and an outrage on the American people. I refuse to indorse any such programme.

"I am willing to follow where President Wilson leads, so long as he is in the White House and so long as he does not ask us to repudiate a plain platform declaration.

"Under our system a national convention is the highest authority for the declaration of party principles, higher than President or Congressional caucuses; indeed, higher than President and Congressional caucuses combined.

"The declaration in favor of free tolls for our coastwise trade was writ large in the Baltimore platform. It is in these words:

"'We avow the exemption from toll of American ships engaged in coastwise trade passing through the canal.

"'We also favor legislation forbidding the use of the Panama Canal by ships owned or controlled by railroad carriers engaged in transportation competitive with the canal.'

"The proponents of the repeal at first, with far more zeal than discretion, asserted that that plank was inserted in the platform surreptitiously and without any consideration. The truth is, the tolls plank was introduced in the usual way, and was fully discussed—not only discussed, but amended and agreed to in its amended form by the full committee, and then by the whole convention.

"We went to the people on that platform containing the free tolls plank; headed by President Wilson himself, who all indorsed it. Standing upon it, we appealed to the voters of the land for their support; and they, responding to our Macedonian cry for help, enabled us to sweep the land from sea to sea by amazing majorities in the electoral college. And now it is proposed that we reward their faith in us by repudiating one of the planks of that platform. I refuse absolutely to be a party to any such performance.

"We most earnestly desire peace with all nations; we will buy peace from none. In the memorable words of the immortal Pinckney, 'Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute.'

"We are asked to grant to Great Britain, whom he defied and defeated in our infancy, and whom we defied again and defeated again in our early youth in the War of 1812—properly called 'our second war of independence'—concessions grounded in injustice and humiliating in character—claims for which concessions had been abandoned by Great Britain until Senator Elihu Root made a speech upholding the contentions of that foreign power.

"We want war with no nation, but rather than surrender our right to our complete sovereignty over every

WHAT ARE VOLCANOES?

The Scientific Theory of a Solid Earth Involves a Restatement of the Principles of Seismology.

[Philadelphia Inquirer:] Japan's latest horror calls attention to recent studies as to the origin and nature of volcanoes. It cannot be said that much which is definite has been learned since the San Francisco disaster, but new theories which work fairly well with observed phenomena have been promulgated. According to the latest theories the nebular hypothesis of Laplace has been set aside. Solar systems arise from the contact or near contact of two suns, the planets and their satellites being built up out of the old material. It is now claimed that the earth is neither a molten mass nor compressed gas, but solid material of about the weight of steel built up during a cataclysm unknown millions of years ago, that the sun is a composite of two colliding suns, that the moon was never a portion of the earth, but was captured by the latter, and that the great spaces occupied by our seas are not the result of material sloughed off nor of mere crackling of the earth's surface, but the result of hard lumps from other celestial bodies.

If these theories are correct it involves a restatement of the principles of seismology. It is held that the molten lava in no case exists far below the surface of the earth, that these interior lakes are a result of the original cataclysm and are relatively small in content.

It is true that a large portion of the earth's surface is affected by volcanic action and surface shifts, but it is held that the results would be much more serious if the whole interior of the earth were molten.

Japan is notably the greatest scene of volcanic activity in the world. Earth tremblings are almost constant and disasters have been many from eruptions and tidal waves, but we are assured there would be now no Japan at all were it not that the underlying lakes of lava were comparatively shallow. Things are never so bad but what they might be worse.

I.W.W. ORDERED TO STOP BEGGING IN THE STREETS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Public collection of money in the street today by the Industrial Workers of the World in behalf of the unemployed was stopped by the police in Printing House Square, a stone's throw from the City Hall. Men shouted and women screamed in defiance when, in the presence of thousands of persons, jammed in Park Row, a score of patrolmen swept down upon the I.W.W. members and broke up their meeting.

Reba Edelson, 24 years old, was arrested while soliciting contributions.

Arraigned in court on a charge of disorderly conduct, Miss Edelson was discharged, the magistrate holding that the I.W.W. members were not creating a disturbance before the police arrived.

SOCIALIST AGITATORS BREAK UP SCHOOL SESSION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

QUINCY (Or.) March 31.—Led by Mrs. Clara I. Foreman, deposed teacher, and Mrs. Frank Dixon, wife of one of the recalled school trustees, seven Socialists this morning descended on the school house here and broke up the session. Mrs. J. Clark, the non-Socialist teacher who replaced Mrs. Foreman, was threatened with violence if she persisted in retaining her position. The children made the occasion one for much sport and refused to be disciplined. The agitators in this, the second day's demonstration resulting from the discharge of Mrs. Foreman, who it is alleged taught socialistic and anarchistic principles to the pupils, were arrested, furnished $1000 bail and demanded jury trial.

SAY ELEVEN COMPANIES CONTROL ANTHRACITE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TRENTON (N. J.) March 31.—The Assembly Coal Investigating Committee submitted a report to the House today that eleven big railroad companies control 87 per cent. of the total anthracite mined; that there is a general combination between these companies to fix prices and that the coal sales companies are owned and controlled by the railroads and are devised by the carriers for the purpose of technically avoiding the commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad act.

The report asserts that these companies not only control 87 per cent. of the coal mined, but also a large proportion of the acreage of all the anthracite-producing regions. The committee declares that the prepared sizes of anthracite coal, such as stove, egg and chestnut, used almost exclusively by the small consumers, are sold at the enormous profit of upwards of 300 per cent.

The committee further asserts that the business of mining and selling this 87 per cent. of hard coal is controlled by a combination of forty men.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

PEKING, March 31.—The American Banknote Company is negotiating with the Chinese government to take over the printing and engraving bureau which hitherto has been one of the most expensive branches of the government. The company has declared its willingness to enter into a contract to print the Chinese government's note, bonds and stamps on terms similar to those of its contract with the Canadian government.

The negotiations arose through the company pressing for payment of the printing and engraving bureau's indebtedness to it.

Returns Show the Senator Has a Small Majority Over Judge Kirby in Primary Election.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) March 31. Figures received today from the primary election of last week show that Senator James P. Clarke has won in the United States Senatorial race, over Judge William F. Kirby. The official vote of Poinsett county, the returns from which have not previously been available as given by the chairman of the Poinsett county Central Committee, shows Clarke has a majority in that county of 1,181 and in the State of 700.

The total vote of the State, official except from Poinsett, which comes from the chairman of that county's Central Committee, is Clarke, 68,445; Kirby, 67,745.

MAN IN PLACE, WOMEN SORRY.

San Francisco Lawyer Gets the Job of Mrs. Adams.

Suffragists Indignant That They Are Out in Cold.

Sex Discrimination Charged Against Democrats.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—The appearance yesterday of Edward F. Jared in the office of the United States District Attorney, in the official capacity of assistant, was the signal for an outburst of feminine indignation today.

Not that Jared personally is the cause. It's the official capacity of Jared that has created a furore. For he steps into the shoes that women throughout the State believed firmly were to be filled by one of their own sex, Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams.

Mrs. Adams received the indorsement of practically every woman's organization about the bay for her appointment to the position of assistant to the Federal District Attorney here, and her appointment to that position was duly announced by John F. Preston, the United States District Attorney. Mrs. Adams's name went on to Washington first with those of two men to make up the three assistants the office is allowed.

Mrs. Adams's name went on to Washington, but it did not come back. Instead, commissions arrived for three men to fill the positions. Two of these men, Walter A. Hellman and M. A. Thomas, took office March 1, and some faint hope was held out to women that their candidate might receive the one appointment due on April 1.

But the appearance of Edward F. Jared yesterday as that third assistant killed forever all feminine hope for the official recognition of their sex from official high places in Washington.

"Sex discrimination" is now the cry, for Mrs. Adams's appointment had the indorsement not only of women, but of party leaders and leading lawyers. Women say that her failure to receive the appointment from headquarters at Washington is due to nothing else than the inconsequential fact that she is a woman—and they resent it.

Various clubs have appointed committees to investigate the matter and determine if it is an affair of "discrimination," as appears on its surface.

The Woman's Democratic Club has appointed Mrs. Grace Caukin and Mrs. Arthur Cornwall to report all the circumstances. The San Francisco Center of the Civic League is to give "sex discrimination" its undivided attention at a board meeting to be held tomorrow.

Mrs. A. E. Graupner, the president, Mrs. Genevieve Allen, and Dr. Katherine Howard are all deeply interested. Local suffrage leaders see in the failure of Mrs. Adams's appointment material for national suffrage propaganda.

Miss Julia George, president of the State Civic League, has this side of the question in charge. The national suffrage paper, the Suffragist, has been pressed into service to give the matter publicity.

ALL STATE JOBS OPEN TO WOMEN.

BARS ARE DOWN IN ENTIRE CIVIL SERVICE.

Atty.-Gen. Webb in Opinion Just Rendered Says Enfranchisement in California Gave Them Every Right Now Enjoyed by Male Seekers for Pay-Roll Preferment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—When California enfranchised women and followed it up with laws placing them on an equality with men, the bars were thrown down in every State position, according to an opinion just handed down by the Attorney-General to the State Civil Service Commission. This opinion means that the entire State civil service is open to women of California.

Women may apply to take the examination for any position open, and now, as a rule, filled by men. They may even compete in the examinations for jobs as laborers, and if they can lift the 125-pound sack of iron bolts, carry it 125 yards and place it on the ground within a minute, run fifty yards in less than ten seconds and come up with the other physical requirements they can get even these lowly jobs.

But women are fitted more for clerical work, and even in this line there are positions which heretofore men only have had the required nerve, or lack of nerve, to fill. Among them are stenographers to the clinical lectures in the State hospitals, and especially work involving the examination of male patients.

It has been announced that the State Civil Service Commission will act on the opinion of the Attorney-General and open the way for competition by the women of California for any position within the gift of the State.

So far as the clinical jobs are concerned, the Civil Service Commission has ruled that they may withdraw in any case where their sense of delicacy is offended, and such withdrawal will not mitigate against their standing in the State service.

We have made a special study of records for dancing purposes. The very best expert opinion is represented in the numbers which we suggest. If you will tell us the precise use to which a dancing record is to be put, whether it is to be used in an apartment or in a ballroom, whether by young folks desiring to practice the latest and most difficult steps or by their elders who are comparatively novices, we will be able to put you in touch with precisely the music you should have. The Victrola furnishes the most delightful music for dancing the world has known. It is neither too loud nor too soft, and of course, it goes without saying that the time is as perfect as that marked off by the Metronome itself.

Purchasers of Victrolas, in addition to the best operatic numbers, standard selections, ballads, etc., should not forget South American airs with their irresistible tang. Your friends will surely want to hear them.

Contra Costa District Attorney Recognizes in Dynamiter Mooney a Socialist Aspirant in 1911.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—Thomas J. Mooney, one of the trio captured by the Richmond police on the night of December 27 at San Pablo, with an infernal machine and a quantity of dynamite caps in their boat, and who are now in the Martinez jail awaiting trial, was a Socialist aspirant for the mayoralty of San Francisco in 1911, according to Dist.-Atty. A. B. McKenzie of Contra Costa county.

McKenzie says the history of the three men—Mooney, Brown and Hanlon—has been thoroughly traced out, and that the first-named has been found to have been pretty thoroughly interested in strikes.

A long, hard fight is expected in the trial of Mooney, which is to begin this morning in the Superior Court at Martinez. The trial was to have begun yesterday, but went over because of the failure of another criminal case to reach its expected conclusion on Monday, and also to give the Sheriff a chance to round up a special venire of eighty additional talesmen requested by the attorneys.

SIEGEL FACES DIVORCE SUIT.

Attorney for Bankrupt Merchant's Wife States Complaint Will Be Filed When He Is Found.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Process servers are searching today for Henry Siegel, bankrupt banker and merchant under indictment for grand larceny and violation of the New York banking laws, who is named as defendant in a suit for absolute divorce which counsel for Mrs. Marie Vaughn Siegel said would be filed as soon as he is found. It is said two co-respondents are named.

Mrs. Siegel was the widow of George M. Wilde, brother of Rear-Admiral Wilde, U.S.N., when she came to New York from her Virginia home in search of work. She became a newspaper writer and was assigned to write a story about the Siegel stores when they opened. There she met Siegel. She resigned from the staff of the newspaper and went to work for Siegel.

In 1898 they were married. Until four years ago Siegel and his wife maintained luxurious establishments in New York, Mamaroneck and London. Then Mrs. Siegel went abroad and the fact that they had separated became known. Siegel, it was said, paid his wife $25,000 a year. These payments are declared to have been discontinued some time ago after Siegel's affairs became involved.

Mrs. Siegel arrived in New York from Paris about five weeks ago. She consulted her attorneys and then began preparation of the complaint against the merchant and banker.

Why Travelers Like Tourist Sleepers

A large percentage of the total number of travelers each year between California and the East make this journey in tourist sleepers. The steady increase is quite natural; there is an average difference of 25 per cent. between the price of transportation good in standard sleepers and that good in tourist sleepers, while these latter are being steadily improved in the important features of car building, interior design and comfort. Those in Burlington service are of the latest construction; they have gas and electric light fixtures, carpeted aisles, ranges, lunch tables, lavatories, smoking compartments, and are carried in the Burlington's high-class electric lighted trains next to the dining car. Several tourist sleepers each week leave California under the escort of special Burlington conductors, whose sole duty is the care of those who have joined our conducted parties. The volume of travel today carried in these tourist sleepers is of itself an endorsement of this economical and comfortable way of crossing the continent. Now, add to these features of the journey, Salt Lake, Colorado's scenic panorama, the Burlington's well-operated trains, the interesting cities along the way, and you have a combination of travel attractions that accounts for the success of these Burlington parties.

Can I tell you about these Tourist Sleeper Parties to Boston, Detroit, Buffalo, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City, or send you literature?

SEES DANGER AHEAD.

Republican Leader Mann Declares the Country Will Always be Handicapped by Wilson Give-In.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Republican Leader Mann told the House three questions were involved in a repeal of the Panama tolls exemption: Treaty rights, moral rights apart from treaty construction, and the economic policy involved.

The economic question might be changed at any time, he said, but a decision on treaty rights must be a lasting one. He maintained that no construction of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty compelled the United States to charge the same tolls on its own vessels or those of Panama as were levied on those of other nations.

"A reading of the rules to be observed by nations to receive equal treatment," he said, "plainly discloses that they are not applicable to the United States or Panama.

"England's attempt to secure her construction of the treaty at this time is not for its present effect. It is for the long distant future. If we construe the treaty action to the English claims, it is sure to rise and embarrass us whenever we have war with other countries. War is not desirable, but it is inevitable. We cannot always maintain peace. If we agree now to the English construction, it is certain that in the future when we have a war with Japan, or China, or some other country, questions will arise in reference to their use and our use of the canal, especially as to war vessels, and in that time of stress we will be met with the contention by England, the present ally of Japan, or by some other country, that we have already construed that treaty in such a way that we cannot protect the canal without bringing a protest from England or other countries which will embarrass, if not defeat us in the war.

"I want to treat England fairly, but I believe that under the construction of the treaty, we have the right to do as we please in this matter, and that it is an unfriendly act of England now at this late date to insist on any other construction."

CHAMP'S FIRST BIG JOB.

Stockton Prosecuting Attorney Relates How He Hired Clark as a Teacher in Missouri School.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STOCKTON, March 31.—Speaker of the House Champ Clark was at one time glad to accept a position as teacher of a small village school in Missouri from W. N. Rutherford, prosecuting attorney of this city. It was Champ's first "big" job. Rutherford was for many years superintendent of schools of Randolph county, Missouri.

"Late one afternoon in 1874," said Rutherford, "there was a timid knock at my office door. Opening the door, I beheld a well-dressed young man who had the unmistakable appearance of a teacher.

"'I should like to know if you have a position in your school department that I could fill,' the young man asked me.

"'What name?' I requested.

"'Champ Clark,' was the reply.

"I was impressed with the business-like tones of the young man, as well as his general appearance, and decided to give him a try-out. I assigned him to a village school some distance from the county seat."

Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

A Little Pepsin in a Mild Laxative Promptly Corrected in a Bad Indigestion.

Fortunate is the one who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate, care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. Any grown-up person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided.

When these common-sense aids fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepsin. It has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, which together form a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when that happy moment comes all medicine can be dispensed with. It is the best remedy obtainable for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headaches, drowsiness after eating, gas on the stomach, etc. Thousands of users will testify to this, among them Mr. J. W. Goucher, Stites, Idaho, who for several years had all the worst symptoms of chronic dyspepsia. Since taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin these have all gone, and although Mr. Goucher says he is 64, he does not look more than 40.

Syrup Pepsin is sure in its results, and a vast improvement over chewing or swallowing tablets and mints, or taking cathartics, salts, etc., all of which are harsh and nauseous, and at best do but temporary good. You can obtain Syrup Pepsin at any drug store for 50 cents or $1 a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington street, Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

Commerce Commission to End Hearing Tomorrow.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—To facilitate consideration of the advance rate case, Chairman Harlan announced today that the Interstate Commerce Commission had decided to grant the request of the railroads to hear their concluding testimony today and Thursday.

Counsel for the railroads submitted figures showing the results of operations for the seven months ended January 31, 1914. Individually, the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and the Erie systems showed decreases in operating income, ranging from 15.9 per cent. for the Pennsylvania to 37.8 per cent. for the New York Central.

President Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio testified that since he became president of the system in 1910, $76,000,000 had been expended to provide increased facilities. Now, however, the road has cut off all improvement work except one piece, the Magnolia cut-off, to cost $6,000,000.

At the conclusion of his testimony, President Willard gave his views of the existing situation.

WILLARD'S VIEWS.

"I should say a crisis was approaching," said he, "when the net earnings from railroad operations were so small that a company was unable to continue to maintain fair returns on the property, thus jeopardizing the future of railroad securities. Those who hold our securities certainly would consider that as a crisis. It also would be a crisis for workingmen if they should be deprived of their positions not because of a lack of need for their services, but because of inability of employers to pay wages. As I conceive it, all these conditions of crisis or of approaching crisis, are at hand in full measure today. Three or four years ago we based our application for increased rates on what we considered to be a tendency. Today it is not a question of tendency, but a question of fact."

TARIFF SUSPENDED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, March 31.—All new tariffs filed by railroads eliminating allowances to industrial railroads were suspended today by the Interstate Commerce Commission until July 30, with the exception of those affecting the United States Steel Corporation and other iron and steel companies, which were permitted to stand.

The request was made by Vice-President Brownell of the Erie, who pointed out what he declared was the serious financial condition of the carriers which warranted the commission in expediting the hearings in every way.

Approximately 4000 tariffs were suspended. They would have become effective at midnight and were submitted in compliance with the commission's finding in the industrial railways case in which it was held that allowances and divisions of rates made by trunk lines with certain industrial railways operated by iron and steel companies in eastern territory, were, in effect, rebates, and should be discontinued.

No tariffs affecting the industrial railways covered by the decision in the industrial railways case were suspended. Only those industrial railways that have not had "their day in court" are granted a suspension of the tariffs affecting them.

Elimination of allowances and divisions with the industrial railways operated by the United States Steel Corporation and other iron and steel companies in the East were permitted to stand.

TRY KELLEY; BAND SCATTERS.

While Leader of I.W.W. Riff-Raff is in Court at Sacramento "Army" Melts Away.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—The trial of "Gen." Charles Kelley, erstwhile leader of the army of the unemployed headed for Washington, on a charge of vagrancy, was started before Township Justice Clarken today.

A jury is being selected in the case.

In his opening statement Chief Deputy District-Attorney Charles Jones declared that he would prove Kelley to be a vagrant and a man without visible means of support, who has drifted from one place to another, without pursuing any occupation.

While Kelley is standing trial his band—at one time mustering 900 men—is scattered to all parts of the country. But twenty-five of the faithful remain in "Liberty City," the acre of ground in North Sacramento, which they bought.

Seven of these were arrested for vagrancy today. The recent rain and cold reduced their ranks.

RIFF-RAFF AT HASTINGS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HASTINGS (Neb.) March 31.—Fifty-two men, claiming to be members of "Gen." Kelley's "army" of unemployed, arrived today and were fed by the city officials. An attempt was made to procure a box car in which the men could ride to Lincoln. Burlington officials refused to furnish them transportation. The party started to make the trip on foot. Officers of adjoining counties have been notified of the approach of the "army."

BISPHAM AS AN ACTOR.

Opera Singer Declares He Will Leave Vaudeville Where He Now Is For "Legitimate."

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND, March 31.—David Bispham, noted opera singer, is soon to be an actor. The vaudeville stage where he is now, has no attractions for a singer known from one end of the continent to the other. Bispham made this announcement here tonight.

When asked "are you in vaudeville for good," he said:

"No. The opera enterprise for which I was to have been engaged, failed, or, rather the opera managers failed. Next year I am to enter the 'legitimate.' I am to be an actor, but am not at liberty to mention just now what my play is to be."

Bolt Platform? No.

square foot of our globe-encircling domain, we will cheerfully and courageously face a world in arms.

"The amazing request of the President for the repeal, like the peace of God, passed all understanding. If he has any reasons which are not utterly untenable, and which impelled him to make the request he has not vouchsafed them to us as a body, or so far as I am informed, to any member of the House. If he has adequate reasons and did not deem it prudent to make them known to the world at large, he could have communicated them to us in secret session. With all due deference to the President, it seems to me that we are entitled to those reasons before bolting a Democratic platform.

"In his message one reason assigned by the President was in these words:

"'That exemption constitutes a mistaken economic policy from every point of view.'

"If it is a 'mistaken economic policy' now, was it not 'a mistaken economic policy' during the campaign of 1912 when we all, under the lead of the President himself, indorsed it as part of the Democratic creed on which we appealed for votes? If so, why did the President indorse it then? It can not be that a proposition which was so good before the election can be so awfully bad after the election.

"But it is not 'a mistaken economic policy.' If so, is not our policy from the very beginning of shutting all foreign ships out of our coastwise trade 'a mistaken economic policy?' Do not our rules of charging foreign vessels for wharfage, dockage, pilotage, and so forth, while charging your own vessels no fees, or smaller fees, also constitute 'a mistaken economic policy' if the President is correct?

"In short, if he is correct, is not anything we can do to give our own people an economic advantage whatsoever in the race for commercial supremacy 'a mistaken economic policy?'

"Most assuredly the 'mistaken economic policy' reason of the President is untenable and fades away before the stubborn facts of our history.

"As that is a disputed point, why not amend this bill so as to continue the present law with the exemption section for two years, or suspend it for two years? By amending the bill either way we control the situation. If the exemption from tolls should turn out to be 'a mistaken economic policy' we can repeal or modify it; but if we pass this repeal bill, control over our own canal, built on our own soil with our own money, is gone from us and our heirs—

"'Forever and forever,
"'As long as the river flows,
"'As long as the heart has passions,
"'As long as life has woes.'

"A second reason for the repeal assigned by President Wilson is that the exemption of our coastwise trade from payment of tolls is 'in plain contravention of the treaty with Great Britain concerning the canal, concluded on November 18, 1901.'

"The weight of recognized legal opinion of the highest merit, from Mr. Olney, Mr. Taft, Mr. Knox and to my mind, though I would make no invidious distinctions, most important by far of all, from the present Chief Justice of the United States in a precisely similar case, is practically unanimous to the effect that neither legally in a broad sense nor technically in a narrow application, does this treaty forbid us to regulate the transportation of our own goods in our own ships through our own canal between our own ports.

"The President differs from the judgment of these and many other men of like understanding. He is convinced that the statute as it now stands does contravene our solemn obligation and should therefore be repealed. So believing, he does the only thing that an honorable and conscientious head of the nation could do; he asks to reconsider your action in view of his conviction that we have violated a pledge.

"Whatever may be the differences of opinion respecting the merits of the case, I do President Wilson honor for his act. If I were in his place and believed as he believes, I should do as he has done. Moreover, I have such confidence in the President that I have not the slightest doubt that if he were in my place and believed what I believe, he would do as I am doing. But I do not and can not indorse his judgment in this matter. I think he is wholly in the wrong, at least so far as the treaty bears upon our domestic situation and consequently offers no just cause for the breaking of a well-considered party pledge.

"In addition to the Supreme Court decision as pointed out by Mr. Mann, the same view is held by two Presidents, by two Secretaries of State and by the House itself on three separate occasions.

"The plain, unvarnished truth of history is that from the beginning to the present hour, what we do about our domestic trade, which includes the coastwise trade, we have considered solely as our business and that foreign nations have absolutely nothing to do with it. It is none of their business what we do with it.

"The repeal means the practical abandonment of the Monroe doctrine, which we forced into the code of the international law and which the American people will maintain at all hazards. This is the only proposition they ever agreed upon and the reason they agreed upon it was that it was a genuine American pronouncement, one to warm the cockles of the heart of every true American betwixt the two seas. It was the doctrine of self-defense. Touch that doctrine and the bristles of the American people rise instanter. Those who assert that the Monroe doctrine is dead, reckon without their host.

"No one can forget how, when we had our quarrel with Great Britain over the Venezuelan question, President Grover Cleveland thrilled the hearts of his countrymen, without regard to political affiliations, by a message on which his fame will rest for more than upon all his other acts and words in the coming time. His famous and courageous declaration, 'Today the United States is practically sovereign upon this continent and its fiat is law upon subjects to which it confines its interposition,' made him for the first and only time a popular idol. Therein he bluntly and succinctly stated the opinion of 99 per cent. of the American people.

"James Monroe stated the Monroe doctrine very modestly. We were a modest folk then; but the Monroe doctrine has grown with our growth and strengthened with our strength, till now it is what Grover Cleveland said it was, and surely nobody will have the temerity to accuse him of being either a demagogue or a jingo.

"Now may the God of our fathers who nerved 3,000,000 backwoods Americans to fling their gage of battle into the face of the mightiest monarch in the world, guided the hand of Jefferson in writing the charter of liberty, who sustained Washington and his ragged and starving army amid the awful horrors of Valley Forge and who gave them complete victory on the blood-stained heights of Yorktown, may He lead members to vote so as to prevent this stupendous folly—this unspeakable humiliation of the American republic."

CATCH BANDIT WHILE ASLEEP.

Hopkins Arrested by Posse at Van Horn, Wash.

Tattooed Man's Cartridges Have Split Bullets.

Must Face Many Charges of Murder and Assault.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) March 31.—Charles Hopkins, known as the "Tattooed Bandit," wanted for killing Anton Olsen and wounding John Freeman at McMurray and for murdering a man in Seattle two months ago, and wounding three persons at Everett last Thursday, was arrested early today at Van Horn by Marshal Joseph Glover of Concrete and a posse.

Hopkins was asleep when caught. He stopped yesterday at the farmhouse of Frank Yeager, near Van Horn, and asked for something to eat. After he had gone Yeager notified the officers. On Hopkins's person was a 38-caliber revolver. All the cartridge balls were split four ways, apparently in order to render them more deadly.

MOB ACTION FEARED.

Hopkins was taken to the jail at Concrete and will be removed to the County Jail at Mt. Vernon. Across the fingers of his hands are tattooed the words "True Love." The officers declined for a time to divulge the information of Hopkins's arrest, fearing that he would be mobbed before he could be lodged in the County Jail.

MURDER CHARGED.

Hopkins, said to be an ex-convict, is charged with murdering Charles Hodges in a Seattle lodging-house January 31. With a companion Hopkins was arrested at Everett by Lee Williamson, a policeman, on suspicion. While the policeman was calling a patrol wagon, Hopkins seized a pistol from the officers pocket and wounded Williamson and two citizens who interfered.

The County Commissioners of Snohomish county offered a $100 reward for Hopkins, dead or alive.

Following the Loss of $20,000 in Currency Sent from St. Paul to New York in 1912, the Postal Authorities Finally Arrest Man Who Made Many Investments.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HARRISBURG (Pa.) March 31.—William B. Baum, aged 38, a mail clerk in the railway mail service, was arrested today charged with having stolen $20,000 from the mails. It is alleged that two packages, each containing $10,000 in currency, were taken from the mails July 5, 1912. The money was being sent from St. Paul to a bank in New York. Postal service detectives have been at work on the case ever since.

Baum was held under $10,000 bail by the United States Commissioner. It is said the government has expended more than the amount of the stolen money in the effort to uncover the theft. Every postal clerk working between St. Paul and New York has been under scrutiny for nearly two years.

Attention is said to have been attracted to Baum by the fact that he was indulging in expenditures apparently not in accord with his salary of $1200 a year. Detectives learned that he was dealing in real estate, had money in the bank, rented a safe deposit vault and owned an automobile.

In January of this year Baum was married and he took a honeymoon trip to Palm Beach where he was reported to have been a liberal spender.

It is about twelve months since Baum began buying real estate and making investments in securities in New York and Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, to which points his runs on mail trains took him.

The postal officials will not disclose until the hearing next week the detailed evidence against Baum.

KOETTERS GUILTY.

Chicago Jury Convicts Him of Mrs. Kraft's Murder and Fixes Life Imprisonment as Punishment.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—John B. Koetters was found guilty of murdering Mrs. Emma Kraft of Cincinnati, and his punishment fixed at life imprisonment, in a verdict rendered by a jury here today. The jury had the case yesterday afternoon. Koetters was found guilty of killing Mrs. Kraft in a hotel here by a blow from a hammer which crushed her skull.

The crime was committed November 14, 1912. Mrs. Kraft was [illegible] years old and had been a widow [illegible] years. She had been infatuated with Koetters and had just sold property in Cincinnati for $2000. It was the accusation of the State that Koetters, failing to get this sum from her by cajolery, murdered her and fled with it.

Mrs. Kraft was found at the point of death, her head crushed from a blow with a machinist's hammer, in a hotel room. Suspicion pointed to Koetters, but a nation-wide search for the man was fruitless until he was accidentally recognized in San Francisco a few weeks ago.

Inter-City Commission Plan Indorsed at Meeting.

Will Work for Good Roads, Sewers and Highways.

Progress in Building Shown in Last Few Weeks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NILAND, March 31.—Several hundred representatives of Imperial Valley cities unanimously passed a resolution here today indorsing the plan to form an intercity commission and steps were taken to complete such an organization. The purposes of the commission will be to work for good roads, sewers, lighted highways and uniform ordinances.

The gathering gave another big impetus to the new town of Niland, which is recognized by Imperial Valley people generally as having made an auspicious start toward becoming a big railroad and industrial center as the gateway city of the valley. Sales of lots today aggregated $18,000.

John D. Reavis, chairman of the meeting which followed the arrival of valley specials, urged the advisability of an intercity commission and of concerted effort on the part of all the towns for civic improvement. Members of the San Gabriel Valley Intercity Commission said their organization had worked effectively and had secured many improvements.

Robert Jordan of Alhambra, president of the San Gabriel commission, closed his talk by announcing that his eighteenth child, born yesterday, had been named "Niland." The young lady became a property owner before night, as the California Land and Water Company deeded to her a lot in Niland's business district. Seward [illegible] Simons of Pasadena, secretary of the San Gabriel organization, and E. [illegible] Bennett, president of the Imperial Valley Chamber of Commerce, emphasized the importance and desirability of team work by cities having a common interest. Bennett, who was a pioneer in the valley, said he considered it the finest spot on earth and predicted that its development will be more rapid now than ever before.

Father Burelbach of Brawley, R. [illegible] Wright of Imperial, G. C. Day and Dr. W. H. Best of Brawley and Oscar [illegible] of Seeley were other speakers who predicted accelerated growth for the entire valley with the opening and reclamation of the great tract of rich land in the north end. E. P. [illegible] of Brawley offered the resolution to indorse the commission plan and it was passed unanimously. The resolution instructed the chairman to appoint a committee to frame an agreement and lay out a plan of action for the commission.

Those who visited Niland today for the first time expressed their astonishment at the progress that has been made in a few weeks. Excavations for the new $40,000 hotel are in progress and several other buildings are in course of construction. Three lots have been secured for a church which will be built by the union of Congregational and Presbyterian denominations. Considerable work is being done on nearby acreage preparing the land for crops.

BUYING HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE THIS WEEK.

Local Merchants Are Offering Housekeepers Extraordinary Inducements this Week.

There's foolish pride—and there's wise pride!

Foolish pride is often called vanity.

Wise pride is oftener called self-respect.

Wise pride takes many forms—manifests itself in many ways.

Guised as prudence it prevents a woman from making foolish expenditures of needed money, and influences her to try to emulate in her home management the shrewdest business man in his office management.

Guised as ambition wise pride influences her to make the best possible showing with the means available to her.

Guised as love of home wise pride gives to every dollar in her purse its utmost purchasing value.

Guised as love of approbation wise pride enables her to accomplish things with her household appropriation which will cause "him" to "sit up and take notice."

The housewife who has an abundance of wise pride is sure to make it pay big dividends. Her management of the home is sure to be as successful as her husband's management of his business could possibly be.

Women—many, many of them spurred by wise pride, are buying household furniture and furnishings in this city this week. They are remaking the homes of the city—rejuvenating them, making them newly interesting!

And the advertisements of merchants who sell the needed things for the home are helping them to accomplish the task with the smallest possible financial embarrassment."

UNITED AFTER MANY YEARS.

Capt. Wellman, Counted as Dead at the Battle of Plevna in 1877, Joins Wife at Brooklyn.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Capt. Albert Wellman, who fought under Osman Pasha in the Turkish-Russian War, and was counted among the dead at the battle of Plevna, in 1877, today was reunited to his wife, who had left their home in Cairo for England and eventually for this country, after receiving the news that her husband had been killed.

Capt. Wellman, instead of being dead was among the prisoners taken by the Russians. When he was released he could find no trace of his wife or son. After making a long search for them he settled in Montreal, where he built up a large furniture manufacturing business.

Recently he received word from Mrs. Wellman's relatives that she was living in Brooklyn and he soon sought her out.

Hundred Thousand Dollars to Be Used for Chicago Infant Welfare Society by Mrs. Palmer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Disposition of the $100,000 fund derived from the saleof souvenir spoons and Isabella quarters at the World's Fair here was announced today by the committee of three women appointed by Mrs. Potter Palmer to pass on the question. The principal will remain untouched for the present, but income, amounting to about $5000 annually, will be used to establish three or more additional stations of the Chicago Infant Welfare Society.

The fund has been increasing by interest accumulation during the twenty-one years since the fair, and recently Mrs. Palmer has been urged to take steps toward making use of it, while members of the original World's Fair board of Women Managers might have a voice in its disposition.

Rumors of the Taking Over of Missouri Pacific and Other Gould Interests by Standard Oil Men.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—The strength and activity of Missouri Pacific Railroad shares today served to give credence to recent reports that the Gould interests in that property and other roads are to be taken over in the near future by a group of capitalists more or less directly connected with the Standard Oil Company.

The Rockefellers have long been active in several Gould properties, including the Missouri Pacific, but if the project now said to be under way is consummated, the Missouri Pacific and other important parts of the Gould system will come under absolutely new ownership. Bankers representing both the Standard Oil and Gould interests declined today to confirm the reports, yet they would not deny that some deal of importance is pending.

Santa Fe Prisoner Charged With Wife Murder Dragged From Jail and Killed by Mob.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SANTA FE (N. M.) March 31.—Adolfo Padilla, charged with killing his wife Saturday by cutting her throat with a razor, was dragged from the County Jail early today by a mob of twenty masked men, his hands and throat slashed with sharp knives, his lungs punctured with stab wounds and left lying in the street in front of the jail. He died after doctors had spent three hours sewing up his wounds. None of the mob has been identified or captured. The city and county are being scoured for members of the mob.

NEGRO WOMAN LYNCHED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MUSKOGEE (Okla.) March 31.—Marie Scott, a negro woman, who killed Lemuel Peace, a youthful white man, Sunday night, by driving a knife into his heart, was taken from the Wagoner County Jail early today and hanged to a telephone pole. The mob, which was masked, overpowered the jailer, a one-armed man, threw a rope over the woman's head and dragged her out of the jail.

A knock at the door aroused the sleeping jailer. A voice outside said an officer was there with prisoners. The jailer opened the door and faced twelve revolvers. He was bound quickly, his keys taken from him and he was thrown into a corner.

The mob then pulled the screaming woman from her cell, tied a rope about her neck, and dragged her to a telephone pole, a block from the jail. An hour later the Sheriff cut down the body.

Marie Scott last Sunday morning stabbed Peace to death when he with other young white men had gone to the negro quarters of Wagoner.

The County Attorney started an investigation of the lynching within an hour after it happened.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) March 31.—Gov. Emmet O'Neil was cleared today of connection with the defalcations of Theodore Lacy, convicted of embezzling $5000 of State funds, in a report by the Montgomery county grand jury. Lacy, whose peculations as chief clerk of the State convict department are alleged to have been $100,000, recently charged that he gave the Governor $27,500 of the missing funds. Gov. O'Neil demanded an investigation.

The grand jury's report follows:

"The grand jurymen beg to report that after investigation they are unable to find any evidence connecting Gov. Emmet O'Neal with the Lacy defalcation."

"CRAZY PETE" SUSPECTED.

If Chicago Man Recovers from Billet Wounds He Will Be Arrested for Killing Two Women.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Should he recover from bullet wounds believed to have been self-inflicted, the police announced today, they would arrest Peter Welter on a charge of murdering Mrs. Catherine Morris and Mrs. Sarah Sallans, neighbors, who were shot to death yesterday in their homes. Welter is in a critical condition at the County hospital.

Welter, a neighborhood character known as "Crazy Pete," roomed at the Sallans home and was a friend of the Morris family. Each woman was found on the floor of her kitchen shot in the back of the head.

Fourteenth Woman in Two Years Accused of Murder Is Acquitted in Chicago Court.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—The fourteenth woman in two years to be acquitted by a Chicago jury of a charge of murdering a man was freed today when Judge Kersten took from a jury the case of Miss Maude Oberg, accused of having murdered Edward Bresch. Bresch was stabbed to death by the woman December 25, 1913, in a three-cornered fight in which the Oberg girl suffered a stab wound and a number of blows.

Why Do French Women Always Look Young?

In France mothers and daughters look like sisters. How are the women there able to retain their youthful looks until long past middle life? Is it because they are much given to the use of mercolized wax? This wax possesses a remarkable absorbent property which quickly removes the fine particles of cuticle which are constantly dying and which are the immediate cause of an old-looking complexion. Thus the livelier, healthier, younger skin beneath is given a chance to breathe and show itself. Try this treatment yourself. Most likely it will not require two weeks to make your complexion as clear, soft and beautiful as a young girl's. Just one ounce of mercolized wax (all American druggists have it) usually does the work. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings.

Another valuable secret with which the French are familiar is how to quickly remove wrinkles. One ounce of powdered saxolite dissolved in a half pint witch hazel, makes a marvelously effective astringent lotion. The face should be bathed in this daily until even the deepest lines are affected.

HOW TO TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOUR HAIR

Nothing spoils your good looks so much as homely hair—stringy, dull-colored, harsh. Nothing adds to good looks so much as beautiful hair—soft, silky, wavy and glossy. No matter how beautiful your hair is now, you can improve its good looks by using Harmony Hair Beautifier. If your hair is homely and ugly now, Harmony Hair Beautifier will make it softer, silkier, glossier, more beautiful in every way, and easier to put up and "stay put." Its rich rose odor hides the unpleasant oily smell of the hair. It is rightly named; it beautifies the hair.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair. To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us—The Owl Drug Company—5 stores—Broadway and Fifth, 625 Broadway, Third and Spring, Seventh and Hill, Fifth and Spring.

Fresh Air and Health

Mental work calls an unusual supply of blood to the brain; the process of digestion calls the blood to the stomach. Brain work immediately after a hearty meal often causes indigestion because the brain has first call on a supply of blood that should be helping the stomach.

Wherever, in the economy of the body, work is to be done there is a demand for bright, red blood. Thin blood or blood dark with impurities will not do because it is the oxygen carried by the blood that does the work and oxygen-bearing blood is bright and red. This life-sustaining oxygen is taken up by the blood from the air which it meets in the lungs. Hence the great need of fresh air every hour of the day and night. But fresh air is useless if the blood cannot take up the oxygen which it gives. Dr. Williams's Pink Pills enable the blood to take up more oxygen because they increase the part of the blood that carries the oxygen. This corrects the lassitude, palpitation of the heart, shaky nerves and the pallor that are the results of thin, impure blood.

You must have pure, rich blood to enjoy complete health. A booklet "Building Up the Blood" will be sent free on request by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. All druggists sell Dr. Williams's Pink Pills.

EXPLAINS JAP POLICY.

Dr. Sato Declares There Is No Danger of Complications Arising Out of California Legislation.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—Japan's policy of making backward nations advance with civilization for the general benefit of the evolution of society, was explained last night by Dr. Shoshuke Sato, who asserted that there was no danger of Japan's assuming an aggressive attitude towards countries which kept up with the world's progress.

Dr. Sato is Japanese exchange professor to the United States under the Carnegie endowment for international peace. He spoke at Columbia University in defense of the attitude of Japan towards Korea and Manchuria. He said there was no likelihood of hostilities between Japan and America.

"We think it our right and duty," said Dr. Sato, "to develop the natural resources and to introduce modern civilization into Korea and also into Southern Manchuria within the jurisdiction of Japan. But we shall never enter into any international complication in the western world arising out of such a question as the recent California land legislation. This can be settled amicably by the two friendly nations.

"We shall always look for peace and friendship from the western world, and especially do we look for peace from across the Pacific; the peace and friendship inaugurated by the wisdom of your Chief Magistrate and supported by the intelligence of your people. If there are some sore spots, they will be healed."

The great danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.—[Advertisement.

EVERYBODY'S GETTING A PIANO NOW!

Why Don't You Get That Piano You've Been Talking About So Long?

Eilers' absolute closing out sale spells OPPORTUNITY to hundreds and hundreds of pianoless homes in Los Angeles. There never has been such a piano clearance in this city before; there probably never will be again.

I must go back to Oregon, but before I go, I must sell every piano in the store for what it will bring.

Bear in mind that all cash is not necessary. Pay when you can; pay as you can. But if you need or ever expect to need a beautiful new mahogany, walnut, golden oak or Circassian walnut piano, of almost any world-famous make, come and see what I have to offer. Make me any proposition, within reason, as to price and terms, and the piano will be delivered to you the next day.

Read the Prices I Am Making Now

Good old reliable Vose, Pease, Emerson, Steinway, Kranich & Bach, Hardman and others in every way like new go for only $135 and the fancy cases are $60 additional.

Other less well-known pianos, new ones, and warranted, are only $115, and some very slightly used for $95.

Old style pianos $35 each. For $85 we give choice of numerous used Hardman, Kranich & Bach and other upright styles.

On other floors will be found elegant Kimballs, Colonial designs, half price; superb mahogany Steinway, so-called vertigrands, only $365. Elegant hand-made Hazeltons, $385.

Largest size Weber and Kranich & Bach and Hallet & Davis, and A. B. Chase and Kimball, which usually sell for $500 and $550, are here at $245, $265 and $285. See also ebonized used Steinway, Hazelton and Kimball uprights, $165 and $135.

I offer for only $320 some of the best made player pianos, the kind for which ordinarily $700 has to be paid. For the plainer styles I will take $265. The $900 and $1000 fanciest player pianos are reduced the same as the less expensive instruments.

FOR SALE—$12,500.
This house is $2000 under value; the best buy in the Wilshire district. Built on elevated ground, of tapestry brick and shakes. The artistic arrangement of beam projection, the harmonizing shades of the brick and cement porches, steps and driveway present a rich and unique appearance.

The living-room is finished in Juan Costa mahogany, beautifully decorated and opening at the right with three wide French doors. The mantel is of tile. The cosy den, finished in the same wood, has a large built-in desk and an artistic bookcase.

In the dining-room fumed oak is used in finishing. A light fixture of semi-indirect design and a unique built-in buffet add materially to the tasty appearance of this room.

A more beautiful breakfast-room could hardly be imagined. Redwood in the natural grain is used and the wall decoration is in handwork in the colors of this wood. A rustic idea is carried out in the design, lattice work with delicately beautiful vines and flowers winding and peeping through. Bright, cheery, artistic, original, are words that but faintly describe this room.

Ruud automatic heater and furnace in basement. The maid's room, having its own bath, is on the first floor. Price $12,500.

FOR SALE—
FINE BUILDING LOT, ONEONTA PARK DISTRICT, ONLY $800.
You will have to go a long way to beat this value. It's in one of the most desirable residence sections in Southern California, with beautiful homes all around. High ground, no damaging flood waters (elevation nearly 700 feet) seven car lines to city, only twenty minutes out. 50x144, best of street work done, every convenience; location building up wonderfully. Only one block from splendid new tourist hotel. The lots in the very next block are selling for from $1200 to $2000. My lot at $800 is absolutely the best buy in that entire district. Am offering these (have 5 left,) at this ridiculous figure to close out an estate, and for a quick turn. I don't ask you to take my word for this value. I will show you and then you can investigate for yourself; $50 down and $10 a month. Phone for appointment. OWNER, 830 Security Bldg. Phone Home A3101.

FOR SALE—
BIG LOT.
13—Minutes—13
From Business Center.
Highly improved, surrounded by beautiful homes, and COMPLETELY OVERLOOKING Los Angeles, my price, ONLY $900, on terms to suit, is JUST ONE-HALF that of smaller lots, on lower ground, near by. I KNOW and YOU KNOW that YOU CANNOT buy a HIGH-CLASS, CLOSE-IN home site, such as this, elsewhere for ANYWHERE NEAR my price. When you BUY FROM THE OWNER you SAVE the BIG EXPENSES of general selling agents' commissions, excursions, and other "flubdub," for which the buyer MUST PAY. Take any Hollywood, Colegrove or Franklin ave. car to ELZA AVE. My office right there is open every afternoon. Or call at my downtown office mornings.

FOR SALE—
PAY COMMISSION TO YOURSELF.
I have a beautiful lot in Southwest Tract, improved to the very latest specifications, in the choice bungalow district of the southwest, upon which I greatly desire a pretty bungalow for purely commercial reasons. The price is $800, not a cent less.

Examine it, in my auto, at my expense. If it suits you, and you have the cash, and agree to build under liberal conditions, I will throw off 20 per cent.—$160.

Southwest Tract is right in situation, improvements and car facilities. It has three car lines 5c fare. Close to Manual Arts High School, Exposition Park, two grade schools and everything that makes big values.

This is a chance in a thousand. See me at once, it will not last long.

CHICKENS AND ORCHARDS
ON
VAN NUYS-LANKERSHIM LANDS
ARE STILL MAKING MONEY FOR THE RANCHERS.

If you want to secure some of the last great close-in valley lands, do not delay. NOT 50 or 60 miles from the city and CALLED close-in—but right at the front door of Los Angeles.

Not an acre of land better located in Southern California for fruit raising, melons or poultry industry. Only an hour and a quarter away by fast electric cars from the Los Angeles market.

One man made $762 from watermelons planted between the rows of his young 7-acre apricot orchard last season.

Another from 2000 White Leghorns on his 5-acre ranch received $3300.

Not a drop of water needed on this sub-irrigated soil for the orchards. The peach, apricot, plum and walnut grove means independence—and the increase in value bound to follow the completion of this wonderful development plan, the electric lighted boulevard and electric car line, etc., means future subdivision profits.

10-acre tracts, $250 and $350 an acre.

5-acre tracts as low as $375 an acre.

REGENTS DENY MISMANAGEMENT

Reply to Worsley's Charges Against U. of A.

Proposed Gila River Dam Affects Espee Branch.

Tucson Soon to Have New Big Business Block.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 30.—The board of regents of the State university has made reply to charges formulated a couple of months ago by State Senator A. A. Worsley of Tucson alleging extravagance and mismanagement. The data submitted has been gathered by President Wilde of the university, who is officially exonerated in the text of the report. The regents deny that President Wilde attempted to deceive the Legislature regarding the number of students at the university and the university's condition. It was charged that the university had but 186 students and forty-seven teachers, showing an extravagance in this regard. The report shows 249 regularly registered students, 103 more taking a two-weeks' course in agriculture, and forty-one special students—a total of 383, with a ratio of one instructor to nine students, which is not considered excessive. For the two years, 1913-1915, the last Legislature appropriated $348,000, with $105,300 added for experimental station work. Outside of this, from the national government for the same period will be derived an income of $160,000. It is not denied that the per capita cost of the university is high, but the management is trying to lower this by securing additional students. It is claimed that the faculty works as hard as that of any other State institution. Certain breaches of good order by the student body were declared in defiance of the university rules, particularly the shooting of one student by another, who, in turn, was tarred and feathered by fellow students. It is stated that proper punishment was inflicted and that the "matter was one of those mixtures of lack of intention and sporadic outburst of boyish nature that is liable to happen at any school." It is denied that tubercular students are admitted to the dining-room or dormitories. Much space also is given the consideration of a row over the deaf and dumb school attached to the university.

SAN CARLOS DAM.

Senator Smith and Representative Hayden have introduced identical bills in Congress providing for the expenditure by the government of not more than $6,311,983 for construction of a dam across the Gila River below San Carlos. The low-line grant of right of way for the Arizona Eastern Railroad through the Box Canyon is specifically voided and in lieu a new grant is made on a higher line. An allowance of $680,191 is made the Gila Valley, Globe and Northern Railway, in consideration of the expense that would attend the moving of its tracks above high-water line of the reservoir site, which at present is traversed by the road. The people of Florence and Casa Grande are moving energetically in the hope of pushing the bill through Congress and have employed William J. Bryan, Jr., as special counsel to represent them in Washington. Bryan, who is an attorney in Tucson, left a few days ago for the East, accompanied by his family. A feature that is exciting much comment is that no provision has been made for the irrigation of a large tract of land lying around the town of Casa Grande, and there is a sentiment that there should be a decrease in an allowance of 35,000 acres made the Indians in order to give greater irrigation by the southern extension of the canal that will head above Florence and that will supply the area in which water in the project has been allotted white settlers. In this it is probable a sharp conflict will materialize between the people of Florence and those of Casa Grande, the former preferring that the benefit of the impounded water shall go to lands nearer the river than Casa Grande. It is believed that this question will practically be settled by a legal adjudication of priority claims of the land owners interested.

TUCSON IMPROVEMENTS.

With a hoped-for public building to cost $350,000, at the head of the list, followed by an eight-story business block to be erected by T. H. Kruttschnitt at similar cost, it has been figured that during 1914 building improvements in Tucson are likely to aggregate a total sum of $2,500,000.

SCHOOL CENSUS.

The school census of Tucson, just completed, shows 3942 children of school age, compared to 3891 in 1913. It is notable that there are thirty-eight Chinese children, compared with only thirty-five negro children. Not attending school are listed 1132.

BEN HENEY SUED.

J. M. Montano has sued Ben Heney, president of the Fairbanks Commercial Company, and brother of Frank Heney of San Francisco, alleging that Montano is a stockholder in the company named and Heney has refused him for the past six years an accounting. It is also alleged that the affairs of the company have been conducted in very irregular manner. Specifically it is stated that a $5000 promissory note has been substituted, wrongfully and fraudulently, to account for funds taken by defendant for his personal use and purposes. Montano alleges that at an examination of the books made last July, it was found that they had never been balanced or closed during the previous six years.

BANK'S FINES ADJUSTED.

The State Bank of Metcalf was organized last August and filed its articles of incorporation regularly, but it failed to take out a State license and therefore has been found to owe the State in fines over $15,000. The matter has been adjusted, however, by a frank statement of ignorance of the law and payment of the proper license fee.

TAILINGS IN GILA.

Complaint has been made during the past couple of months that, in defiance of a permanent injunction in the State courts, mining companies had been dumping their tailings into the watershed of the Gila River. Thorough investigation shows that this was incorrect, and so the Gila River had to be searched farther up stream. The inspection proceeded far up to the headwaters, in the Mogollon Mountains, where it was found that certain New Mexico mining companies had dumped frozen tailings into the gulches and the debris had come down the streams at the time of the spring thaw and freshets. It is probable that suit will be instituted in the New Mexico courts to compel abandonment of the practice.

WIRE FENCES DESTROYED.

Last week on the Baca float land grant, seven miles of wire fencing were destroyed, presumably by homesteaders in the vicinity. The job was a thorough one, every post having been cut down and every length of wire between posts thrice cut.

REALTY BOARD SEEKS MEMBERS.

PROMINENT MEN ARE INVITED TO JOIN ORGANIZATION.

Membership Committee Starts on Ninety-Day Campaign, Each Worker With Ten "Prospects." California State Realty Federation Urged to Join the Local Body.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York City; George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago; Charles L. Simpson of Kansas City, president of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges, and a number of other prominent men who are interested in Southern California and Los Angeles real estate have been invited to become members of the Los Angeles Realty Board.

Invitations are also being sent to every member of the California State Realty Federation to join the organization as non-resident members.

These invitations are a result of the big membership campaign now under way by the Los Angeles Realty Board. The campaign will continue until July 1, when, by reason of an amendment to the bylaws, the membership fee will be increased from $10 to $50 and the memberships be made transferable, subject to approval.

The Membership Committee appointed last week by President James R. H. Wagner met at the Hayward Hotel yesterday at luncheon and organized for its ninety-day campaign. The members are Sidney L. Briggs (chairman,) W. H. Akin, T. R. Cadwalader, Bernard A. Vollmer, Roy C. Seeley, C. F. W. Palmer, Robert H. Bloomer, Fred Latimer, Tim Brown, Harold Janss, Horace G. Hamilton, R. B. Armstrong, Charles G. Andrews, Roy Silent, W. W. Mines and Dr. Herman Janss.

The secretary submitted a report conveying suggestions for reaching probable active members, many associate members, county members in outside towns and non-resident members to whom the services of the local board, with its information department and map systems, would be a benefit. Each of the committeemen started out with the names of ten "prospects."

VETERAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Broods Over Dependent Position and Ill Health So Sends Bullet Into His Brain.

Two years ago Johann Knill, a veteran of the Franco-Prussian War, came to the home of Julias Gerherser, a compatriot, at No. 409½ Molino street. He was ill from rheumatism and other ailments which resulted from wounds sustained in several actions during that war. He was entering his sixty-fourth year.

He has done nothing during the past two years and lived upon the bounty of his friend.

Last night Gerherser arrived home from his day's work, to find his aged friend in his room, dead. A bullet wound in the right temple told the tale of a self-inflicted death. He had gone to his rest.

According to Gerherser, Knill had not been well and had been brooding over his dependent position and poor health. He was 64 years old and had no relatives here.

STRONG MAN FOR COUNCIL.

OWEN TAKES THE APPARENT LEAD OVER FIELD.

Member of Police Commission Now Seems Probable Successor to Late Charles McKenzie—Business Man Makes Good Impression—Eleven Names on Possibles List.

Only two days have elapsed since a vacancy was created in the City Council, through the death of Charles McKenzie, but yesterday brought forth some strong prospective Councilmanic material.

The man who seems to have the lead in general consideration at this time is Frank Dale Owen, member of the Police Commission, and a well-known business man of this city for the past decade. Opposing him, and also brought out yesterday, is Arthur G. Kuck, "Progressive" Assemblyman and closely allied to the Earl outfit.

Owen has been a member of the Police Commission only a few weeks, but in that short time has demonstrated his fitness for dealing with public affairs and has taken an active interest in matters before this important commission. For years he was engaged in the drug business in this city. He was one of the organizers of the Sun Drug Company, and secretary of that organization until he retired from active business two years ago.

Among the other men talked of yesterday as possible material for the vacant place is D. K. Edwards, member of the County Highway Commission and one of the original members of the Board of Public Works, in which position he served two terms. Ben F. Groves, a real estate broker and vice-president of the Federated Improvement Associations, is also in the running, according to yesterday's developments.

There has been continued talk of either Capt. H. Z. Osborne or H. F. Vollmer, former candidates, and men standing highest in number of votes received, next to the men who were elected to the Council, being logical candidates, but it has become apparent that either man would have oppistion in the Council's vote on filling the vacancy.

The announcement was made by C. H. Randall of Highland Park yesterday that he will not seek the place.

Randall states that next Monday night the citizens of Highland Park will hold a public meeting at the Highland Park Ebell Clubhouse to express resolutions of appreciation for the services of the late Councilman and to discuss suggestions as to a successor.

The situation last night appeared to leave the following list of Councilmanic material in the field of discussion: Frank D. Owen, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, H. F. Vollmer, Haines W. Reed, John Topham, W. A. Roberts, Ernest Braunton, E. Allen Phillips, R. W. Dromgold, B. F. Groves and Arthur G. Kuck, with Owen and Kuck as the men over whom the contest will finally center, with the prospects in favor of the selection of Owen.

A simple but sure way to increase the weight, it is asserted by several well-known physicians, is to take regularly for several months, one or two 3-grain hypo-nuclane tablets after each meal. These little tablets have the distinguished merit of increasing the red and white blood corpuscles, aiding digestion and promoting assimilation and absorption of the elements in the food which go to make blood and solid tissues. THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, March 31.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 30.11; at 5 p.m., 30.08. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 49 deg. and 59 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 78 per cent.; 5 p.m., 60 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 8 miles; 5 p.m., south, velocity 10 miles. Highest temperature, 65 deg.; lowest, 48 deg. Rainfall for season, 22.66 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The barometer is steadily rising over the United States, owing to the easterly drift of the western and northern areas of high pressure. Rain in limited amounts fell in scattered localities from Texas to New York. The greatest amount, .46 of an inch, fell at Kansas City. Showers were general on the Pacific Coast southerly to the Central California coast, and snow fell during the night in Nevada, Utah and Arizona. Freezing temperatures prevail over the northern boundary of the Great Lakes, in the plateau district of the West, and in the far North. The western area of high pressure now covers all of California, and will give generally fair weather to Los Angeles and vicinity during the ensuing thirty-six hours.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Generally fair Wednesday; northwesterly winds.

For California south of the Tehachepi: Fair Wednesday.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Forecast:

San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Wednesday; light west wind.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Wednesday; light south wind.

Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair Wednesday; light northwest wind.

Southern California: Fair Wednesday; light west wind.

Arizona: Fair Wednesday and probably Thursday.

FOLLOWS HUSBAND'S EXAMPLE.

Widow Takes Same Kind of Poison That He Killed Himself With But She Will Recover.

Three months after her husband had taken some of the same poison and succeeded in killing himself, Mrs. Henriette Mixter, of No. 203 West Sixteenth street, last night took a dose of acetanilid compound in an attempt to commit suicide. She was treated at the Receiving Hospital and will recover.

Mrs. Mixter, who is but 23 years old, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, at the Sixteenth street address. Since the suicide of her husband she has been despondent. She has worked intermittently as a salesgirl.

Believing that life held nothing further in it for her, she went to her room directly after dinner last night, and, locking the door, took a considerable dose of the poison. It was from the same container which was found beside her dead husband in a Main-street rooming-house about three months ago.

SAYS HE MADE A LOAN.

Chinese Accused of [illegible] Makes Charge Against Officer [illegible] His Defense.

The open charge that San Yick, the "Mayor" of new Chinatown, [illegible] Bakersfield, on trial on the charge of smuggling three Chinese contrabands, had lent Immigration Inspector Morse $100, was made by Yick in his evidence in his own behalf yesterday afternoon.

The date of the alleged transaction was on October 14, 1911, [illegible] the three contrabands had been apprehended at San Diego, and before Yick's arrest on the charge of smuggling. The loan was the only question put to Yick by counsel for the defense, thus cutting the government off from cross-examination on any other point. The wife of Yick corroborated the testimony of her husband.

When Morse was examined [illegible] this point last week he [illegible] denied that he had borrowed [illegible] any amount of money from [illegible] that time or any other.

The evidence of the [illegible] flounted by the government [illegible] record of Morse in the [illegible] service has been first class.

MAY OVERRULE HIGHEST COURT.

Great Development Company a Public Utility?

State Railroad Commission Thinks that It Is.

Remarkable Situation Arises from Water Fight.

Whether or not the State Railroad Commission will overrule the decision of the United States Supreme Court declaring by inference that the California Development Company is not a public utility, is the momentous question that was shoved to the fore yesterday by the commission's docketing of the cases of Adolph Becker, F. K. Weeks, president of the Board of Trustees of the city of Holtville, and others, vs. Col. W. H. Holabird, receiver of the company, for hearing in this city May 18.

"We will stand on the Supreme Court's decision in the Fair case that this company is not a public utility," said Col. Holabird yesterday.

Though Holabird would not commit himself, he intimated that any attempt of the commission to assume jurisdiction over the company will be resisted by court action.

Becker's complaint is that the company has refused to furnish him with water. The city of Holtville claims that the rates charged it for water are "grossly exorbitant and out of all proportion to the value of the water system."

"Any attempt to furnish more water than is now being furnished would wreck the system," said Holabird, with finality, in discussing the Becker case. "In fact, the limit of development has now been reached.

COSTLY SERVICE.

"As for Holtville's complaint, it is true that we charge that city $1 per acre foot for water, while other water users get a 50-cent rate. But the reason is that water has to be diverted to Holtville through a two-mile ditch and, once in the hands of the city, is retailed by it at a profit-making rate."

What action will be taken by the commission is problematical. It is known, however, that members of the commission take the view that the company is a public utility and therefore under the commission's jurisdiction. The argument is that the scope of the public utility act was in nowise curtailed by the Supreme Court's decision in the Fair case. In this decision the company was not only determined not to be a public utility, but it was set forth that such a view of its activities would operate as a clog in the way of equable and continued distribution of the water.

WHY NO WATER.

"Getting down to cases," said Col. Holabird, "our continued effort has been to prevent siltage in canals. This means that we have to preserve a high momentum of water flow, and to do this a check has to be put on the number of intercepting laterals. If it was clear water that we get, the case would be different. But Colorado River water contains about 3 per cent. of silt and, once the momentum of the flow is checked, the canals begin to fill up. This is the sum and substance of our activities at present—this preserving of a high momentum of flow—and the sole reason we cannot furnish water to certain persons."

In the Holtville complaint, the charge is made that at the $1 rate the company is realizing 30 per cent. on the value of all property which can reasonably be said to be used in conveying water to that city.

"The percentage is much too high," said Col. Holabird. "I also take issue, for reasons previously stated, with the assertion that we could extend our services so as to add $150,000 a year to our gross income. We have the water, but by turning it in, we should ruin the system irretrievably."

EVEN SOCIALISTS AHEAD.

"Progressives" Drop into Fourth Place on Yesterday's Registration Returns—They're Far Behind.

Even the Socialists beat the "Progressives" in registration returns yesterday. The Democrats were second. Of course the Republicans were first.

That the Johnson-Eddie-Earl followers are discouraged over the outlook is strikingly indicated by the heavy slump in "Progressive" registration the past few days. The Democrats are gaining rapidly on the would-be destroyers of the Republican party, and Democratic leaders say the "Progressives" will be in third hole when election day rolls around.

Yesterday 215 Republicans registered. Democrats were second, with 92 and the Socialists third with 87. The poor "Progressives" trailed behind, with 61.

The Republican registration is 79,019; "Progressive," 44,277; Democrat, 36,456.

FREE ALLEGED SLAYER.

Chino Beet Grower Released Because Evidence Lacking to Convict of Old Crime.

Joseph N. Smith, the Chino beet grower, who was charged with the murder of George Nash, a Calabasas ranchman, who mysteriously disappeared seven years ago, was yesterday given his liberty by Judge Willis.

Attorney William Anderson asked for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging insufficient evidence to convict Smith of the alleged crime. Judge Willis granted it, and Smith walked out a free man—the first time in a month. Deputy District Attorney Keetch, who handled the case, admitted that it would be impossible to convict Smith on the evidence at hand.

What the Net-Container Law Will Make 'Em Do.

Hens Should Mark What Eggs Hold Without Shell.

Each Grocer Will Need Only Few Thousand Stamps.

As the shades of night began to fall in the accustomed way last evening, many local retailers of foodstuffs started on a frenzied race against time, for the net-container law, passed by the Legislature in 1913, is effective today, and all filled cartons, packages and containers, or any that may be filled hereafter, must be stamped with the net weight of contents. When the grocer's clerk wraps up 15 cents' worth of sugar he must figure up the weight without paper or string and mark it on the outside.

Even your milk peddler, no matter how microscopic his business, is within the pale of the law. He must rubber-stamp or label his bottles as containing so many pounds, or ounces, of the lacteal fluid. As for your egg merchant, he is in a fever of anxiety, for is not an eggshell a container? The legal status of the container which you sometimes see draped over a bar is also uncertain.

Most of the larger wholesale and retail concerns hereabouts started their rubber-stamping and labeling months ago, and were in a fair way to completion last night. Others procrastinated, and much midnight oil was burned as the thud of the rubber stamp fell on paper or saliva was affixed to labels for the subsequent affixing where they would do the most legal good. Also in the rural districts the labeling or marking went on to the accompaniment of the low of the patient kine, as the milkman decorated his bottles with legal evidence as to

LIGHTED MATCH PUT TO COTTON.

Skids Greased for Bourbon County Chairman.

Insurgents Defy Him; Call "Postmaster Meeting."

Say Rinehart and Spellacy Are Dark-horse Hay.

War to the knife has been declared against Chairman H. H. Cotton of the Democratic County Central Committee and his famous "pie committee of thirty-three" by many of the leading Bourbon warhorses of Los Angeles. Political wiseacres say the fight will result in the unhorsing of Chairman Cotton and the complete destruction of the patronage vendors who so far have failed to vend any plum jobs.

Chairman Cotton's repeated attempts to land the postmastership for his bosom companion, R. Rinehart, former editor of the late Municipal News and a 1912 Democrat, is the straw that broke the unterrified back of local Democracy.

Several days ago a number of prominent Democrats went to Cotton and asked him to call a special meeting of the County Central Committee to settle for once and all the question of postmastership. They pleaded with Cotton in the name of Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson and William Grape Juice Bryan to call the meeting and end the row between the forces of Rinehart, Pete Spellacy and Joe Mesmer.

Cotton refused. He said he would see the whole committee in Torreon before he'd call a meeting for that purpose.

CALL SPECIAL MEETING.

So the peace-loving Bourbons got busy and peddled petitions among the committeemen throughout the county, with the result that over half committee membership has signed a call for a special meeting, Cotton or no Cotton.

Spellacy and Mesmer say they are perfectly willing to abide by the decision of the committee. The Cotton factionists declare they don't give a whoop what the committee does, that Rinehart has the O.K. brand of the Patronage Committee on his back and that is, in their minds, sufficient indorsement.

The Spellacy advocates assert that Cotton sees the handwriting on the wall for his candidate if the committee ever gets together and that is his principal reason for refusing to call the meeting. The Mesmerites say the same thing.

Tim Spellacy, who is Pete's big league booster, claims half of the committeemen will vote for "brother Pete." Mesmer's friends also claim half of the 755 committeemen. Tim says he has over 350 committeemen lined solid for Pete's cause. He declares every one will stand fast.

WILSON WILLING.

That a "dark horse" will emerge from the meeting, which is certain to be a stormy one, with the $6000 plum, is almost a certainty, according to the knowing ones. It is understood from Washington dispatches that President Wilson will name the man who is indorsed by the committee.

The meeting will be held Saturday

NOTHING'S THE MATTER WITH THIS SOUND CITY!

A FEW months ago, the little Record, maddened by the withdrawal of advertisers from its columns, because of its sympathy with dynamiters, started a series of articles entitled, "What's the Matter With Los Angeles," traducing the city and making out that it was "on the bum." These articles were sent all over the country by labor union bosses—but merchants refused to be blackmailed and would not advertise in the Record.

The latest tactics of the laborite and dynamite gang are discerned in the circulation of malicious rumors that several of the biggest concerns on Broadway have failed in business. The names of the most successful and most enterprising houses on the street have been involved in these lying reports. Great establishments that never were more prosperous have been represented as bankrupt—and the mischievous rumors have been so assiduously circulated that they have become harmful and menacing.

These reports are all falsehoods. There is not one word of truth in them. They are part and parcel of a plot to injure this free city of Los Angeles because it is a free city. The concerns that have been slandered are strong, healthy, money-making houses—that will not submit to laborite and dynamite dictation. Honest people may rest assured that the whisperers of these lying reports are not to be believed and will unite in efforts to stamp them out.

Over Two Millions.

NEW BUILDING START IS SHOWN BY MARCH.

WITH 1126 building permits, representing structures to cost in the aggregate $2,179,756, to its credit, March broke a spell of construction inactivity of several months' duration in Los Angeles. The figures for the month, in fact, are the best reported since August, 1913, when the general slump in business from which the country is only now commencing to recover began. The size of the permit total, especially, is gratifying to the officials of the building department, marking as it does a return to conditions approximating those of the earlier part of last year. To date for the year 2810 permits have been granted, these having a valuation of $4,817,732. The totals for the corresponding period of last year were 4271 permits and a valuation of $6,806,531.

GREAT CROPS ASSURED.

Large Production of Hay and Grain in Prospect for This Season as Result of Late Rain.

Unless there should be abnormally hot weather in the next few weeks a great crop of grain and hay is practically assured for the coming season. The last rain came at the most opportune time, and its gentleness abrogated all possibility of the beating down of the grain which had already attained a considerable height.

"With the outlook as it is at present, prices for grain will be regulated by the export demand," said O. H. Martin, president of the Grain Exchange yesterday. "When the crop is as large as it promises to be this year this is always the case, and our prices are high or low as the prices in the foreign consuming centers are high or low; otherwise when the crop is short, prices are regulated by the domestic demand. When I speak of grain I have particular reference to barley, which is California's leading grain product. The wheat market is already on an export basis, as we are dependent on the situation in the East for our prices.

"The outlook this season is favorable for comparatively low prices, provided no adverse event happens from now until the harvesting time. We have had about sufficient rain for the grain crops."

Prices for hay in this city are low at present on account of the large hold-over from last year. Alfalfa is reported to be selling as low as $9 a ton f.o.b., in some instances, while barley and wheat hay is reported to be selling as low as $11 to $12. Oat hay brings a premium of $1 to $3 over the top price just quoted.

In describing the hay situation Russell, of the firm of Martin & Russell, said yesterday: "The rain which we have had is about sufficient to assure a large hay crop, although a little more soon would be beneficial. The hay crop this season promises to be about normal. Last year's crop was above normal, owing to the fact that many of the farmers cut their crop for hay and not for grain. The excessive production has resulted in nearly a 25 per cent. hold-over.

"As the new crop comes in I believe prices for hay will pick up a little, and thereafter will remain about steady."

DEPORTING CHINESE.

Thirty-five Chinese and one Japanese, ordered deported by the Department of Labor, will go North Thursday morning on the Congress, sailing from San Francisco April 5. In the number are about twenty "transit men."

DICTAGRAPH POINTING WAY TO THE POISON.

Important New Evidence Turned Up by Recording Device Which Will Be Valuable Aid in Solving Kilfoil Riddle Today, Says Ford, After Long Session, in Which Many Witnesses Figure.

THE Kilfoil poison riddle will find its answer in the grand jury room today. This unqualified statement is based upon the developments of yesterday's long session of the grand jury and the fact that dictagraph records have been taken of conversations in the County Jail, in the home of the Kilfoils and in other places where detectives from the District Attorney's office placed this wonderful device for recording what is said.

Just what these dictagraph records contain, Chief Deputy District-Attorney Ford declined to say last night, although he admitted that a great volume of transcribed notes seen on his desk were really the written records of statements made by central figures in the Kilfoil case.

The evidence produced through one week's work of detectives since the statement of Philip A. Kilfoil charging Lillian Palmer with murder, is supposed to be of tremendous importance, and that today its fruit will be the establishment of the identity of the poisoner. Whether Kilfoil's written accusation against the Palmer girl will be substantiated, or whether his statement will be used as a leverage to pry open the lid to the sealed mystery and point to another as the criminal, today's developments by the grand jury will likely show.

UNUSUAL SESSION.

The sensation caused by the Kilfoil statements containing an alleged confession from Lillian Palmer rocked the grand jury and the top floor of the Hall of Records all day and at the close of eight hours of inquiry, the jury decided upon the unusual thing, that of returning today and continuing the inquiry.

Deputies Ford and Percy Hammon conducted the investigation yesterday and at night neither would disclose any hint as to what had developed, although both gave the impression that the State is well pleased with the progress made.

The grand jury room was filled with witnesses during the day, but only four reached the inquisitorial body and three of them will be recalled. They are Walter V. Dysert, attorney for the Kilfoils; Julia E. Kilfoil, Phil A. Kilfoil and John M. Sullivan. Sullivan was one of the breakfast party on the morning of January 2 when Behymer.

NOT A CONTRIBUTOR TO "PROGRESSIVISM."

ANOTHER attempt by Gov. Johnson's agents to obtain money under false pretense of State license or make a citizen pay a fine was halted in the Police Court yesterday when L. E. Behymer, manager of the Auditorium Theater, was dismissed without prosecution on a charge of conducting a labor bureau without paying a license.

Two things were made plain by the ruling:

One is that a threat to prosecute if collection is impossible must be discouraged. Another is that when a man isn't evading a law he can't be driven into contributing to the delinquency in the State treasury.

Behymer was yanked up on the Police Court carpet in January because, primarily, Henry H. Lyon, State Labor Agent, with headquarters here, needed the money. Lyon accused Behymer of conducting a labor bureau, whereas the theatrical manager merely buys and sells talent, the same as any merchant buys and sells merchandise. He doesn't employ or procure employment, and doesn't come under the provisions of the act whose provisions Lyon misconstrued.

Notwithstanding this, Behymer was willing to test it and see whether a court of competent jurisdiction would sympathize with the "Progressive" State treasury deficit to the extent of helping to dissipate it. Lyon made all sorts of threats and even offered to drop prosecution if Behymer would pay his fine.

Yesterday when the matter came up in the Police Court the City Prosecutor dismissed the case for want of evidence, law or anything else.

POWER SYSTEM CHANGES HANDS.

Huntington Purchases Ventura County Company.

Torrance-Marshall and Staats Interests Sell.

Development Based on Use of Big Creek Power.

Announcement was made here yesterday that H. E. Huntington has purchased the control of the Ventura County Power Company from the Torrance-Marshall and Staats interests and will at once begin the development of Ventura county along the lines pursued for the past fifteen years in and around Los Angeles.

G. C. Ward represented Huntington in the deal, but would make no statement yesterday as to the sum paid for the property. The concern has an authorized capital in stocks and bonds of $2,500,000, while its assets were appraised last year by the State Railroad Commission at $3,744,433. Electricity is furnished to Ventura, Santa Paula and a dozen other points in the county.

The plan of development includes a line from Chatsworth through Santa Susana pass and the Simi Valley to Ventura. In the valley alone it is planned to make 5000 kilowats of electrical energy available for the pumping plants in the agricultural districts.

According to Ward, the purchase was made for the reason that the Ventura district is growing rapidly and offers an immediate market for the excess power which is being generated at Big Creek by the Pacific Light and Power Corporation. For the present, the Ventura County Power Company will continue to furnish gas and water to consumers in the Ventura district. Application has already been made to the State Railroad Commission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to construct the power line through the Simi Valley. Commissioner Edgerton will hear the application in Ventura the 11th inst.

"Big Creek furnishes so much power," said Ward yesterday, "and is capable of such high development that when the work in the high Sierras is completed there will be power enough to more than care for the future of the Pacific Light and Power Corporation in Southern California. For this reason, Mr. Huntington has arranged to enter the rich Ventura territory, which lies within easy reach of our present power lines.

"Due to its local wealth, Ventura county has been a little reluctant to call in outside capital, but Mr. Huntington's work in public utility matters speaks for itself and means that electrical development will be pushed with rapidity and every attention to local demands."

Invasion of new fields by Los Angeles' power concerns is quite the mode nowadays. Under a joint-application filed yesterday with the State Railroad Commission by the Southern California Edison Company and the Downey Light, Power and Water Company, authority is asked to transfer property, the former company taking over the latter for $50,938. This same company, with the Pacific Light and Power Corporation, lately absorbed a number of small power companies in the San Fernando Valley.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY TALKS HEART TOPICS.

Has Love a Price?—No Woman Should Despair.

"In secret we met;
In silence I grieve
That the heart could forget,
Thy spirit deceive."

Do you believe that love has a price? This is the query which comes to me in a pink-tinted letter signed "An Anxious Girl of Eighteen." I lay the letter down a score of times, then pick it up and reread that oddly phrased line. It is one of those questions on which silence is sometimes golden. If I knew the girl's object in asking, I would be better equipped in replying. Though young in years, how much has this girl seen? What has been her experience? Has her path been hedged with the roses of care or the thorns of neglect? Is she a girl who has dwelt in life's calm, sweet sunshine or has she been "by storms and passions rocked," with a soul that groped in the dark, longing to find its way to the light? Despite all that philosophers, poets or romancers tell us, I hold that the word love should not be applied to any other emotion save the pure, virtuous sentiment that has no taint of guile about it. Love is the intermingling of two souls and two hearts, the coming together, by some undefined mutual attraction, of the two beings God intended for each other for all time, aye, through eternity.

MUSHROOM ATTRACTION IS NOT REAL LOVE.

Love which lasts all times is the love that is built up on solid principles of esteem, gathered little by little. The fickle god of pleasure, aye of folly, is too often confounded with the god of true love. It is never the divine affection which man plays battledore and shuttlecock with. With them the transient fancy is born in a moment; and, as it is not more lasting than the down of a thistle, it is scattered to the four winds just as quickly. No idle fancy can take the place in the heart of love.

No hope built upon the quicksand of passion can endure. Even the most hardened rake, who counts his heart mates, past and present, by the score, loves to think of his mother as a sweet and pure woman. No matter what other women go wrong, he holds firmly to the belief that his sisters are above reproach. He tells one story to the woman he can flatter and quite another to the woman to whom he would give his name and his heart. He surrounds his wife with comforts, causes his friends to honor her. She grows dearer to him as time rolls on; long after he has forgotten the other woman who kindled but brief admiration in his breast.

Yes, love has a price. The man exacts from the wife whom he would wed a white, unsoiled soul, a heart as pure as a lily, one whose book of life contains no foul blot upon its pages. The price of folly is regret in the after years, dissatisfaction with life and remorse, which even the most sordid heart cannot escape. The girl who loves wisely is rewarded by a true and noble husband, who enthrones her queen of his heart.

The woman who deliberately opens the wrong door, stepping over its threshold with her own free will soon or later face a tragedy which her presence there invites. Women should exert the greatest care in choosing their male friends. An honorable man is the salt of the earth. He is one of nature's noblemen, an uncrowned king. The man given to folly pulls down every one to his level who is unfortunate enough to grasp his nand, be he single or married. The majority of women were intended for love and marriage. They may encounter many men who offer love's counterfeit ere they meet the one who was intended for them in holy wedlock. Better no heart affair for a woman than one whom her loved ones at home, aye, and the world at large, would not approve of. The primrose path ends in a muddy road, which leads onward to a precipice. Those who sink into the mire cannot clamber back. This is the price passion exacts for a lost soul. There is enough true love to go round, that each heart may have its share without coveting its neighbor's. No woman should despair of love's coming, though:

"Some lives are strangely rough and swayed and driven
Like wintry clouds across a wind-blown sky,
Or ships with compass lost, or rudderless
On heaving oceans drifting helplessly,
Some lives most fit for high and noble deeds,
Are held and fettered sore with common things;
Some hearts hold sealed wells of tenderness
And saints walk through the world with folded wings."

PATROLMAN KILLED.

Struck by a Santa Ana Train and Crushed to Death Beneath Wheels of Cars.

Patrolman James F. Crehan was instantly killed yesterday afternoon when he was struck by a Santa Ana train on the Pacific Electric Railroad tracks at Twenty-second street and Long Beach avenue.

He was crushed beneath the wheels of a two-car train, when he attempted to cross the tracks after a passing train that was going towards Los Angeles. The outbound train caught him as he was on the tracks.

Patrolman Crehan was admitted to the police department February 1, 1913. He was not on duty at the time of the accident. He was returning to his residence, No. 1741 East Twenty-second street, when struck. He had awaited on the crossing for one train to pass. Another was making the crossing at the same instant, bound in the opposite direction. He stepped directly in front of the motor driven by Motorman Kendall. His death was instantaneous.

MAKE FAIR SHOWING.

Clearings for March Compare Favorably With February and With March, 'Thirteen.

Although daily average bank clearings in Los Angeles for March were slightly less than for February, the total for last month exceeded any previous month since last May. The total was $107,760,054 for March, and only slightly less than for the same month last year.

The number of active business days was greater by four during March than during February. Consequently the daily average shown was less whereas the total appeared greater.

Total clearings for the first three months of the year exceed $308,000,000.

BRICK BUILDINGS TO BE REARED IN CALIPATRIA.

A LARGE crew of men and seventy-two mules under the direction of Engineer Peter Gaines of Calexico were at work yesterday grading the streets of the new town of Calipatria. Carl F. Schader, who purchased the townsite and 7000 acres of land surrounding it last Saturday, announced yesterday that every street in the city will be extended to reach every tract in his purchase.

Although the town has not yet been platted or formally opened, it is already the scene of considerable activity. The Calipatria Hardware and Lumber Company has shipped a trainload of lumber and unloaded it on the railroad right of way. The company has applied for several lots in the industrial district and two uptown lots for an office building.

At the head of the company are Roscoe Hazard of San Diego and L. E. Gary of the E. K. Wood Lumber Company of this city. Hazard is president of the Hazard-Gould Company, wholesale hardware dealers in San Diego.

Schader has made a fixed rule that no lots will be sold except to men who will enter into a contract to build on them immediately. On this basis ten or twelve lots have been applied for, the applicants agreeing in each case to erect buildings. These will all be of brick and some of them will be two stories, with cream buff fronts.

John Linkletter, land owner and banker of Boulder, Colo., proposes to erect a two-story building on two lots as soon as the transfer of the lots can be made. One of his store rooms will be occupied by a clothing and furnishing store and the other by Cunningham & Co., grocers. Cunningham & Co. are already doing business in the town. They shipped in a carload of groceries and are making sales at the rate of $100 a day in a big tent, pending the completion of their building.

Upon the showing of immediate use for it, the Southern Pacific has put in the first 1000 feet of spur track in the industrial section.

Schader said last night that Calipatria has already arrived and that it will continue to grow so rapidly that it will soon become one of Imperial Valley's important agricultural centers. Water from the main canal above the town will be in Calipatria on the 17th inst., according to advices received by Schader yesterday.

"THE TIMES" SCHOOL OF DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

Cake Attracts Large Number of Eager Women, and They Learn How to Prepare Something Beautiful and Delicious—New Wrinkles in Cooking Are Carefully Watched — Old-Fashioned Theories Severely Tested.

"WHY in the name of common-sense didn't you tell me you liked cake so well?" exclaimed Mrs. Haffner-Ginger yesterday as she faced a crowd of women that completely filled The Times auditorium, where the cooking school is going on.

Every chair was occupied and a fringe of animated femininity stood around the edges. The gallery, too, was crowded. The gallery, you must know, is that choice row of rear seats on the window sills which are daily occupied by a crowd of young housekeepers who come early to secure this special vantage point, where they can look over the heads of the rest.

"I'll make cake every day from now on for six months," continued the smiling cook lady, "if you'll come in such crowds as this."

"We certainly take the cake," remarked the woman in the 'steenth row happily, and the one man in the audience grinned appreciatively.

The women kept coming by tens and dozens—big women and little women, fat women and thin women, elderly women and young things—"they flock in as if they hadn't a minute to live till they get a seat," observed one woman, as she settled herself comfortably in her chair.

HATS OFF, NOTEBOOKS OUT.

As the blue curtains were drawn and the cook lady appeared on the platform, the lights flashed up, the hats came off, and the notebooks were whipped out as the eager audience prepared to absorb the lesson.

Paprika—the cook lady's black-eyed daughter, had made a gold cake in the morning and her mother proceeded to dissect this—cutting it neatly into layers, and then made a tutti-frutti filling of figs, raisins, nuts and cherries, which had been soaked in sherry, mixed with the soft icing, which she spread on the layers, afterward coating the top with the delicious frosting and decorating it with those pretty little flowers and curlicues which she coaxes so cleverly out of the pastry bag. And lo, there was a Lady Baltimore cake in all its glory.

The cook-lady made a white loaf cake herself before the audience, demonstrating and explaining as she went. She used the Swansdown cake flour, which is made especially for this purpose, and Phosphate baking powder.

"How long do you bake it?" called a voice from the gallery.

"There, now," said the cook-lady, "you've started something. I don't bake by the clock—I simply watch the cake," and she whipped open the oven door to see how the cake was coming on. If it was going a little too fast she left the door open a second or so to lower the temperature, and thereby exploded that old-fashioned theory that your cake will surely fall if a bit of cold air strikes it.

The audience watched critically these new wrinkles in the art of cooking—the folding in of the flour, the right sort of flavoring extract to use and all those little details that mean so much in successful cookery.

THE PROOF OF THE CAKE.

The proof of the cake—like the pudding—is in the eating. That is the supreme test, and the Haffner-Ginger brand of bakery stands the test nobly. Those four cakes that were baked on Saturday were duly dissected and passed about, accompanied by cups of delicious Stoll coffee, made in one of those Parmelee-Dohrman tricolators. No, madam, not a percolator—a tricolator—that's the newest thing, and that coffee; well, it certainly was a credit to the tricolator as well as to the particular brand of berry.

By popular vote it was decided to keep the Lady Baltimore cake till tomorrow, when it will be cut before the class—and eaten. And this means another big crowd—for those cakes are well worth the effort.

Tomorrow the demonstration will be planked steak and those who saw it done by Mrs. Haffner-Ginger last year well know what to expect. That savory steak will beat anything ever served by a Los Angeles chef, and it behooves us all to see how it's done. Remember, tomorrow, at 2 o'clock sharp.

SEEKS DAMAGES.

An action for damages was filed in the United States District Court yesterday by J. N. Miller, against the Pacific Electric Railway Company praying for a judgment for $50,500, on account of the death of Ver Miller, daughter of the complainant, who was killed at what is known as the Vineyard Station accident on July 13, 1913.

MUST SERVE SENTENCE.

In the case of the people against E. C. MacDonald convicted of a vicious offense in the Orange County Superior Court, the Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of the lower court. The case was appealed to the District Court of Appeal, and the judgment set aside by reason of the alleged misconduct of the trial court. MacDonald was sentenced to [illegible] years in the penitentiary.

Little Beauty Chats

By Blanche Beacon

YOUR TENDON OF ACHILLES.

"THERE'S language in her eye,
her cheek, her lip—
Nay, her foot speaks."

There is a beautiful myth about a hero-god named Achilles, who, when an infant, his mother dipped him in the River Styx. This made him invulnerable to spears, knives or even death itself, except in his heel where his mother held him, and he was finally killed by a wound in the heal, which was his one vulnerable point.

It was from this mythological incident that we get the name "Achilles tendon," which is a tissue that stretches from the calf of the leg to the bottom of the heel. Physicians now claim that this "tendon Achilles" in a great proportion of foot defects, deformities and diseases, has shrunken and become shortened.

Medical statistics show that one in every five examples of weak feet show upon examination, a contracted short tendon of Achilles. Of these the larger proportion are women, which takes me back to the couplet at the beginning of this article—"her foot speaks."

Like the god, Achilles, we all have our vulnerable points. It would seem that a woman's weakness is her vanity, for it is farther averred by a medical oracle that women bring foot trouble on themselves by wearing too high heels on the street, or too pointed a toe, or too extreme a last. Sometimes, the trouble becomes so acute, that physicians find it necessary to cut the "Achilles tendon" while other authorities claim that massaging, exercising and stretching this thin cord, does as much good as its cutting.

A frequent change of shoes is better for both feet and shoes, and will help to keep both in good condition. After a long walk the feet should be given a warm bath with soap, and then be rubbed with alcohol or cologne. If there is pain in the soles or over the insteps, bathing with a weak solution of carbolic acid will allay it. When there is acute pain in the insteps it will rest the feet after the bath to lie down, turning upon the face so as to stretch the feet out on a pillow, soles upward. Hot sea-salt baths are very restful and a splendid remedy for feet inclined to swell. Your feet are your faithful servants. Treat them kindly.

After a long walk,

The feet should be bathed and then rubbed with alcohol.

Mr. Gordan Says—

Ever watch an artist at work? A line here, a line there, and presto! the whole expression of the face he is drawing is changed.

The same with clothes. In the measuring, designing, cutting, a small thing wrong here or there means the difference between the whole suit "right" or "wrong."

To cut your clothes "right" needs not only skill, but a skill founded on long experience.

If being a Tailor since '86 and serving well-dressed men ever since means Experience, then I'm "guilty."

As to prices? Suitings of the choicest Domestic weaves are $40 and $45. Those from abroad are $50, $55 and $60. And everyone "Gordan-made." Suite 300—just as you leave the elevator.

FOR WOMEN AND MEN.

Facts, Features and Fancies.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

IN ONE of the leading Broadway book houses where I chanced yesterday to be, "the man" proudly called attention to the sheaf of Easter lilies which, a few moments previously had been laid upon the counter—a sheaf of "Bob" Burdette's Easter booklets—"Alpha and Omega."

I think this the finest thing that the beloved pastor—for he is indeed humanity's pastor—has ever published. Solemn though the theme, a hint of the never-failing humor flashes athwart the thought like the smile in the eyes of the teacher who expounds the truth.

Speaking of this rare and delightful book, "the man" remarked: "Dr. Burdette is the only humorist I ever knew who was always ready to listen attentively to the other man's story. As a rule," he continued, "those who have the gift pay scant attention to others, while they await the opportunity to take the lead." This was but one of the tributes paid by that little shop rejoicing over the Easter booklet which had just made its advent on Broadway.

Delightful Medicine.

Silk underwear for health! That is the latest edict. It seems that there is a cult which stands for this delightful sort of medicine. I would like to join it, provided that a part of the curriculum were to keep one amply provided with these delightful wearables.

It is claimed that silk—pure silk—absorbs the emanations of the body, and thus purifies the system and eradicates disease.

I thought of this when told by the lady at the head of the downtown business of the local silk factory of a strange incident which seemed to prove the truth of this philosophy. She said that one must not judge that silk was of poor quality because it wore badly, for they had known a case where two sisters had purchased gowns from the same piece of silk and one had returned with her gown completely rotted out in a very short time, while the other had worn hers indefinitely. And, in fact, this was frequently the case and investigation had proven that some persons could not use silk without causing a peculiar decay in the fabric. Possibly it was this fact which led to the establishment of the silk cult—whatever its name. I resolved straightaway to provide myself with an entire outfit of the pure silk, "made in Los Angeles." was but seeking an excuse to always wear silk and nothing else, as underwear. By the way, I saw in an interesting shop the least expensive pure silk underwear that I have found anywhere. And, what is being very rare, a full range of colors in the much-wanted chiffon taffeta—"chiffeta," as I called it, by a slip of the tongue—but isn't this a good name for it?

Handy Versery.

Have you ever been so haunted by a scrap of verse that you could scarcely sleep until you discovered the entire poem?

"What is that line from?" you ask yourself, and probably pester your friends with questions as to its origin. If you had at hand that newly-arranged book of poetry which makes verse hunting easy, you would not be troubled thus. The first catchy lines of the subject, as well as the author, are used in the index of this useful volume, so that you may easily find and set at rest the troublesome jingle. When wanted to express your thought in rhyme, it is most convenient to be able to quote correctly, as so very few, even among scholars are able to do. I found this most practical of volumes in that new "Bookery" in a Broadway store, where the lady who presides is thoroughly saturated with the most helpful of book lore.

Real Amber.

So many imitations of amber are shown at present, since any material which simulates this precious material in color is greatly sought for ornaments, that perhaps many have forgotten the test of the genuine material. I had until in looking at two superb necklaces of this wonderful material, "the man" made the test. You rub the amber on your coat sleeve, or some other person's coat sleeve, and it becomes so charged with magnetism that it will pick up a piece of tissue paper. This is one of the tests of genuine amber. It is said, in fact, that this quality noticed by the Greeks lead to the first electrical research. The bead necklaces upon which we made the test were of rare antiquity and quality. It is not strange that there are many interesting superstitions regarding this material and that it is highly prized as an amulet. The shop in which I saw these rare amber beads abounds in interesting objects.

In Lavender.

Dorothy has a penchant for the antique and as I expected, as soon as the other girls were married and she had a room to herself, she began planning to furnish it after the style which she so much admires.

She purchased at a special sale of furniture a "four-poster" in brass, as she said she could not tolerate the unsanitariness of wood. From a well-known dealer in antiques—one who is noted for his honesty—she obtained a genuine old mahogany bureau, above which she placed an oval mirror, also of mahogany.

A windsor chair, in antique reproduction, and two or three high-backed rush-seated side chairs which she covered with chintz, and a genuine mahogany rocker, completed the seats for her room, with the exception of a window seat and a square stool covered in chintz.

She enameled the woodwork in a soft, creamy white and stained the floor in a mahogany tint. The chintz which she used for her chair covering and pillows on the window seat, also formed side draperies at the windows where she hung cheesecloth, edged with a cut-out pattern of the lavented of the chintz. The same dainty color was used to relate the dressing-table accessories to the room, and plain lavender covers of washable silk in several shades, were used upon the small "nap" pillows, piled upon the foot of the bed.

What was her delight to discover, in one of the high-class Broadway stores, rag rugs, both large and small, with poster borders in the very shades of lavender which composed the other furnishings of her room.

In a corner nook she arranged the most delightful book nook, with a writing desk which seemed to be part of the woodwork of the room, but which she assures me she had placed there, enameling it in the same tone as the woodwork. "I wanted a lovely mahogany desk which I saw in that antique shop, but I could not afford it just now," she said regretfully, adding that she hoped for it later as a birthday gift from father, unless she decided to ask instead to have a fireplace cut in the chimney in her room. As she is already "finding" the accoutrements of a fireplace, it is my guess that the fireplace will win.

Palatable Soups.

The Good Housekeeper, who is the most careful economist that I have ever known, tells me that she always save for use in soups the water in which vegetables are cooked, all except potatoes

Another of her "ways" is to cook the vegetables separately, adding ham later when using a combination of ham and vegetables, as she thinks the ham lends too strong a taste to the vegetables if all are cooked together.

So Shiny!

Have you noticed the new straw used in smart black hats? It looks as though varnished, and so also does the ribbon with which these hats are trimmed. I observed yesterday the newest thing in flowers for millinery. These were apparently of metal, in popular shades, and when combined with the varnished straw and varnished ribbon on a hat of extreme shape, and the effect was so brilliant as to be almost startling.

Fashion Smiles Upon.

A new guimpe seen in one of the local stores has the stiffening bones so arranged that they support the high neck piece without discomfort and actually form a smooth surface of the net, both as collar and guimpe front.

Among the variety of dressy footwear one finds a number in moire silk, in faille, suede velvet, broche and metal tissues.

Many of the smart suits are made of rep, serge, velour-surfaced summer materials, peau de suede and serge duvetyne.

The pretty, old fashion of wearing mixed coloring has returned, and one sees four or five colors combined in one costume.

The new guimpes have high flaring boned collars of net or mull. They have little vests trimmed with crocheted buttons.

There is a new fabric called ricecloth. It is semi-transparent, with soft knots of yarn thrown up on a loosely-woven surface.

The soft, bright tones are favored for spring—yellow and green and the soft, greenish-yellow, such as citron, bamboo, almond and apple.

The new French veils have a delicate shading going across, instead of from end to end, and they are made of double chiffon, hemstitched.

The Eton and bolero jackets are sometimes finished with a pleated peplum, which hangs four or five inches below the normal waist line.

There is a return of the fripperies of the Second Empire, and many of the new gowns are strikingly like those worn by the Empress Eugenie.

Silk cords are attaining surprising popularity. They are worn about the neck as necklaces, ending with tassels near the waist-line. They are worn with the collarless, V-shaped blouse.

FLOWERY BORDER PLAN.

Exposition Park May Be Surrounded with Plants and Shrubs as Part of Beautification Scheme.

Planting of flowers and shrubs native to Southern California along the entire Figueroa-street side of Exposition Park may be made part of the general beautification scheme of the Floral Display Committee of the 1915 Entertainment Commission. Theodore Payne made the suggestion yesterday at the committee meeting and it was approvingly discussed.

There are between ten and twenty-five acres available for planting and the exhibit would be the largest and probably the most comprehensive ever gathered of the flora of the Southland. In line with this, A. K. Brauer suggested that poppies and other native flowers be planted in parkings and city lots.

A floral parade for May, 1915, was also suggested and recommendations will be made to the commission that the project be taken under advisement.

The Entertainment Committee of the commission will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 11 o'clock this morning.

HOSPITAL REPORT TODAY.

Grand Jury Expected to Give Findings on Eight Deaths From Neo-Salvarsan Treatment.

The grand jury will probably render its report today on its investigation of the death of eight men at the County Hospital several weeks ago after treatment with Neo-salvarsan for a dreaded blood disease.

Deputy District Attorney Hammon yesterday received a letter from Chief Surgeon S. L. Brooks of the United States Health Bureau, informing Hammon that the Federal medical authorities will make a thorough analysis of the Neo-salvarsan used by Dr. Charlton at the hospital if desired. Hammon has written Dr. Brooks that he will send part of the remedy for analytical purposes.

FIRE PERMITS.

The fire permits required by the Angeles Forest Reserve rangers will not be issued by the local Supervisor until May 1. In the meantime parties in the big woods on the chase of the elusive trout will not be required to take out a permit in order to build a fire. The season of forest fires does not begin until the woods and underbrush are thoroughly dried, and in the ordinary course this does not take place for a month yet. The fire in the San Antonio Canyon recently was caused not by camp fires, but by the breaking down of a high-tension wire by the wind that swept from the desert down into Santa Ana Canyon.

HOBOS' PLEAS ARE POSTPONED.

MEN ARRESTED IN RIVER BED REMAIN IN JAIL.

Bail Fixed at Sum Which Is Greater Than Entire Capital of "Army"—Former Prize Fighter Leader of the Gang Is Torn Between Love and Duty.

"Young Leach Cross," the former champion featherweight prize fighter of Savannah, Ga., alias, "Gen. Rose of the Army of the Idle," and known by his correct name as Morris Rosenweiq, commander of the unemployed, faced his former privates in Police Court yesterday after they had been arrested for occupying the bed of the river several hours after they had been ordered to vacate.

They asked for time to plead, and their case will not be considered by the court again until Thursday, when they will enter pleas.

"Gen." Rosenweiq, who is torn between his fealty to romance and his loyalty to the army, is advocating the immediate dismissal of the 104 men under arrest, that they may march at once to Sacramento to join the main army.

However, his bride-to-be is anxious that he enter a regular pursuit here, denouncing the ranks of the army as undesirables, and he has not made up his mind whether or not to go to Sacramento.

By the voice of the privates who are now prisoners, he was recalled as "general" yesterday, and now says that the mere disloyalty of a few is of no consequence. He convinces himself that he is still international organizer for the order under "General Order No. 42," which he reads whenever his authority is questioned. Typographically, the title is more impressive than that of "general" and he is most anxious to claim the distinction of an advancement in the ranks.

The men had been warned to move from their camp in the river bed by noon yesterday, and did not make any attempt to leave. They accepted arrest without a demonstration further than noise, which was limited to much singing.

"Gen." Morris, who is a youth 22 years old, is the owner of several tenement houses in New York City, he boasts, and is quite sanguine of his success in the labor ranks. He says this is but the start of his career and expects to become a general labor leader.

The men, when they appeared in court, were placed under $100 bail each. As less than this amount was found among the entire 104 arrested, they were held in jail pending their hearing.

Three persons have been found to defend them. They are: William Francis Ireland, former minister; Fred Moore, former counsellor for the I.W.W. element of San Diego, and H. H. Roser.

WE SHOULD WORRY.

Four submarines and five destroyers will soon visit the Los Angeles Harbor. Let them come! It would take a bigger navy than that, even if it came from straight across the water instead of from the other side of this continent, to successfully attack our harbor enthusiasm.

CONSOLATION.

John Nicholas Brown, Jr., of New York is only fifteen years old, but he is the richest young man in the world. At that, he is much more satisfactory than was young Vincent Astor, who was almost old enough to vote against suffrage and prohibition when he came into his fortune. With young Brown it is different. Ambitious mammas with marriageable daughters will be kept guessing for at least six years—as to what the young man's politics will be.

NO QUEUES.

In the older and purer days of the republic two policemen could arrest and guide to the police station twenty or thirty Chinaman who were caught at a fan-tan game. All that was necessary was to tie their queues together and guide and drive them to the temple of justice. But since the revolution in China all is changed. The queues, which were the visible signs of subjection to the Manchu dynasty, may now be cut off and are cut off and utilized for hair mattresses or "rats."

WELCOME TO OUR STATE!

One baby every twelve minutes is the record the stork is making in California these good latter days, and as he gets a receipt for each darling deposited on the threshold, he has statistics to prove what he has been doing. One every twelve minutes is none too many, considering the quality. Let them come. Nobody is howling about it except the babies, and they will hush crying as soon as they can get a good look out of the windows.

HAVING HIS FLING.

Before the vote on the canal tolls repeal bill was taken Speaker Clark had his verbal fling at the "Wilson infamy." We have a suspicion that in his heart of hearts the Speaker blesses every infamy that brings him one step nearer to the nomination for President in 1916; but that point doesn't worry us so long as Clark stands by the government and insists that Uncle Sam retain for his own use the waterway designed by his own brain and dug by his own hands.

THE PITY OF IT.

The Boston bull pup whose master died leaving him a fortune of $1200 a year is rather to be pitied than congratulated. Most dogs possess one trait common to a few men. They cannot stand prosperity. This particular dog has been greatly spoiled. He never did an honest day's hunting in his life, nor ran a wolf from the sheepfold, nor chased a cow out of a corn patch. He has been raised in the lap of luxury, though never before has he been trusted with the responsibility of holding the purse strings. While his master was alive the brute was treated like a human being. Now that he has inherited a fortune he is likely to go straight to the dogs.

EULOGY OF SMELLS.

Alas and alas, Rudyard Kipling has descended to the lecture platform. He, with Secretary Bryan, contradicts the proverb that "Never yet did love of gold move the true poet's soul." The Royal Geographical Society, with its filthy lucre, and Lord Curzon in the chair, has effected this degradation of England's greatest living poet.

There is waggery in Kipling. Having agreed to lecture on "Some Aspects of Travel," he delivered an address on the mental aspects of smells. "I think," he said, "there are only two elementary smells of universal appeal—the smell of burning fuel and the smell of melting grease. I rank wood smoke first, since it calls up more intimate and varied memories, over a wider geographical range, to a larger number of individuals than any other agent we know. I live in a wood-smoke country and I know how men, otherwise silent, become suddenly and surprisingly eloquent under its influence.

"It is probable that the future will have no place for these links with past delights and labors—that they will be forgotten like the labors themselves—as we have forgotten the smell of home-made soap or the whistle and rap of the flails on a threshing floor.

"Conceive for a moment a generation wholly divorced from all known smells of land and sea-travel—a generation which will climb into and drop down from an utterly odorless upper air, unprepared for the flavor which is the spirit of the country it descends upon. Everything that we have used till now has allowed us time for a little mental adjustment of horizons—time and contact with the changing earth and waters under us. In the future there will be neither mental adjustment nor horizons as we have understood them."

What would the potent individuality of Holy Hi, and Snivelling Toopious, and Chattering Chet, and Bogus-Bad-Man Heney amount to if they were separated in memory from the odoriferous atmosphere which environs them and which associates them in the memory of their hearers with the mephitis Americana?

THE CRIME OF DELAY.

Without cessation, accounts of horrifying barbarities continue to pour out of Mexico. The field before Torreon is a shambles, and men are being murdered, executed and butchered, while Villa, the bandit, utilizing arms which President Wilson has permitted to be furnished to him, makes bloody sport. Villa is not fighting for a principle—he is fighting because, as a bandit, the Mexican government placed a price on his head. Now turbulent fortune has tossed him up into a position to menace that government and he takes his revenge—thanks to the courtesy of Mr. Wilson, who kindly lifted the embargo on arms!—by murdering the representatives and sympathizers of that government whom he can get before his rifles.

Not only are Mexicans murdered, but foreigners, and especially Americans, are killed—since the administration at Washington takes no interest in the carnage—with insolent impunity. The toll of death taken by these guerrilla hordes from the ranks of American citizens is appalling. The conditions in Mexico are frightful—they can only be described by such words as "rapine, lust, loot, torture, savagery, the foulest of murders and the lowest of debaucheries." Only the semblance of authority remains in the more fortunate localities. Bandits as fiendish as Villa, but not having the same publicity, facilities or fortune in fighting, roam over the entire country. No home is safe; Mexico City is demoralized; business has practically ceased in all parts of the nation, and the horrors of disease are beginning to join those of slaughter. But the administration at Washington does nothing.

Statesmen and soldiers have called attention time and again to the one plan that would of a surety and inexpensively restore peace and order and again establish a centralized Mexican government. The United States should join with the interested powers of Europe in an armed intervention for the avowed purpose of ending the brutalities, suppressing all factions and establishing a government of Mexicans for Mexicans—immediately thereafter withdrawing from Mexican soil without acquiring a foot of territory.

It would not be an intervention for conquest—it would be an intervention to restore order. The nations of the world joined together to suppress the Chinese Boxers; the nations of Europe commanded the cessation of hostilities in the Balkans, and the nations of the world—or those whose interests are involved—can find no easier way of causing the pacification in Mexico, so valuable to them in the mercenary sense and so indispensable to humanity in the larger and nobler sense, than by joining in an intervention.

It is now conceded by many conservative statesmen that if the United States remains inactive much longer this country, single-handed and alone, will be forced into a war with Mexico.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan may tilt their noses and call it "jingoism"—which only shows that they are incapacitated for telling the difference between a serious complication and a mare's nest. They are much exercised over plans for giving England control of the Panama Canal, in defiance of previous pledges and of national honor, but they regard the barbarities of Mexico with the calmness of stupidity.

They know, as all know who have troubled themselves to read the document, that the Monroe doctrine contains nothing which would, by any stretch of interpretation, be violated by joint intervention of the world powers simply for the purpose of restoring order in a country on the Western Hemisphere that is overrun by bandits. It is patent that the European nations cannot much longer ignore the conditions in Mexico, and if they intervene of their own accord they may, as with Poland, settle the situation to suit themselves, since the United States does not seem enough concerned to take an interest in the case. Not only that, but President Wilson has actually aided and abetted the ravages and outrages of the so-called rebels by allowing them to purchase all of the arms and ammunition they care to in this country.

The outlook is depressing. For the sake of humanity alone definite action should be taken to put a stop to the carnage. But the President of these United States has and is maintaining an attitude as though the President of Mexico were a personal enemy, and that any inaction or munition assistance which benefits the rebel horde is justified by the distress that it causes Huerta. If the interests of humanity cannot cause the nations to intercede, then the safety and protection that they owe their citizens should force them to do so. In that particular the administration at Washington has conducted itself with ignominious inaction. The slaughter of scores of Americans did not begin to arouse among our own officials nearly so much concern as the murder of one British subject. If a government does not protect its citizens abroad, it is unreasonable to expect either the citizens at home or abroad to have respect for the officials of that government.

But if neither the interests of humanity nor the protection of our citizens justifies the intervention, surely the mercenary interests present sufficient arguments. The outlay of expense to be borne by the individual nations participating in the joint intervention would be far less than the remuneration that would be reaped commercially from a pacified and prosperous Mexico.

Whatever may be the moving cause, it should have caused such an intervention by this time. Delay only piles higher the corpses of unfortunate foreigners and Mexicans; delay only causes the destruction of more property, the ruination of more business, the trampling out of more vestiges of civilization—and brings the United States nearer and nearer to war with Mexico.

SOCIALISTS AND THE LAW.

Some Socialists admit that, under existing laws, such a process as that of confiscation would be illegal. So long as they are compelled to live under the present system they say they are willing to abide by these laws—at least to the extent that they do not violate them openly as a rule, as this would endanger their incarceration in the "capitalists' prison."

At the same time they declare that, as the laws were made for the protection of the property-owners, there is no just reason why they should not change them and so make the ownership of property quite as great a crime as the theft of property is today. All this they promise to accomplish when they once have the power to carry out their purpose.

In other words, the Socialist stands for the principle that "might makes right," while, as we well know, might does nothing of the kind. Socialism has no more right to violate one of man's natural rights than it has to re-establish the system of slavery, yet the fact that the Socialists make no account of the natural right of man to hold property is demonstrated by no less a Socialist authority than Eugene V. Debs, who says:

"As a revolutionist I can have no respect for capitalist property laws, nor the least scruple about violating them. I hold all such laws to have been enacted by chicanery, fraud and corruption, with the sole end in view of dispossessing, robbing and enslaving the working class. But this does not imply [and here comes the cowardice—the writer] that I propose making an individual lawbreaker of myself and butting my head against the stone wall of existing property laws. That might be called force, but it would not be that. It would be mere weakness and folly. If I had the force [power] to overthrow these despotic laws I would use it without an instant's hesitation or delay, but I have not got it, and so I am law-abiding under protest—not from scruple—and bide my time."

That's the excuse every coward makes, Gompers included, for not doing the things he boasts of being anxious to do. At Atlanta, in November, 1911, Gompers said to the American Federation of Labor convention, "I would gladly go to prison for labor's sake," while ever since, by appeal after appeal, he is wriggling to keep out of prison in the contempt of court conviction and sentence case against him.

Bax, in the "Ethics of Socialism," goes still further than Debs, for he admits that for the Socialist, "It is indifferent whether social and political ends are realized by lawful or by lawless means," and if it be said that this principle applied to conditions in general and was not supposed to govern the conduct of individuals, what are we to say to the advice which he gave, says Josiah Fenton, to those who are searching for a "new" standard of personal integrity.

"The cheapest way of obtaining goods is not to pay for them," said Bax, "and if a buyer can avoid paying for goods he obtains, he has quite as much right to do so as the seller has to receive double or treble the cost price and call it profit."

Kautsky, who is regarded by many as the official interpreter of Socialism, has also laid down several laws for the guidance of Socialists in ethical matters. Thus, it is he who advances the principle that the moral law prevails only between comrades.

"One of the most important duties is that of truthfulness to comrades," he says. "Towards enemies this duty was never considered binding."

As the Socialist, from his first introduction to the Marxian doctrines, is taught to regard every employer as his enemy, the natural effect of such an unnatural theory, if put into operation in every-day affairs, is obvious.

At the time this remarkable statement was made by Kautsky some resentment was expressed because, as he himself relates, it looked as if he "had attempted to establish a special social-democratic principle in opposition to the principle of the eternal moral law which commands unconditional truthfulness to all men." "Whether this interpretation was right or wrong," says Ming, "we may judge from the fact that, in a Socialist meeting at Hamburg, a motion made to disavow Kautsky's proposition was lost." It therefore stands as an unmoral Socialist doctrine proclaimed (and not disavowed) by an admitted Socialist authority. Socialism sets itself above all laws, both God-made and man-made.

A SCHOLARLY INFANT.

It is said that the twenty-three-months-old son of Dr. H. W. Wiley, pure food expert, speaks Latin as well as he does English. We wonder if it would be in order to inquire a bit concerning the young man's English vocabulary?

If the worst comes, and there is real trouble in the English army, King George may be compelled to put on one of his highfalutin' uniforms and then the carnage would be worse than ever.

THE FOUR SUITORS.

BY HARRY BOWLING.

A suitor came out of the hardy North,
(Fire and ice was he,)
Firm was his step, and his courage high,
The glint of the frost in his steel-gray eye,
And ever his warmth, when the mood passed by,
Congealed like an Arctic sea.
He followed the maid and he wooed the maid,
But the tang of the ice his birth betrayed,
And she turned from his cold, strong hands—afraid.
"Oh, he'd wither my bloom," said she.
"I'll be no flower for a summer hour
To weather his winters grim,
I know the North, the masterful North,
And there's much of the North in him."

O suitor came out of the languid South,
(Moonlight and dreams was he,)
He tinkled his song in a mandolin tone,
A cloak of romance o'er his shoulders thrown,
But the charm and the grace were not all his own—
They were part of his ancestry.
He followed and wooed with a courtly grace,
But ever, whenever she set the pace,
The fag-lines showed on his pale proud face.
"Oh, he never would last," said she.
"I'll be no prop for the limbs that drop
From a tree too slight and slim;
I know the indolent, easy South,
And there's too much South in him.

A suitor came out of the mystic East,
(Velvet and claws was he,)
Though the eye glowed soft 'neath the half-closed lid,
And the left knew not what the right hand did,
And the track of the serpent was deftly hid,
The signs were still plain to see.
He wooed her fair, with a bridal veil,
But the sag of his jowl told a different tale,
So his gems seemed glass and his feast looked stale.
"For I have a soul," said she.
"I'll be no fish with a golden scale,
In a crystal globe to swim;
I know the treacherous, torpid East,
And there's all of the East in him."

A suitor came out of the golden West,
(Laughter and hope was he,)
Strong with the health of the ocean brine,
Sturdy and straight as a mountain pine,
And the blue of his eye had the dancing shine
Of the sun on the western sea.
He hugged the maid to his good true breast,
He called for the parson to settle the rest,
And he whisked her away to his home in the West.
"Why, I hadn't a chance," said she.
"It's ever their way in that land of today,
Where nothing life's joy can dim;
So it's hey for the West, where the wheels run best,
And it's off to the West with him!"

OUTWARD SIGNS
WALT MASON IN THE TIMES

A man may be a great physician, and have no hangdowns on his face, although for ages fool tradition kept smooth-faced doctors in disgrace. The sawbones had to wear long spinach when he prescribed for fussy cranks, or he would shortly see his finish, and go to join the has-been ranks. A man may be a noble poet, and have a haircut twice a year; though bards like hair, they need not grow it to advertise their business here. When minstrels sang in leafy arbors their pastorals, in olden times, they knew that visits to the barbers would knock them out of many dimes; but times have changed, and now the Milton may cut his hair and wear store duds, and prime himself for further liltin' by eating porterhouse and spuds. A man may be a mighty painter, and yet resemble Grocer Smith; he need not wear a necktie quainter than Farmer Brown is togged out with. And thus we see the world grows wiser, and men are judged by what they do; no more the grand stand advertiser can come and put his coarse work through.

WORLD'S RAINFALL.

[Geological Survey Bulletin:] According to an estimate by Sir John Murray, the total annual rainfall upon all the land of the globe amounts to 29,347.4 cubic miles, and of this quantity 6524 cubic miles drains off through rivers to the sea. A cubic mile of river water weighs, approximately, 4,205,650,000 tons, and carries in solution, on the average, about 420,000 tons of foreign matter. In all, about 2,735,000,000 tons of solid substances are thus carried annually to the ocean.

GARDEN TALK.

BY NEETA MARQUIS.

There is nothing lovelier than a garden after a rain—either a wild garden in a far canyon full of ferns, or a tame one full of parsley and carrot tops. The very feeling of the place is quickened by the tonic of a crystal shower.

I went out into our back-yard garden early one morning after such a rain and it was as if the spirit of dawn was walking all the little paths with me. Water drops made a passementerie over every leaf of the rose bushes, and the reddening buds were like glowing jewels overlaid with silver filigree.

The lettuce heads had collected a cupful of raindrops apiece. The moisture stood in large blobs on the crinkly pale-green surfaces and had run down into the heart of the curved leaves in streams. I once read in a German story of an inn-keeper's daughter who was "as pretty as a bunch of lettuce." Ever since then I have had an increased appreciation of lettuce from the esthetic standpoint. It has distinct charm, both of form and color, and it is a sort which is most readily associated with wholesome feminine peasant types.

Everything was deliciously clean and sparkling in the golden morning air. Crystal drops threaded the grass blades, and the young onions stood like slivers of jade set in silver. Even the clothesline, which is of wire, was strung its full length with beads, as if it were a rosary of moonstones.

I suppose the patron saint of clotheslines is Saint Bridget, and if "labor is prayer," as they say nowadays, the rosary is told to her as often and as fervently as to any in the calendar.

The mulberry leaves were the only dry things in the garden. Hanging pendant as they do, every drop had slidden off of their broad, wrinkled, glossy surface and left no more trace than on the feathers of a duck. Those thick, sheltering leaves are an admirable retreat for the long, red berries now forming there.

I never realized until rather recently how desirable the mulberry is above many other trees. Ours has been in thick leaf for some weeks now—as thick as in midsummer. It will hold these leaves until late in our southern winter, and they will turn a lovely golden color before they fall.

The loquat tree has been thinned out this year—as all the fruit trees have, in fact. It has four hundred loquats on it now, swelling out to most commendable size, counting forty bunches on the tree and ten loquats to the bunch.

Under the tree five varieties of flowers are growing up—scarlet runners, to climb about the trunk, china asters, gaillardias and cosmos.

The bed of chile peppers has also been alternated with asters, gaillardia and mignonette between the vegetable rows. And not a bit of friction or jealousy has manifested itself in any quarter thus far. I think that is one reason the very word "garden" strikes so pleasantly upon the ear—it is synonymous with harmony.

We have plucked four pansies off the plants raised from seed since last fall—three purple velvet ones and one of lavender varied with gold. I have often wondered why pansies have their name from the same root as the Latin for thought. Possibly it is because their little individual faces call up thoughts both happy and sad of human faces "loved and lost a while." And they are children's faces mostly, at that.

Violets have more grown-up associations than pansies. Because of the mature sentiment attaching to them I never can buy violets to wear myself. I can buy them to give to a friend, but if they are to be worn by me—and I love to wear them—they must come as a gift and not a barter. I find that many people have this same feeling toward them.

By the way, one of the greatest charms of a garden is that it produces such delightful things to give away. What joy it is to fill a little basket with a nest of crisp lettuce heads and lay a big handful of fresh, young onions across it to carry to the neighbor who has no such source of joy in her own back yard!

By and by, when the peas are more plentiful, so that there may be more than seven apiece for dinner, they may go visiting, too, as well as the summer squash and cucumbers, which have already put forth lusty green leaves above the soft mounds of earth in which the seeds were buried.

I can't understand the owners of gardens of any sort who hoard their treasure until it spoils rather than share it with a friend. When I see great riots of pink roses, especially on a back fence or a shed roof, going to lovely ruin every day, with no one sharing its richness of beauty, I cannot but think that the owner does not truly enjoy them himself, else he would call in the neighbors to help give expression to that enjoyment.

The mere fact that one loves flowers, it seems to me, ought to have an expanding effect upon the whole nature. To be stingy with flowers is enough smaller and meaner than to be stingy with money.

Our sweet peas are in bud now, and I can hardly wait for them to bloom. They form a thick row along the side fence, back of the green peas which we eat. They reach from the plum tree clear back to where the tender grape vines begin. Our transplanted lilac slip is not going to bloom this year, but it is brave in new leaves and will save strength through this season against next spring's flowering.

There is nothing so eastern to all our California garden as the lilac bush. And, for all we are Californians to the backbone, how glad we shall be when it blooms!

It is restful and sweet to walk in our little garden and flirt with the audacious mocking birds, at any hour of the day, but especially at early morning or at evening.

"A garden is a lovesome thing, God wot;
Rose plot,
Fringed pool,
Ferned grot,
The veriest school
Of peace. And yet the fool
Hath said that God is not.
Not God? In gardens? When the eve is cool?—
Nay, but I have a sign;
'Tis very sure He walks in mine."

THE CHAUFFEUR.

[American Boy:] In modern usage a chauffeur is a professional driver of an automobile. Chauffeurs who drive taxicabs have been feelingly referred to as "pirates" and "brigands" by patrons who felt that they had been overcharged. During the French Revolution, the term chauffeur was regularly used to apply to bands of brigands who pillaged the country and forced their captives to pay ransom by holding their feet in fires. In French chauffeur means to heat, and a chauffeur is one who operates a forge or furnace. He is a stoker. The term came to be applied to the firemen of locomotives, and from thence to the driver of motor vehicles.

THE YEAR'S AT THE SPRING.

Ah God! canst thou expect that I
Attune my heart-beats to a sigh,
And wear a sad and lenten face
When all thy earth abounds in grace?
Can I in penitence repine
When all the air is filled with wine
Of lily-buds and orange bloom
And spring stands here in lilac plume—
Thy royal messenger, to give
Thy promise that the dead shall live?
And with each resurrected bough
Proclaims that even on earth now
Has heaven come, could we but see
Thy glory in each flaming tree?
I'd rather think 'twould please thee best
If I, like all the glad earth dressed,
Went forth a-singing in the sun,
To tell my joy to ev'ry one.
I cannot stand like Spring and cry
"I love you" to each passer-by,
But I can root my life in deeds
And sow my heart in smiling seeds
Of little kindnesses to bring
Here Love's perpetual flowering.

eparation of Twin Tunnel Project Is Opposed.

ommittee Promises Effort to Hasten Action.

"Resolved, that it be the sense of is meeting that the Public Works ommittee recommend to the City uncil that both the First-street and ond-street tunnels be constructed the earliest possible date, and that manner and method of procedure left for the Council, the City Eneer and the City Attorney."

This is the resolution that was pted unanimously yesterday aftern by a large body of citizens after entire afternoon spent in a genl discussion of the tunnels propition. It means that the last public ring on the general project has held; that the City Council will ond to the urgent appeals from y sources and do its utmost to adce the work for each of these tun projects.

From the very beginning of the ring before the Public Works mittee it was evident that the onents of the First-street tunnel ld not allow the separation of the -tunnel project, so that the Sec-street bore might be carried on ependently, leaving the First-street erprise to the chance of being proed out after the other bore was rted. D. K. Edwards, member of County Highway Commission, was first speaker, and he made this very plain.

UAL PLAN SAFEGUARDED.

n followed a general discussion, which it was urged that as the s for the Second-street tunnel are y this project should proceed, on one hand, and on the other that City Attorney has ruled that both s may be carried on under the proceeding and therefore the only er method to safeguard each was this plan.

n came several citizens of Holly-, who protested against that disbeing included in the assessment. y averred that they were not opd to the tunnels, but believed that territory that is most directly ed should pay for the bores. n there were who advocated a tax upon all the property of city or a general assessment.

thur Letts spoke strongly for imate action and declared that the present from Hollywood were estimating the sentiment in that ict against an assessment to help for the tunnels. He declared that was certain the opposition would sipated if prompt action for the bores is started.

Beer and Sewers.

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have read with much interest Mr. Henry Smith Williams's statement against prohibition of the liquor traffic in this morning's Times. Mr. Williams has truly done a great service for the public in popularizing many phases of knowledge otherwise inaccessible to the public. Like President Eliot, he has made us all his debtors.

And he is like President Eliot when you think of it. President Eliot said you could put all you need to know in five feet of books printed in ordinary type. And he agreed to make the selections for us which he did with no little success. And President Eliot also was against prohibition for some thirty-five years of his life, all of which time he was president of Harvard and influencing the opinions and the practices of thousands and thousands of youths. Then President Eliot came to know more about the workings of the liquor traffic and publicly reversed himself. He did hold to Mr. Williams's views but he does not hold to those views now. He is not the only man who has received light and abandoned the position so eagerly championed by Mr. Williams. Gov. Patterson is another case in point. I hope Mr. Williams may come to such a change of heart as has come to these men, only I hope the lightning may not strike either him or his as it did in the case of Gov. Patterson and as it has done in millions of cases while we have been arguing whether or not beer is the great home builder and the best known sewer flusher.

But what I wish to do is to place alongside of Mr. Williams's opinion really expert testimony. Mr. Williams certainly cannot be considered an authority on either the condition of the negro or the facts about Kansas.

Booker Washington ought to know something about the negro and his condition. He says: "Prohibition is the greatest blessing to my race since the emancipation proclamation of Abraham Lincoln." Why, even Lyman Abbott another man after that prohibition is good for the negro though he thinks it is not yet expedient for the white folks at their present State of civilization.

Mr. Williams speaks of Kansas. A lot of us have been through Kansas and around about it. Now Mr. Williams has been abroad a good deal of his time and has spent no little part of his lifetime in museums hunting up data and talking into dictaphones and it is not to be expected that he would know as much at first hand as such practical men as Governors usually are. I think it is safer always to hear the man who knows everything that can be known about anyone thing than the man who knows something about everything. So I wish to place against Mr. Williams's opinion the testimony of two of the chief executives of the State of Kansas.

In 1911, Gov. Stubbs said: "Prohibition is the greatest business asset and achievement in our State. We stand ahead of all other States in wealth per capita. Business men say their collections became 40 per cent. better as towns dried up. To hold that drinking brings prosperity, except in the inflamed imagination, is absurd, Kansas experience repudiates it."

In 1914, February 15, Gov. George H. Hodges, said: "We consider that prohibition has been a great success in Kansas. We attribute our per capita wealth of $1765 and an average of $132 on deposit in our banks for every person in the State to the fact that we are a Prohibition State."

I send in this statement, Mr. Editor, with the feeling that a great daily paper like The Times has no desire to mislead its readers, especially at such a critical time as this.

TAXPAYERS.

THIS THE IDEAL PORT.

Commission in Charge of Harbor Issues Book to Be Handed to Ship Owners of World.

"The Port of Los Angeles" is the title of a 158-page book just issued by the Harbor Commission. The book was compiled by Clarence H. Matson, secretary of the commission, and represents months of careful work. It is replete with pertinent facts and statistics, bearing upon the advantages of the Port of Los Angeles and its ultimate destiny as one of the great world ports, and a copy will be placed in the office of every important ship company in the world.

The book is well illustrated with twenty-five fine half-tones and three long inserts, showing scenes of activity at the harbor. In the general subject matter there are articles on the tributary territory of Los Angeles, a prophecy as to what the Panama Canal will do for this section of the Pacific Coast, an article on the history of the harbor from the earliest days, the growth of Los Angeles and its tributary territory, the growth of commerce of Los Angeles harbor under ordinary conditions, what tonnage will come through the Panama Canal to Los Angeles, a resume of harbor construction work and a history of the tidelands litigation.

"There are harbors and harbors," says Matson. "Some are merely places of refuge in time of stress—peaceful, but without the attractions of trade for which ships are built; others, while yielding commerce of importance, afford small refuge from storm and, because of this defect, can never be depended on by shipping. Some are merely ports of call, where passing ships stop for a day—and then go on; but others are not only ports of call, affording fuel and provisions for the passer-by, but are surrounded by busy and prosperous people, whose industry creates commerce in vast volume; harbors from which arteries of trade stretch away long distances to rich interior regions, bringing their products for transshipment to many lands, and taking in return the commerce of foreign climes.

"It is one of the latter harbors that Los Angeles is building by the sunset sea."

LADIES FAMILIAR WITH DRESS-GOODS FABRICS.

Women who are accustomed to read the "ads" carefully, to follow the trend of selling prices for certain lines of goods, and to investigate offerings of goods that appeal to their interest, become "educated" as to values.

This education does not consist in a mere knowledge of prevailing prices for certain fabrics or wearables — although such knowledge is essential in the shopping task. But it includes special knowledge of qualities and grades of goods. Familiarity with the different trade-marked lines of goods.

Many a woman has learned from experience as to the durability and the "nature" of dress goods fabrics. She knows "what to expect" in the way of service from this fabric and from that.

The merchant who would ignore these facts, and merely try to stampede women into buying a particular line of goods because he happened to be stocked up with them, and desired to close out at a profit, would make an irreparable blunder—for he would lose the confidence of the store's best patrons. Of course, no merchant in this city ever attempts "selling coups" of this sort.

The special offerings being made this week by the stores of the city in The Times advertisements are such as appeal to women who know values.

They are made—those in which price-reductions are emphasized—for the purpose of making friends for the stores, not with any risk of losing them.

The advertising appeal is always made to "wise buyers." That is a good thing to remember when you read today's "ads."

INCOME TAX RETURNS GIVEN X-RAY EXAMINATION.

Internal Revenue Agents "On Account" to Scrutinize Lists in Effort to Determine Whether Property Is Being Held from Imposition of Government Tax.

The flag dropped on the income tax payers who received a few days of grace on account of sickness or absence from the city, with the close of Collector Carter's office, last night.

Now the internal revenue agents, "on account," will get busy and the income of everybody who has made no return, or an improper one, will be scrutinized. In addition, a penalty will be charged and collected for failure to make a return.

Who are these "on-account" officials? They are nameless so far as any information that can be gained from the office of Collector Carter is concerned. That is covered by a section of the income tax law, making it a cause for instant dismissal for any officer or attache of the government to give out anything regarding the collection of the tax to the public.

But these agents "on account" exist, and they will begin this morning their joyful mission of "pussy-footing" with a view to ascertaining whether you have made the proper return of your income. So cleverly is the internal revenue machine being worked by the government that an investment anywhere on earth will be dug out and the owner compelled to face it.

It is known that the income tax law has not raised the amount of money required to fill the hole left by the reduction of the tariff duties, estimated at about $100,000,000, and the coming process will now begin with a view to adding to the total amount to be collected beginning June 1.

Persons suspected of not making a return will be visited and interviewed, records will be searched, correspondence covering outside investments will be carried on, and every means employed to enable the government to get what under the law it is alleged it is entitled to.

ANSWERS WITH A SWING.

Woman Attempts to Strike Police Officer and Now She Will Have to Face Jury Trial.

Estimating a peck to be worth $100, Mrs. William Bartee realized a peck of trouble when her husband ran over a schoolboy on Saturday at Seventh and San Pedro streets.

William Partee was driving his automobile along San Pedro street when he ran over Roy Tilletson of No. 278 South Avenue 20. The boy's ankle was bruised and Bartee was placed under arrest for reckless driving.

Mrs. Bartee came to the police station yesterday and inquired for her husband. Policeman Rex Houston answered her inquiries. He told her of her husband's plight. She answered with a swing to Houston's jaw. He ducked and she swung again. She repeated the swing, as though she thought there was some chance of landing.

Then Houston vaulted the desk and placed her under arrest. Her bail was fixed at $10. When she appeared before Police Judge Frederickson yesterday, she was placed under $100 bail, and her trial was fixed for a jury's consideration.

Vassar Union Suits for Men

As soon as you have one good look at a Vassar Swiss ribbed union suit, you'll see how different it is from any other knit union suit you ever saw.

—Notice the seams; flat, selvage edges, not round, hard seams as in most knit underwear. Turn back the sleeve and compare.

—Notice that the cuffs on sleeve and ankle are knit on, not sewed on; they keep snug after continued wear and washing.

—Notice the "come-back" elasticity; it's the secret of the snug, perfect fit.

—Vassar Swiss ribbed union suits are the only knit union suits that have these points; Vassar knitting machines are the only ones in the country that do it.

Interwoven Socks Are Absolutely Guaranteed!

Two reasons why Interwoven Socks for men are so popular—one is that every pair is guaranteed, and that the guarantee is seldom needed, for they wear like iron; the other is that Interwoven Socks are as sheer and rich in appearance as the far less durable silk hose; and that their cost is insignificant.

For instance, we sell three qualities of Interwoven Socks, in black and colors, at 25c, 35c and 50c a pair. Why not make it a point to buy half a dozen pairs right now, before you forget it, and see for yourself why thousands of men all over the country are asking for and wearing Interwoven Hose to the exclusion of any other brand.

Globe Mills Union Suits
—for men, we show in all their variations; certain features of these suits make them popular with men who appreciate value in underwear.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

Mrs. Phil Swaffield,

A charming young woman who became a bride last evening. Mrs. Swaffield was formerly Miss Rita Hamilton of Colfax, Wash.

A VERY interesting rehearsal took place last evening at Capt. William Banning's ballroom at Thirty-first and Hoover streets, when members of the Amateur Players' Club gathered to work out some novel numbers for the costume ball to be given following Easter. It will be remembered that this function will be given for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, and the affair will be called the "Evolution of the Dance."

Mrs. Wells's Plans.

Mrs. G. Wiley Wells, who has been a popular winter guest at the Darby, will spend the coming month at her country place in Covina.

Mrs. Porter Home.

Mrs. James Souter Porter has just concluded a three weeks' motor jaunt to Coronado, Riverside, Redlands and the Crags. Mrs. Porter accompanied friends.

To Leave.

Mrs. George Stegmaier, with her daughter, Miss Kathleen, will leave Thursday for their home in Wilkes Barre, Pa. Mrs. Stegmaier and Miss Stegmaier have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Forve during their sojourn in Los Angeles.

In the East.

Mrs. Arthur Peck, with her son, left a day or so ago for the East, where young Mr. Peck will enter Yale. Mr. Peck, during Mrs. Peck's absence, is at the California Club.

Invitations Out.

Invitations have been issued by members of the Sigma Chapter of the Delta Kappa Phi Fraternity for an afternoon party Friday, April 17, at the Ebell Clubhouse.

Wedding Announcement.

The marriage of Miss Edythe Rosella Bowen, daughter of Mrs. Calvin Case Bowen, to Cornelius Mills Roberts was solemnized last evening at the bride's home, Angeleno Heights. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Jesse P. McKnight of Pasadena and during the reading of the lines the young people stood beneath a canopy of asparagus plumosus and pink roses. An orchestra stationed behind a curtain of greenery played appropriate selections, following vocal music by C. W. Harsin. The home was particularly attractive with its decorations of choice flowers, pink being the favorite color used. A centerpiece for the bride's table was formed of Cecile Brunners and valley lilies. The attractive young bride, who was given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her uncle, the Hon. William M. Bowen, was exquisite in a gown of white crepe meteor made en train, with trimmings of pearls. Her tulle veil was held in place with orange blossoms and she carried valley lilies. Miss Ada Shryack, attired in rose crepe de chine and shadow lace, and Miss Janet Wherry, in pale pink charmeuse, assisted as bridesmaids. They carried arm clusters of Cecile Brunners. R. Smith Roberts of San Diego attended his brother as best man. In spite of the fact that relatives and intimate friends only witnessed the service, the affair was of widespread interest. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts will enjoy a honeymoon trip before settling in their own home in this city.

Miss Boileau Honored.

Mrs. Godfrey Holterhoff of West Adams street graciously presided yesterday at a luncheon, honoring Miss Juliet Boileau. Covers were also arranged for Miss Helen Jones, Miss Daphne Drake, Miss Katherine Ramsay, Miss Marjorie Ramsay, Miss Alice Elliott, Miss Louise Hunt, Miss Sally McFarland, Miss Lillian Van Dyke, Miss Martha Woolwine and Mrs. Mal Mathews of Nashville, Tenn.

Married Last Evening.

Miss Rita Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hamilton of Colfax, Wash., and Phil Swaffield, a prominent young attorney of Long Beach, were married last night at the Balboa Hotel, this city. The Rev. Baker P. Lee performed the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet one, only the relatives and close friends of the bride and groom being present.

The bride, who is the niece of Congressman W. M. La Follette, and a cousin of Robert La Follette, has spent the past four winter seasons in Washington, D. C. She was prominently active in Congressional social circles while at the capital, as well as being well known in this city and Long Beach, where she has spent the past three summers. Mr. Swaffield is a promising young practicing attorney of Long Beach, popular and well known in the younger social set of that city. He is a member of the Phi Alpha Delta Fraternity, and junior member of the firm of Swaffield & Swaffield, attorneys at law. Mr. and Mrs. Swaffield will be at home at No. 520 West Third street, Long Beach, after April 15. Their honeymoon will be spent in San Francisco.

Society Interested.

The members of the Alpha Chi Omega Sorority will entertain this evening at the Wednesday Morning Clubhouse. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Children's Hospital. Those receiving are the Misses Anne Shepard, Ella Foster, Phoebe Joslin, Kate Granger of Alhambra, Fern Widney, Florence Cook, Sylvia Tichauser, Sue Shenk and Mrs. Dewitt Brady, Mrs. Ralph Pinkham, Mrs. Katherine Potter and Mrs. Carl William Hunt.

Arrowhead Notes.

Judge Frank Finlayson of Los Angeles is enjoying his regular monthly trip to Arrowhead.

Gold of Ophir roses made a most attractive center decoration for the luncheon table set Thursday for Miss Margaret Scripps and Miss Winnifred Whelan of London, England, Misses Ellen and Dorothy Kellogg of Altadena, and Miss Virginia Scripps of La Jolla. The party motored up the mountain side and after luncheon spent some time looking over the Arrowhead grounds and visiting the famous hot springs.

Baker-Bulman Wedding.

James S. Baker and Miss Anna Bulman were married yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian Church by Dr. Edward Campbell. Mrs. Baker recently arrived in this city from Chicago. She is the daughter of a former merchant of that city. James S. Baker, who is the son of Judge J. R. Baker of Dallas, recently opened a law office here.

USES IMPROVISED SAW.

Prisoner in City Jail Attempts Suicide by Hacking His Wrist With Jagged Tin.

Charles Hayward, a negro, arrested March 12 for a violation of the State poison law, attempted suicide in the City Jail last night. With a tobacco tin, handed him by a fellow-prisoner when he asked for a smoke, he improvised a saw and began hacking his left wrist.

He was found, industriously sawing away at his wrist, by Assistant Jailer Joe Romero and Head Trusty Harry Larson, who took the implement from him and sent him to the Receiving Hospital. The damage was soon repaired. He is in no danger.

Hayward is awaiting trial in the Police Court.

ADELAIDE PHILLIPPS

And an Old-Time Negro Melody.

Early in 1840 a tiny English lass of 7 years landed in America with her parents from Stratford-on-Avon, the historic birthplace of William Shakespeare. At the age of 9 little Adelaide Phillipps made her first appearance at the Tremont Theater in Boston. Jenny Lind met her and advised her to go to London, and later she studied in Italy, where she won a great triumph as Arsace in "Semiramide." Returning to America she was given an ovation accorded few singers and continued her tour on to Cuba. When the Boston Ideal Opera Company was formed in 1879 she appeared in "Pinafore" and the Sullivan operas, and added greatly to her fame as one of America's most popular and beloved contralto singers. It was a memory that can never be effaced to hear Adelaide Phillipps sing the old popular songs as encore after encore was demanded. To hear her sing that plaintive melody of Foster's, "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," vibrated the heart chords and touched the hearts of hearers. This song is to be found on page 350 of "Heart Songs," a veritable library of the greatest songs in the world, and now offered to the readers of this paper for one coupon and the cost of distribution. See coupon with terms elsewhere in today's Times.

In Review.

MELODY MARKS EMPRESS BILL.

Acrobatic Stunts Are Close Second for Honors.

"Faust" and Diving Horses Hippodrome Features.

Snapping Alligators Scare Republic Patrons.

Music and athletics hold forth at the Empress Theater this week, with music somewhat in the lead.

The biggest musical number is that of Ada Proctor and her seven dancing girls, all pretty and young and lithe. Doesn't sound particularly musical, does it? But the girls sing tuneful accompaniments to their various dances, songs like "Down the Line With Arabella," "My Reindeer," etc. There are four scenes to the number, and these are as attractive as the girls, for they bring us to Toyland, Dreamland and to Iceland, and in each scene the girls wear appropriate costumes, abbreviated in Toyland, thick and furry in Iceland. Ada Proctor assumes various roles, from two pretty boys to an Esquimaux, and in all of them she is bright, lively, and a big part of the show.

The next important musical number is that of Gertrude Clark and Spencer Ward, an offering which, artistically considered, is of quite unusual quality, for both have beautiful voices, soprano and baritone, beautifully trained and handled with marked distinction. Moreover, they give us songs with good stuff in them, sentimental, it is true, but not cheaply popular and vulgar. Miss Clark plays the accompaniments on the piano, and does it delightfully.

More singing is furnished by Gladys Wilbur, a good-looking girl who is billed to render southern songs, but whose enunciation leaves us all in the dark as to what they are all about.

Fred Warren and Al Blanchard also sing, with song interludes of lamentable jokes.

The athletics of the week are of the rough-and-tumble, knockabout variety. Patrick, Francisco and Warren appear as athletic rubes in a skit called "Fun Down on the Farm," Spissell Brothers and Mack in one entitled "The New Chef." Both these teams are excellent tumblers, clever fun-makers, and their offerings are the delight of their audiences. The taste for such fast and furious fun, such wild and sprawling agility, is inherent in all of us, and custom can never stale its enjoyment.

Hippodrome.

This is the last week of the wonderful diving horses of Dr. Carver at the Hippodrome, and in recognition of the event a special programme of thrilling features and heart-gripping dives is being offered. Two Feathers is still in the saddle and is proving herself a really marvelous equestrienne.

"Faust" condensed to three graphic scenes, proves to be a real dramatic gem as offered by the Landers Stevens-Georgie Cooper Company. The big musical feature is furnished by the Seven American Rosebuds, a bevy of girls, exquisitely gowned, who introduce the new fad—hair to match the gowns.

Rizal and Altima score a decided hit with their comedy acrobatics, and Laura Bennet is a character comedienne of surprises.

Heinie Auerbach is a German orator parly anglicized and "That Singing Four" in a new repertoire, with some splendid motion pictures, complete the bill.

Republic.

The best vaudeville bill that has been seen at the Republic for weeks is holding the boards at present, having opened Monday to enthusiastic audiences. The headline feature is a sensational act, the like of which has never been seen on the Coast before, "The King of the Everglades" and his ten trained alligators. The King is a giant full-blooded Seminole Indian, from the southern swamps, who plays with the monster beasts as though they were kittens, and who sends thrills through the spectators by a battle under water with a huge saurian.

The alligators are put through all sorts of tricks; they shoot the chutes and are hypnotized by Prof. Calder, who has devoted his life to the study of these animals. The act is hair-raising in the extreme, and unusual.

Herman is here, too, for the first time at popular prices. His tricks are marvelous, and he breaks all records for substitution feats. A vein of comedy introduced into his turn makes it all the more enjoyable.

The big girl act of the bill is the Victoria trio. They sing harmony, featuring the lilting melodies of the Sunny South. Their costuming is elegant and their voices pleasing. Veolette and Olds present a mystic novelty that really mystifies; Belle Gordon, "the athletic girl," gives a wonderful bag-punching exhibition. Provol justifies himself to the title of the world's greatest whistler and mimic, while Polley and Pearson present a novelty fresh from Europe that elicits laughs and applause. Comedy motion pictures conclude the bill.

Woodley Theater.

"The Mutual Girl" and "In the Days of the Padres" vie for first honors on the new programme at Woodley's Theater, which runs until Thursday, the contrasting features apparently finding equal favor with the throngs of picture and music-lovers who patronize the playhouse.

This is a decided compliment to the last-named film, by the way, for "The Mutual Girl," already established as one of the greatest favorites in filmdom, is always accorded a delightful reception.

Thus the fact that "In the Days of the Padres" is equally well received speaks volumes for its fascination as a Woodley feature.

The very name gives one a vague idea of what the film is like, but its beauty and the thrill of its romantic theme can only be appreciated through the actual witnessing of the story, which is meeting with more success than almost any other Domino feature ever placed before the public.

It also affords C. Percival Garratt unexcelled opportunity for playing some stupendous selections in the wonderful mammoth pipe organ, a fact which he has taken especial pains not to overlook.

For the balance of the week, beginning on Thursday, "Over Niagara Falls" will be the big feature. Not only is the story one that will make the heart strings tingle, but the pictures of the great falls will of themselves be a feature well worth going miles to see.

Tally's Broadway.

Jack London's story of his life, "John Barleycorn," in motion pictures, began a week's showing at Tally's Broadway Monday, and if the crowds attending the first performances are any indication, this six-part photoplay should prove one of the greatest drawing cards ever shown at this theater. Because of the straightforward manner in which Mr. London tells his story in these pictures, the power of the great and good lesson which they teach cannot be exaggerated.

Clune's.

W. H. Clune, the local picture magnate, deserves credit for being there when it comes to securing the big feature pictures. It was he who secured exclusive rights for the big Selig wild-animal jungle serial, "The Adventures of Kathlyn," and when "The Perils of Pauline," a spectacular Pathe feature film, with many parts, was put on the market he gobbled up that for his patrons, along with a big new bill.

This picture is, without doubt, a real reel attraction, and should prove even more popular than Kathlyn's adventures. It was made in all parts of the world by an all-star Pathe picture, with Pearl White, perhaps the world's most-famous picture actress, in the leading role. The first installment introduces the heroine and takes her through many thrilling and hair-raising adventures. It is a picture with a strong human-interest grip, and those who see the first installment will await eagerly the announcement that the second is ready to be exhibited. A strong bill of single reels is showing this week, and the orchestra is playing plenty of new music.

Miller's.

On account of the many requests that have been received, the management of Miller's has decided to return to two changes of programme each week, making the changes on Mondays and Thursdays, starting this week. The same first-run programmes, including the masterpiece productions of the General Film Company and the great "Pauline" series, which have created such intense interest the fore part of this week at this house, where their beauty is so greatly enhanced by the aid of their wonderful plate-glass mirror screen, will be continued.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

There is a companion picture to "Aurora" hanging on the wall of Ebell auditorium now. Not at all like it—different and distinct—but as lovely and restful as "Aurora" is inspiring. It is the gift to the club of Mrs. Nicholas Rice and is a forest scene with great trees bending over a purling stream of water and the sky with its fleecy clouds peeping through an opening in the trees. Just to look at this beautiful painting refreshes the spirit and you can imagine you are there—on the banks of that woodland stream, far, far away from city crowds and confusion. It rests one's tired soul to gaze on a picture like that.

Psychology of the Play.

John D. Barry of San Francisco, essayist, dramatic critic and playwriter, addressed Ebell Monday afternoon on "The Principles of Play Construction." He was scheduled to speak on Maeterlinck—as writer and man—and it was to be an illustrated lecture, but, unfortunately, a lot of the slides, through careless packing or transportation, got smashed and so Barry substituted the above lecture, which was well worth while even if the disciples of Maeterlinck were a bit disappointed. By the time the lecture was over they were ready to admit that Maeterlinck could well wait till some other time.

Barry speaks in a mild, conversational tone—sometimes a bit too low-voiced to reach the back rows. He diagnosed the drama of today as compared with that of a generation ago—or even half a dozen years ago—when such a play as, say, "Damaged Goods" could not have had even a hearing. Such is the psychology of our times now that these plays dealing with life and the human problems of the day, have broken down the old, conventional ideas when romance held the boards.

Ibsen broke down the conventionalities of the drama when he turned from his great big poetic productions to the themes of everyday life and showed the world that the human problems are the great, big things of life. Other giants followed in the way that he had blazed. Ibsen's influence unlocked the cells of writers all over the civilized world—Shaw, and Barrie and Galsworthy in England, and Brieux, the young dramatist who refused to follow the French fashion of drama, which for generations had consisted of variations on one theme—romantic love and marital infelicity.

"Only two or three years ago," said Barry, "when Richard Bennett was out here he told me he wanted to make a production of some big, serious play. I asked him if he had any particular play in mind, and he said he had—'Damaged Goods.' I told him that the psychology of our times would hardly stand for that. 'Have you the nerve to try it?' I asked him. 'Yes,' he replied, 'I have the nerve—but no one else has.' Finally, with the support of medical associations and influential backing the play was produced in New York—for one night. It required superior human courage to resist fashion and conventionality—only two or three years ago—by attempting such a play. Now 'Damaged Goods' is being played all over the country by several companies on the road. The significance of things, is what the new drama is trying to teach us."

Annual D.A.R. Luncheon.

Mrs. H. C. Dillon, regent of Eschscholtzia Chapter, D.A.R., entertained the officers and members of the board of that organization at a luncheon yesterday at her home, No. 2850 Leeward avenue. This is a courtesy annually extended by the presiding officer to her associates. Mrs. Dillon's term of office expires in May, when she closes her two years' service as regent of the chapter after a most successful administration.

The guests yesterday were Mrs. Theodore G. Davis, Mrs. Frank Kidder, Mrs. William H. Dudley, Mrs. Ernest Wood, Miss Mary Olive Gray, Mrs. Robert O. Osborn, Mrs. Enoch Pepper, Mrs. A. W. Stedman, Mrs. Gideon Moody and Mrs. William Howe Kennedy.

Practical Innovation.

SYMPHONY TO PLAY AT POLYTECHNIC.

STUDENTS TODAY WILL HEAR FULL ORCHESTRA.

Rehearsals, Instead of Being Played Before Empty Seats, in Darkened Auditorium, Become Valuable Musical Education for for Pupils in High Schools.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

A rehearsal, the second this season, will be given this morning at the Polytechnic High School by the full Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Herr Tandler.

Mrs. Gertrude Parsons, director of music, has already prepared the pupils of that high school to listen with understanding to the selections of the orchestra.

Programme notes explaining the points of interest in the works about to be presented have been printed by the school and distributed.

Herr Adolf Tandler will explain the tone color of various instruments and technical features of the orchestral work.

The programme to be rehearsed this morning will be the same that will be played at the two concerts by the orchestra on Friday afternoon and Saturday evening, with which the present season of the Symphony Orchestra will close.

The numbers, which have been selected according to the majority of requests for the repetition of certain compositions, will consist of: Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony, B Minor," Ippolitow-Ivanow's "Caucasian Sketches," Debussy's "in the Magic Chamber," prelude to the second act of the "Martyrdom" of Saint-Sebastian, and Tschaikowsky's "Sixth Symphony Pathetique B Minor," the third movement only.

Rehearsals of numbers with which the orchestra is already familiar are only called for the purpose of securing a better ensemble work.

To all intents and purposes such orchestral renditions are equal to the concert they precede.

Instead of playing by itself, at a considerable expense, in the darkened Auditorium, it is an admirable idea to have the Symphony Orchestra rehearsal fill two good purposes: the musicians have the advantage of closer and better acquaintance with the difficulties of the work, the additional and always valuable experience of team work, and the students of two high schools have had the opportunity of hearing music of a high quality by a full orchestra of capable musicians.

The success of this notable innovation in Symphonic Orchestra work will no doubt prove of material advantage to the musical department of the public schools. It may be enlarged in future seasons without any detriment to the concerts to be given, as most students cannot, for a variety of reasons, attend in any great number the regular Symphony Orchestra concerts.

Baraca Glee Club Concert.

At the Baraca Glee Club concert, which will be held at the First Baptist Church, No. 727 South Flower street, Miss Alice Weruland, soprano, will make her last public appearance, as she is to become a June bride. She will be the soloist of the club, with Miss Susan Ridderhof as accompanist, Miss Reba Dwight, reader, assisting. The club will give selections from Taylor, Brewer, Woodham, R. de Koven and Sullivan compositions.

BOOSTS OUR SCHOOLS.

Grand Rapids Educator Says They're the Best Ever, Especially Intermediate and Polytechnic.

"You have the best school system in Los Angeles that I ever saw," said W. A. Greeson, superintendent of the city schools of Grand Rapids, Mich., last night, after a two days' inspection.

He is particularly enthusiastic concerning the intermediate schools, and stated that he has been working at the problem for eight years in Grand Rapids, with less success than [illegible] attained by Supt. Francis of this city in four years. Prior to going to his present position, Mr. Greeson was for ten years dean of Lewis Institute, Chicago, and is well qualified to speak impartially of a school system. His declaration concerning the Los Angeles schools was spontaneous and unqualified.

"The intermediate school is the thing for the child," he said. "[illegible] will think, they will readily [illegible] There is no reason for the [illegible] which in the old-fashioned [illegible] occurs between the eighth and ninth grades. The schools ought to be a unit without any breaks in it, and the intermediate school is the thing that closes the break. I have been delighted with the splendid spirit of co-operation between the children and your schools.

"I was particularly pleased with the Polytechnic High School. I do not believe it is a fad to get boys and girls ready to earn a living—it's good horse sense. I believe it's the salvation of the human race—development through work, not books. A boy will make a better lawyer, a better doctor and a better citizen if he has the opportunity to work while he is growing up."

AWAIT ARRIVAL OF BODY.

No Arrangements Made for Funeral of Oil Man Killed in Automobile Accident Near Taft.

The body of Washington D. Head, president of the W. D. Head [illegible] Company and a member of the Wilkes-Head Oil Company, will be received here this morning. No arrangements will be made for the funeral until word is received from the brother, H. Head, of Barry[illegible], who is also active in the oil [illegible].

Head was killed instantly [illegible] day evening when the automobile he was driving on the Bakersfield road about fourteen miles north of Taft struck a washout and turned completely over, crushing him. [illegible] Dell, foreman of the drilling company, who was with Head, was thrown clear of the machine and landed in the sage brush which lines the road near the Mosher roadhouse. He was not seriously injured and was cared for at the Taft General Hospital.

Head, who came here from the East four years ago, was successful in his business ventures and was considered to be an exceedingly well-informed man by his associates. He leaves a widow and one child who live at their home at No. 3197 [illegible] boulevard.

NATIVE SONS TO MEET.

One of the features arranged for the entertainment of visitors and delegates to the meeting of the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons, to be held the week of April 20, is an automobile excursion Thursday, April 23, over the boulevards. Stops will be made at Hollywood, San Gabriel, Baldwin's Park and Busch's Gardens. A barbecue will be served at Baldwin's ranch. As a large number of machines will be necessary, the Automobile Committee is anxious to hear from those who will donate the use of their cars for the occasion. The committee is at No. 248 Wilcox building.

"The first run of the season."

Harl Maggert, Angel outfielder, crossing the plate in the third inning with the first of the two runs scored by Dillon's men. In set is Orvie Overall, who wouldn't report to the Seals, but looks as though he would like to be in the game anyway.

TIGERS HAND SEALS AN AWFUL BEATING IN OPENER

Doc White Has the Seal Batsmen Standing on Their Heads and in the Meanwhile Chappie Charles and Various Other Members of Del Howard's Aggregation Mess Up the Fielding End of It.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Eleven thousand San Francisco fans crammed themselves into Recreation Park this afternoon, ready to give the Seals their moral support.

Practically that same number of bugs and buggettes just faded out of sight from the seventh inning on, with murder in their hearts and all sorts of grievances against the San Francisco team. What wasn't said of the Seals would not be worth saying.

San Francisco, ordinarily a winner on opening day, if at no other time during the season, was disgracefully routed by the Venice Tigers with a final score of 9 to 1.

It would be of little use trying to make excuses for the Seals, and what's more, after their performance, they don't deserve to be shielded.

Chiefly, it was a case of too much Doc White. The veteran southpaw mixed 'em up in shooting the ball across the plate and while he was showing a change of pace in mound, Chappie Charles was messing things up in grand style out in center field, with others of his team-mates, too numerous to mention, assisting him, as if they had been delegated to just such a task.

White's assortment of curves was quite enough to have taken the heart out of any club, for despite the hits that came to the San Franciscans, they couldn't get the needed runs across the plate.

M'GRAW KNOCKED OUT, IS AVENGED BY ART FLETCHER

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) March 31.—An encounter between Manager McGraw of the New York Giants and Manager Pat Newman of the local club caused much excitement when the Giants took the field today for practice.

Newman, who had some words with McGraw and Snodgrass during yesterday's game, assaulted the New York manager as he entered the field and knocked him out with one blow which McGraw claims was delivered without warning. As he sank down, Arthur Fletcher, who was alongside, struck Newman and knocked him into a box. Dick Kinsella went to McGraw's aid, but was threatened by Davis and it looked as if the trouble would be serious. The Houston players gathered around Newman with their bats, but cooler heads prevailed and there was no further trouble.

McGraw was quickly revived and as he had a badly cut upper lip he went back to the hotel where a physician closed the cut with court plaster. He returned to the field and appeared on the coaching lines several times during the game.

ANGELS OVERWHELMED BY THE OAKLAND CLUB.

Score Eight Runs in Fourth Inning, When Chech Is Driven to Cover—Perritt Is Sent to Rescue and Is Followed by Love—Geyer Holds Local Club to Five Hits. Murphy a New Star.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

THE Coast League season opened here yesterday. The day was ideal; there was a large parade, a crowd of some dimensions, and quite a little excitement.

There was only one thing lacking, and that was a little real baseball. In every other way the opening was a huge success.

Ft. Los Angeles, fired upon by Oakland's roving club, today stands riddled, punctured, perforated, its trained garrison badly bunged up, after having been utterly put to rout in the most disastrous opening-day engagement ever fought in the South.

GOOD CROWD.

Eight thousand people—some of whom stayed to the finish—saw Arthur Devlin's Devils—can't figure 'em as anything else—overwhelm the Angels, bury them under an avalanche of runs for a score which stood 12 to 2 at the finish.

After the spring exhibitions we thought that we knew the meaning of real suffering, but the Goof games were nothing like this.

It was an opening day with all joy extracted.

The Los Angeles pitchers crumpled absolutely under the Oakland attack. Three of them were thrown into the breach, the Devils drilling out a total of seventeen hits.

Charley Chech, groomed for the occasion, and trained to the minute, was driven to the ice box as early as the fourth round, when Oakland blasted out eight runs, utterly obliterating the two-tally lead which the Angels had taken in the third.

PERRITT YANKED.

"Poll" Perritt, sent in to save a cause already beyond redemption, was ripped from the cast in the seventh to make way for a pinch hitter, after having been hit for two runs. "Slim" Love was permitted to work the last two innings, presumably because he needs the experience.

The big mistake was in not permitting Chief Sebastian, who threw the first ball, to pitch the entire game.

Dillon used every device known to the game to mitigate the disaster, but nothing would prevail against the Oakland bludgeon.

Against the pitching of "Rube" Geyer the Angels were helpless except in the third inning, when they bunched two of their five hits. Geyer is from St. Louis. He was forced to leave that city. The charge against him was that of being a real pitcher.

MURPHY SHINES.

Geyer was given good backing, but one of the two errors back of him figuring in the result. However, his greatest helpmate was Bob Murphy, an utter stranger in this part. This bird scored two runs, rapped out three hits, stole three bases, including the plate, and handled everything that came within three rods of second base, for a total of thirteen chances with nary a slip. Murphy, they say, comes from Norfolk. Didn't know they grew them like that down there.

At the witching hour of 2:36 Chief of Police Sebastian, substituting for Mayor Rose, threw the first ball, with Mayor Holbrook behind the bat. The Chief was so unsuccessful that he was requested to try again. This time he hit Tom Darmody, master of ceremonies, who thought himself out of the danger zone. Mr. Sebastian then settled down and fanned Quinlan. This didn't count, however, Devlin claiming that Sebastian is a "ringer."

Charley Chech then took the ball and used it for the purpose of fanning Quinlan again. Middleton flied to Ellis. Chech then picked off Kaylor on strikes, whereupon the crowd rose up and remarked that Oakland seemed to be outclassed.

NOTHING DOING.

Maggert opened for the Angels with a warm one that Murphy smothered in his glove and fired to first ahead of Harl. Moore drew a pass, half of the entire number issued by Geyer. Harry Wolter flied to Quinlan. With Page up, Moore started for

HIGGINBOTHAM IS WOLF TAMER.

Has to Work Hard, but Shines in Pinches.

Al Klawitter Is Hit With Some Freedom.

Walter Doane Hangs Up First Home Run.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—Irve Higginbotham spilled first blood in the 1914 edition of his grudge against Dutch Klawitter when the Portland champions romped away with the Sacramento Wolves, 8 to 1, in the opening game of the Pacific Coast League season.

But there was a doubtful satisfaction for Hig in the victory, for one wonders whether to rate him as lucky or as the hardest-worked slabster in seven counties. The Wolves were well-nigh helpless before the Beaver slabster, but if Higginbotham has to work as hard as he did today to win his games this season, he will not be of much value to Walter McCredie, for he would hardly be able to work more than one game a week.

NEAR SHUT-OUT.

It was opening day. Approximately 6000 Sacramento fans turned out to welcome the 1914 season. Three walks in a row followed by a single chased over one Wolf run in the eighth and saved them the ignominy of a shut-out defeat for the opening day.

There were only two innings in which Higginbotham was not in trouble. In the other seven frames the Wolves put seventeen men on the paths, and from the first inning they played a waiting game, making Higginbotham pitch an average of about five balls to every one of the thirty-nine batters who faced him. Twice the Wolves filled the bases, but could squeeze only one man across. In five innings the first man up for the Wolves got on the paths, but in the pinches they could do nothing, for Higginbotham then mysteriously located the plate, and eight of his nine strike-outs were hung up with men on the bags, when a clean hit would have meant a certain score.

SPEEDY START.

Walter Doane started the season after Gov. Johnson's pitch had fallen short of the plate by about two feet, by drawing a walk. Davis popped up to Forrest; Rodgers beat out a slow one to Hallinan, and Buddy Ryan celebrated his return to the Coast League circles by driving in a run on his first time up, his single to center scoring Doane from second. Kores followed with a single off the right-field boards, and when Forrest threw high to Hannah on the relay from Moran, Rodgers and Ryan ambled over the plate. Again in the fourth an error gave the Beavers a score when Lober singled, stole second on a wild pitch, and scored on Fisher's single into left when Hallinan threw low to Hannah on the relay from Schweitzer.

Bobby Davis started the trouble again in the eighth with a single to right, making third on Ryan's double off the right-field fence. Young threw out Davis at the plate on Kores' grounder, but Lober drew a walk and Derrick's second double, this time down the left-field line, chased over Ryan and Kores with two more runs.

A HOMER.

With one gone in the ninth Walter Doane rang up first home run of the season, when he lifted one over the right-field fence. A walk to Davis, Rodgers's single, and Ryan's sacrifice fly to Shinn added another to the ninth-inning toll.

In the meantime the Wolves had had twice as many chances as the Beavers to score, but each time they bowed to the pitching of Higginbotham. Two singles and a walk were bunched in the first inning, but Shinn was nailed at third on Forrest's intended sacrifice, and Deacon Van Buren sent Pep Young to his death at the plate when he tried to score from Tennant's single out in Lober's territory.

A walk and two infield hits filled the sacks for the Wolves in the second, but Young closed the inning by fanning. Two more men walked in the third, but there was nary a hit, and Moran and Hallinan fanned. Tennant doubled to left with two gone in the fifth, but Lober made a great catch in foul territory of Moran's high one, ending the inning. In the sixth Schweitzer led off with a walk and took second on Hallinan's single. But with two men on and none out, Higginbotham fanned Hannah and Klawitter, and Shinn flied to Ryan. Young beat out a bunt to start the seventh, but Forrest, Tennant and Moran could not get the ball out of the infield.

Three walks in a row to Hallinan, Hannah and Klawitter, with one out in the eighth, were all that saved the Wolves from a shut-out. Shinn fanned, but Young poked a single into left, scoring Hallinan. Ty Lober made a great one-hand pick-up of the drive that held Hannah to third, preventing more than one run. Forrest ended the inning with the bases still full by forcing Young at second.

PENNIES FOR OLYMPIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Forty-one pounds of pennies, totalling $60.69, have been donated to the Amateur Athletic Union by Chicago children to aid in financing the American Olympic team that will go to Berlin in 1916, it was announced today. The pennies were collected at city playgrounds.

SERAPHS PLAYED BEST BALL IN FATAL FOURTH.

BY ARTHUR ("Tillie") SHAFER,
Late of the New York Giants.

Art Shafer.

DILLON'S men showed more real baseball in the opening game of the Coast League season here yesterday afternoon than Devlin's Oakland club, and in the fourth inning, when Oakland scored eight runs and the fans began to leave the stands, Los Angeles played her best brand of baseball.

The breaks were all against Los Angeles, while Oakland got the advantage in many tight places. The Los Angeles players did not get the opportunities that fell to Devlin's crew, but there were many clever plays made by the losers which meant nothing, as they came at a time when their efforts were of little avail.

Los Angeles started off all right and in the third inning took a lead that was thought to be but the beginning. It was the beginning, but not the kind desired by the Los Angeles fans. Chech was located for a string of hits, but the Angels did not blow up nor did they deliberately quit.

After Murphy drew a walk, with Gardner on, Chech seemed over-anxious and it was then that he gave Cook an infield hit by playing a bunt on the foul line that would have almost certainly gone foul if the pitcher had not grabbed it off the chalk mark. The Oakland boys were able to land for another string of hits before Chech was pulled and Perritt put in. Moore made a bad throw to the plate to cut off Alexander, but a dozen throws just as bad were made during the game which went unnoticed as they were handled on the receiving end.

In the fifth Johnson, the Los Angeles shortstop, made one of the prettiest plays I ever saw. Alexander rapped out what looked like a sure hit and it was a hundred-to-one shot against Johnson, but he climbed into the air and flagged the hit with a clever piece of robbery.

Maggert made a spectacular play in the outfield in the seventh which was not to be passed up without notice. With the bases crowded with Oaklanders, Middleton hit one out to left center which should have been good for about three bases, but there was too much Maggert and but one score was put over on the sacrifice hit.

Dillon has a good club and the team should play great ball in the Coast League. The poor start should not be taken as a line on the club. It was one of the freakiest games I ever saw, and Los Angeles lost everything from shoe strings up, but Dillon's men did show real baseball and they will hold their own, I really believe, during the season.

AMERICAN TRACK STARS RETURN FROM ANTIPODES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—With four Australasian and seventeen State records to their credit, the four athletes comprising the all-American track team arrived here today on the steamer Wilhelmina, in perfect condition and ready to compete again in ten days. Although the men participated in twenty-one field days during a thirteen weeks' tour of the Antipodes, and did their own training and conditioning, they declared they felt as fresh as when they started.

Among the records brought home was one in the mile run made by James A. Power of the Boston Athletic Association the day before the team left for America. Running on a grass track, with an extra yard tacked on to each lap, Power covered the distance in 4m. 18 2-5s., breaking Alfred Shrub's mark of nine years' standing. This is said to be the best time for the distance ever made by an American athlete on foreign soil, and is significant because of Power's difficulty in getting into form earlier in the tour.

TEAM CHAMPS.

Aside from the individual performances, the Americans won the team championships of Australasia and New South Wales. In the latter meet they won seven of the twelve events in which they started and placed in all the rest of the events.

Reginald Caughey of the Ukiah (Cal.) High School broke the Australasian shot-put record several times during the thirteen weeks, his best mark standing 45ft. ¼in.

Owing to a recent operation for water on the knee, he could not uphold his end in the hammer throw.

George Parker of the Stockton (Cal.) High School not only made an Australasian record of 11 4-5s. in the 120-yard dash, but he took one and one-fifth seconds off the New Zealand quarter-mile record, setting a new mark of 49 1-5s.

Ruric Templeton of Stanford University put the Australasian pole-vault record up to 11ft. 6½in.

FINE RECORD.

But even greater than the achievement of setting so many new records, declared the athletes, was the healthy respect for American sportsmanship which they created abroad. At the farewell reception given them at Wellington, N.S.W., they were commended warmly by W. J. Talbot, secretary of the New Zealand Athletic Union, for the new viewpoint of American athletics which they had developed.

A Reception Committee, representing various athletic organizations of California, met the steamer today, and will give a banquet to the team tonight at the Olympic Club.

Parker, Templeton and Caughey will be seen in action at the University of California, April 11, when they will wear the "Winged O" of the Olympic Club against the university men. Power leaves for Boston Sunday.

FRASER HALE TO GOLF IN ENGLAND.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Fraser Hale, who held the western interscholastic golf championship in 1910 and 1911, announced today he would sail for Liverpool about April 15 to take part in the British amateur golf championship tournament at Sandwich, Kent, May 18 to 23.

Hale is 21 years of age and is rated as one of the best players of the younger school in the West. Charles (Chick) Evans, Jr., may take part in the British championship, but he has not yet come to a decision.

LITIGATION OVER KILLIFER CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DETROIT, March 31.—Samuel M. Clement, Jr., of Philadelphia, one of the attorneys for the Federal League in the Federal Court proceedings to restrain William J. Killifer, Jr., formerly catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, from playing baseball with any other than the Chicago Federals, announced today that the hearing in Grand Rapids on the injunction petition had been postponed from April 3 to April 4. The Federal League attorneys are in conference preparatory to the opening of the hearing.

ATHLETICS LOAF.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, March 31.—The world's champion Athletics had an easy time of it today in a game with the University of Pennsylvania at Shibe Park, winning, 14 to 4.

The American leaguers hit the ball to all parts of the field and took a long lead early in the game. Score:

Pennsylvania, 4; hits, 6; errors, 5.
Philadelphia, 14; hits, 15; errors, 1.
Batteries — Balient, Weed and Schwert; Bush, Durning and Schang, Lapp.

TIGERS SHINE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) March 31.—The Detroit Americans won a brilliantly-fielded game from Chattanooga, Southern League team today, 1 to 0. Score:

Chattanooga, 0; hits, 3; errors, 1.
Detroit, 1; hits, 4; errors, 1.
Batteries—Sline, Turner and Ostondorf and Graham, Street; Covaleski, Main and Stanage, Baker.

On the Courts.

U.S.C. WOMEN PLAYERS ARE BEATEN BY STANFORD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PALO ALTO (Cal.) March 31.—University of Southern California women tennis players lost to the Stanford co-eds in the intercollegiate tournament just finished today, taking two of the six matches.

Miss Lillian Kingcade, who played the most finished game of the southerners and who has played against Stanford for three successive years, was not in practice, her recent playing being confined to that in the northern tournaments.

In yesterday's singles, Miss Kingcade lost to Maude Lowell of Alhambra, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5, and Agnes Wells (S.) defeated Mabel Newell (U.S.C.) 6-3, 6-2. Laura Herron (S.) and Maude Lowell (S.) won yesterday's doubles from Jessie Grieve (U.S.C.) and Lillian Kingcade (U.S.C.) 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Ellis (U.S.C.) playing a steady game, won today from Helen Batcheller (S.) of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-4. Laura Herron (S.) defeated Jessie Grieve (U.S.C. 6-2, 6-2. Today's doubles went to the southerners, Miss Grieve and Mrs. Ellis defeating Misses Wells and Batcheller, 6-4, 6-2.

Gossip.

WILLIAMS GIVES SOME SIDELIGHTS ON OPENER.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

PROBABLY one of the most interested spectators at yesterday's game was Charley Reilly.

Reilly's thoughts doubtless went back to another opening day fourteen years ago. He was at third base for the Angels in that game, the contest marking the advent of Los Angeles into the old California League. On that occasion, as yesterday, Oakland was the opposing club.

But every Oakland player of that day has disappeared from the Coast League. Among them were "Pete" Lohman, "Doc" Moskiman, Jule Streib, "Buck" Franks, Percy Held, Bill Dunleavy and others who are still remembered by the old-timers.

Opposed to these were Oscar Jones, Heinie Spies, Hutchinson, Brockoff, Reilly, Kelly, Bowman, Householder and Swindells. All of these, with the exception of Jones, have been strangers to box scores tor quite a spell now.

Yesterdays' game gave no definite line on the respective strength of Los Angeles and Oakland. The Oaks, while doubtless an improved club, simply ran amuck with the bat. They caught the Angel pitchers out of form and made the most of the opportunity. Chech and Perritt do not figure to get handled that roughly three times in a season. Love broke in under most trying conditions, btu got by about as well as the older hands.

Bob Murphy, the newcomer who kicked up such a rumpus at the bat and around second base for Oakland yesterday, started playing professional ball with the Wilmington club of the Tri-State League in 1911. He played the outfield with that club until last year, when he was sold to the Norfolk club in the Virginia League. He was then switched to third base.

During the latter part of the 1913 season he hurt his leg, and was forced out of the game. Not hearing from the Norfolk club this spring when the contracts were issued, he signed with the White Sox. Callahan was notified by the national commission that Murphy was on Norfolk's suspension list, and that his contract with the Sox was not valid. Callahan waived all claim to him, and Devlin purchased him from Norfolk.

When The Times reporter interviewed Dillon after the game and asked if he had any statement to make, he replied:

Arthur Devlin, after the game, said: "The boys were hustling all the time and speed was their by-word. They had the Angels all crossed up. When Dillon's men expected a bunt my boys hit and when they expected a bunt a hit resulted. I am always pleased when the team wins, but it was certainly great to see the boys out there today playing big-league ball. They are in great shape, on their toes and full of pep and fight. They pulled a lot of plays that would have won a close game. I do not claim a pennant on the showing in the first game, but I do claim that the Oakland team will give them all a battle for every game this season and they will be in there fighting until the last man is out.

JOE WELLING TOO GOOD A SCRAPPER FOR PICATO.

Was Too Big and Strong for the Local Boy and Not Only Outboxed Him at Long Range, but Had Him at His Mercy in the Clinches—Ketchel Beats Dalton in Red-Hot Slugging Match.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

JOE WELLING won a decision over Dave (Babe) Picato last night at the Vernon Arena after twenty rounds of the fastest boxing, slugging and infighting ever seen at that famous place.

Welling towered over Babe to such an extent that the local boy had little chance at long range and none at all at close work in the clinches.

Much to the surprise of his friends and backers, Welling did the most damage at close work. He outreached Picato by several inches and proved very powerful in his arms. In the clinches he tied Babe in knots and the game little Italian was almost helpless.

He set an exceptionally fast pace from the first gong until the fifteenth, when he let up a little. Many of his backers were very uneasy at the start for fear he would blow up and loose out in the end.

He was by far the harder hitter and Dave seldom landed his many well-intended rights for Joe's jaw, he was so clever at turning and ducking his head out of danger.

The many long clinches took a lot away from the clever work done by both boys, and as the end approached Picato was quite willing to hold them as long as he could.

USED HIS RIGHT.

Joe started right in in the first round and landed many short but punishing right uppercuts in the clinches, and kept his right mitt working overtime at this kind of hitting.

Each landed many body blows and left-hand swings, but the force of them told more on Babe than Joe.

Welling has learned a lot of the Clabby tricks in the short time he boxed with the middleweight, and he put them to good use whenever the opportunity offered.

There was many a slugging match during the twenty rounds, but Joe always came out on top.

Near the end of the contest Babe became very wild, and in one round was hit squarely in the pit of the stomach so hard that it knocked his wind out and he claimed a foul, which was not allowed by Eyton, the referee.

Both weighed at the required weight and entered the ring in perfect condition. Welling left the ring without a mark and Babe with a slightly cut lip, proving conclusively their prime condition.

Picato was first to enter the ring and took the southwest corner and was quickly followed by Welling, who took the northeast. Picato was seconded by his trainer, Wilson, his brother, Charlie, Charlie Anslinger and Vic Hanson.

Welling had his manager, Larnie Lichenstein, Johnny Schiff, Joe Lewis, Harry Lee and Bill Laig in his corner. Each wore dark boxing trunks.

Before the contest started it was announced that Al Norton, who was introduced to the crowd, would meet Gunboat Smith in the Vernon arena some time next month.

FAST START.

In the first round it was quickly noticed that Welling towered over Picato and that he had all the physical advantages. They started off at a very fast pace for a twenty-round bout. Joe carried the boxing to Babe from the start and each landed many blows.

In the second round Joe crosscountered Picato hard and did good work with his long straight left-hand punch to the mouth, cutting Babe's lip.

The third round was noted for the many long clinches, in which Joe did great execution with short uppercuts that bothered Babe a lot.

The fourth round was a fast and even one with Joe showing up strong in the clinches and long-range work.

The fifth opened with a very long clinch, during which both tried hard, but it was always in Welling's favor at the finish. Still he did not get off without getting some punishment himself.

The sixth was Joe's by a big margin and he had it all over Babe in every way; Joe hit Picato in the stomach and knocked his wind out. He claimed a foul, but it was not allowed by Eyton and he continued.

The seventh was nearly the same and Joe beat Babe at everything he tried, but Babe was fighting gamely and trying hard.

The eighth was slower.

The ninth was another very fast round and Picato did better in this than any round of the contest. They both set a fast clip, first one and then the other taking the lead.

DOES DAMAGE.

Welling nearly stopped Picato in the eleventh round with body blows, but did not seem to realize the damage he was doing and failed to take advantage of it.

In the twelfth they boxed much slower, evidently each willing to take a rest.

The thirteenth was Welling's best, as he boxed in great style and form, also appeared too strong for Picato in every way.

Welling made Babe miss a lot with both hands in the fourteenth round and Picato was tiring while Joe appeared stronger.

The fifteenth was another Welling round, his strength and cleverness being apparent to all.

Babe dazed Joe near the end of the sixteenth round with several lefts and rights to the face and body, but Welling rallied and walked to his corner at the bell, much the fresher of the two.

The seventeenth was like the sixteenth in every way and Joe ran to his corner after the bell rang.

The eighteenth was slower than the previous rounds and both were waiting to make a strong finish.

The nineteenth was all Welling and he knocked Babe against the ropes and had him in a bad way.

WELLING WINS.

They started the twentieth with several long clinches and Babe was holding as long as he could. Welling had his hand raised by Eyton as the victor.

The first preliminary between Johnny Conley and Red Dwyer was called a draw after four rounds of slugging. The judges called it a draw but many thought the red-top won.

The semi-ten-round wind-up between Charlie Dalton and Steve Ketchel was won by Ketchel at the end of ten rounds of slugging. Neither would back up and they started to fight for the body from the start. Ketchel won the majority of the rounds. The first was even, the second went to Steve, the third, fourth, fifth and sixth were slugging matches from start to finish, with honors even. The seventh went to Ketchel, as did the eighth and ninth. The tenth was the fastest of all and they broke even, altough Dalton appeared the stronger at the finish.

STANFORD TO PLAY L.A.A.C. THURSDAY.

Stanford University's whirlwind basketball team will land in our midst tomorrow night when they tackle the L.A.A.C. five at the club gym. This will be the first appearance of a Stanford team in the south this spring and a large crowd of the alumni will be there to help the Cards to pull out a win over the fast club team.

The game will start promptly at 8 o'clock and the general public will be admitted. Ladies will be admitted, as Thursday is ladies' night at the club. The line-up:

L.A.A.C.	Pos.	Stanford
Elkeles	forward	Blodget
Starbuck	forward	Worthy
Hayward	center	Dutton
Slaughter	guard	Farrar
Golding	guard	Reynolds

YACHT RESOLUTE NEARLY FINISHED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BRISTOL (R. I.) March 31.—A score of electric polishing buffers were set to work today on the finishing touches of the cup defense yacht Resolute.

In the building here of five other metal cup yachts, the Vigilant, Defender, Columbia, Constitution and Reliance, the under body polishing was done by hand and a fair surface resulted. Electric buffers are expected to develop a polish which one of the workmen said would make an eelskin look rough in comparison. The polishing probably will be finished by the end of the week and ten or twelve days will be necessary to put the yacht in complete shape for the launching, scheduled for April 17.

SENATORS SMEARED.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The Washington Americans were blanked 4 to 0, today, by the Brooklyn Nationals, in their first defeat of the season. Score:

Washington, 0; hits, 6; errors, 4.
Brooklyn, 4; hits, 6; errors, 2.
Batteries—Ayres, Williams, Bentley and Henry, Ainsmith; Ragon, Pfeffer and Fisher.

GREGG TO SPOKANE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) March 30.—David Gregg, who was with the Portland Coast League baseball club in 1911 and 1912, and who subsequently was sold to the Cleveland Americans, will join the pitching staff of the Spokane club in the Northwestern League this season, according to newspaper advices received here tonight. Gregg has been sent here subject to recall.

Bob Murphy, the sensation.

This young man is caught by the photographer in the act of stealing home, Catcher Hoffman on the left is running after the ball. Murphy scored two runs, got three hits, four putouts, nine assists and three stolen bases. Pretty good for a busher.

Angels Overwhelmed.

second, Geyer served up a wide one and Charley was pegged out by Alexander.

Ellis made a neat running catch of Gardner's fly in the second, and Murphy was retired on Metzger's brilliant assist, George fielding the throw back of third. Right here Oakland's tendency to hit the ball cropped out. Pete Cook smashed a clean single to left. With Johnson going over to cover, "Gasoline Gus" Hetling hit the ball right through where Ernie had been standing. Ellis, coming in like a Kiviat, observed Cook trying to go from first to third on the hit, and nailed him with a fine peg to Metzger.

Page led off for the Angels with a walk in the second. Ellis bunted, and Geyer forced Billy at second. Johnson shot the ball into right on a line for the first Angel hit, Metzger forcing him at second on a grounder to Murphy. Boles was thrown out by Hetling.

ERNIE SLIPS.

With two men down in the third, Quinlan drove to Johnson. It was a hard chance, and Ernie proved unequal to the occasion. No harm came of it, Ellis strangling Middleton's fly.

This brings us down to the one rosy inning of the entire nine. After Chech had flied to Kaylor, Maggert leveled a clean single to right. Moore dashed one down to Hetling. Not until this happened did we suspect that "Rube" Gardner is a professional high jumper. Otherwise he would have been unable to touch Gus's throw. As it was, he managed to block it slightly. Thus he was enabled to recover it in time to hold Maggert at third. Wolter pushed Gardner back into right field with a high bounder, and beat Geyer, who was going over to cover, Maggert scoring. Moore advanced to third, and scored on Page's well-placed grounder to Murphy, who tossed Billy out at first. Ellis fouled to Alexander. Again, it was remarked that Oakland seemed to be outclassed.

Having stalled along as far as possible, we will now summon our remaining strength and rush blindly in the fourth.

THE SLAUGHTER.

Ted Kaylor came up first looking harmless-like, and then fooled 'em by hitting to left. Ted stole second, causing much pained surprise. "Rube" Gardner, crouching at the plate in an imposing and left-handed manner, crashed a single just inside first, and Kaylor pranced home with Oakland's first run. Murphy walked. Cook bunted down the third base line. It rolled foul, Chech, bending over and studying the ball minutely, made a grab for it, but it rolled fair just as he touched it. This was too late to make any kind of a play, and Charley on looking up was mortified to find the bases full.

Hetling smacked a single to left, delivering Gardner and Murphy in a lump, and depositing Cook at second. The place was filled with consternation and cuss words. Alexander bunted, and Chech fumbled. This loaded the bases a second time. Geyer tried to poke one just over the infield, but Johnson went up and pulled it down. That an Oakland batter should be retired provoked mighty applause.

Thus the inning had worked around to the top of the batting order. With the infield playing close in, Quinlan bounched the ball over Chech and into center field, Cook and Hetling scoring. Dillon whistled. Chech, his ears pricked up to catch some such invitation for the last ten minutes, turned the ball over to Perritt, advising "Poll" to be careful lest it explode.

SOMETHING NEW.

This was a new experience for Chech. During his long career opening games have been his specialty, but this is the first time that he ever was driven to cover in one of them.

Perritt opined that it was asking a good deal of a man to stop such a well-developed rampage, but promised to do the best he could.

He pursued what appeared to be the safest course, and passed Middleton. Thus, for the third time, the bases found themselves in condition to be cleaned. Kaylor, up for a second helping, drove to Moore. The stage was set for a double that would have retired the side, but Charley's throw to the plate was low and shot past Boles, Alexander scoring. Gardner here stepped in with his second hit of the inning, a single past first that scored Quinlan and Middleton and put Kaylor on third. Murphy fanned, and Cook jammed Gardner into a forceout, Page to Johnson, for the big retirement. The end of this round found the fans dumfounded, transfixed and tongue-tied.

The Oaks finished with their tongues hanging out, and were harmless in the fifth, but three of them facing Perritt. Johnson's one-handed stab of Alexander's high line drive in this inning was the stellar fielding stunt up to that exact moment.

Perritt started the sixth by fanning Quinlan. Then there was a renewal of thumping. Middleton doubled to center, and counted when Kaylor planted the same kind of a blow in left. Gardner succumbed to strikes. Murphy beat out a bounder that was even too high for Perritt to block completely, and stole second. Page and Moore elided Cook. This was the last seen of "Poll," he retiring in the second half along with Boles to make way for a flock of pinchers.

But six of our people went to the plate in the third and fourth, the same being a delicate way of saying that no one reached first base.

In the sixth, however, there was a mild upheaval, but it petered out when Bill Page reached third base. Bill doubled with one out. Ellis drove to Gardner, and collided with Geyer, who made the putout at first. Both "Rubes" were injured, our "Rube" not only spraining his ankle, but spiking the other "Rube's" foot. The other "Rube" tied up his shoe and went on with the game, while our "Rube" was helped to the infirmary. Page went to third on this accident, and was still there when Johnson popped to the ubiquitous Murphy party.

The seventh found "Slim," or Haughton Love, on the mound, Dutch Haughton behind the bat and Harry Harper, the best ball player produced by San Jose in the past two years, out in left field.

LOVE IN TROUBLE.

Hetling was the first man up. Johnson booted Gus's grounder, and Haughton became convinced that no one cares for him. This agitated him into walking Alexander. Geyer fanned. Quinlan filled the bases with a hit to left. Maggert raced into deep center, making a great catch of a fly from Middleton's bat that had one of those hums peculiar to home runs. Hetling counted after the catch. Kaylor bunted to Metzger. Although there was no chance to get Kaylor, Metzger made a bluff at throwing to first, and then whirled as though to throw to second or third. His bluff to first was for the purpose of drawing Alexander and Quinlan off their bases. Although this failed, it was the best kind of baseball. A lot of geese in the grand stand, not realizing what was up, showed their ignorance by booing. Gardner wound up the rallyette with a line fly to Page.

Murphy became perniciously active again in the eighth. He blasted open this act with a single, and stole second. Cook's sacrifice put him on third. Robert then showed his utter contempt for the plate by stealing it. The sight of Bob coming down the line so excited Love that he almost knocked down the grand stand. Under the devised scoring code, Murphy gets credit for a stolen base and Love is charged with a wild pitch.

Hetling then hit the ball so hard that it rebounded from Love's glove clear back to Hoffman. "Dutch" almost had time to throw Gus out at first, but not quite. A passed ball put Hetling on second, and Alexander brought him around with a double to left. Geyer dumped one down to Love. Haughton turned and threw to second, the object of said throw being wholly unknown. This enabled Alexander to reach third without any difficulty whatsoever. Quinlan popped to Johnson and Middleton grounded to Page.

By the ninth, Oakland had calmed down again. It is true that Murphy singled in this inning, but he was kind enough to get caught off first.

ALMOST.

The Angels made their last visible effort in the seventh. Metzger, batting in his new left-handed manner, jumped up, shoved his left hand inconsidered this a fine excuse for showing off his new pinch-hitter, "Dad" Meek. "Dad," batting for Boles, hit the first ball that came up on a line toward right. Murphy jumped up, shoved his left hand into the air, and made an "impossible" catch, Metzger being doubled at first. That ball, friends, was headed straight for the tenth tier in the bleachers. This fellow Meek hits the ball just like the press notices said he did—right on the seam. Dillon then exhibited "Calvo," the "farthest west" Cuban. Jacinto, batting for Perritt, came to grief on a grounder to Murphy, but the way he hustled down to first leads us to opine that his middle name is "Speed."

Cook's error after two were out landed Johnson at first in the ninth. Ernie stole second without a show of protest by Alexander. Metzger dropped the curtain with a fly to Murphy.

Oh, well, what care we for the loss of one game when there are 214 more to be won.

BEARS BEAT TIGERS IN PUNK BASEBALL GAME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERKELEY, March 31.—"Oxy" fell into real trouble today when she hitched up with the California varsity nine. Errors and a lack of mound material tell the tale of the Occidental downfall, which came to a stop with a score of: California, 11; Occidental, 7.

Montijo, who graced the hillock for the first frame, allowed eight men to face him, four of whom scored. Ball took up the duty in the next inning, but without much greater success, for he was pounded for nine hits. Foster, to cap the climax, was charged with three passed balls.

Johnson used the stick for "Oxy" with a vengeance. His two-bagger in the fourth scored Allen, and in the sixth he drove into the centerfield for three bases, with two hands down. McKellar connected with the ball for a pop fly to Rubke, and Johnson, the first man to touch a sack during the inning, had to hunt the bench.

Both "Oxy" and the varsity seemed to have an off day. Dodge, California's first pitcher, blew up in the third inning, and was replaced by Chapman. Young lost his right-garden job to Eames in the fifth. Loose outfielding, combined with long drives into these suburbs, brought the fans into a condition of anaesthesia which was overcome only when McKellar executed a sensational one-hand catch of O'Hara's drive toward left. Much Class.

MANY NOTABLES PRESENT AT OPENING SLAUGHTER.

AFTER the parade was all over a big crowd of Los Angeles notables mustered around the turnstile for the opening game. There were brewers, authors, actors, politicians, fighters, automobile racing drivers, lawyers, doctors, famous ball players of other days and numerous other famous people, who could not resist the call of the grand old game.

Eddie Maier and Gene Doyle led the parade in Maier's Benz racer and they were about the first to take seats in the stands. Both eagerly scanned the distant score board for the results of the Venice-Frisco game up north. They were responsible for the wild yells that startled the crowd when Venice was credited with two runs in the first inning.

Hen Berry was there with numerous cigars and a cheery smile. Both the cigars and the smile gave out after Oakland scored eight runs in the fourth.

Chief Sebastian pitched the first ball and then sought the seclusion of the grand stand. Several times he started to climb on the field when the Oakland players stole a base or when Maggert robbed Middleton out of a hit. It was hard for the Chief to overlook this thievery in plain daylight.

Barney Oldfield and his cigar held sway in one of the boxes and Barney claimed that Murphy, the Oaks' second sacker, was faster than the Mercer he drove in the Vanderbilt races. Barney became so excited in the fourth that he punched the man next to him and yelled: "What lap is it?"

Al Jolson appeared on the scene as a regular reporter. All he lacked was a pencil and some paper. Al is a great admirer of Gen. Bill Sherman, but he admits that Bill never saw the fourth inning of yesterday's game or he would never have said: "War is hell."

"Yea, Bo" Van Loan heaved in sight and immediately started rooting for Oakland. Van demolished four hats, one suit of clothes and two seats during the fourth inning, when his favorites totaled their eight.

Art Shafer, Orvie Overall and Charles Riley, the first third sacker the Angels ever claimed, gave the baseball players a good representation. All three told how they used to do it and when three men got on the call of the game had the boys on edge.

Tom McCarey took in the game and Tom claimed that the Oaks are good scrappers, with a powerful punch in their bats.

Among other prominent men there were the following:

COBERLY DEFEATS KILLIAN AT END.

Coberly ended the scheduled games of both himself and Killian in Nelm's amateur three-cushion handicap tournament by beating Killian in 122 innings last night at the Brunswick, the scores standing at thirty-five points to twenty-two. Coberly made high run of three.

Both men are now finished and out of the running for any of the four prizes. Killian has won three games and lost four, while Coberly is credited with two wins and five losses. No player who loses four games can figure in the prize list.

Coe and Darling are to finish their schedules tonight, the former having won none and lost six, and Darling having equal scores of three won and three lost. Coe has already lost his chances of a prize, but he may pull Darling down into the lower division by winning this game. Otherwise Darling may have a chance at the lower prizes by figuring in a tie.

After tonight Chamberlain, Rose, Fanning and Renard will be left to complete their games and should settle their claims within a week.

Al Jolson, the comedian,
Is here seen writing his opinion of yesterday's alleged ball game for The Times.

Quit the Job.

JOLSON QUITS WHEN OAKS SHOVE OVER EIGHT RUNS.

"OAKLAND'S my home town. I can't stand it any longer. I resign on the spot." With these words, in the fourth inning of the opening game of the season between the Oaks and the Angels, Al Jolson, blackfaced comedian of "The Honeymaan Express," quit The Times sporting staff after one hour on the roster.

The score then stood 8 to 2 in favor of Oakland, said avalanche having tumbled on the bewildered Angels while Jolson was quitting.

"I just got to root for my home team," explained Jolson after the side was finally retired, "and I'm sure I can't put any local sentiment into the story. Me for the Oaks' corner of the bleachers, where I can holler mah haid off."

And with these few slighting remarks Jolson fled.

He balked, though, long before that, taking one blinking peek at the press gallery, high in the air and deserted.

FUNNY YARN.

"Reminds me of the little darkey who found himself all alone in a theater gallery one night during a thrilling melodrama. Right at the tensest moment the audience was startled to hear him howling.

"I'se scared to be up here all alone with all that gwine on down thah," bawled the pickaninny. "And that's how I'd feel up there in that press box of yours," concluded Al.

Everything was lovely till the second inning, when Cook of Oakland made the first hit of the year.

"Yow!" yellow Jolson, only to be smothered directly.

"Hist," whispered his companion, "you're in Los Angeles now, and you gotta root for the local team, or it will hurt your show. Besides, you're working for The Times."

Al choked and nodded. Anything but a comedian he looked as the Oaks walked runless to the bench.

He did his best to cheer and look cheerful when the Angels made their two tallies in the third, but there was no heart in his huzzas, and his mobile mouth, the puckerings of which have made millions merry, drooped like a spanked schoolboy's.

And then came the fatal fourth.

Be it said for Al that he tried to be game, and scowl, and look blue every time one of the Bay City stickmen swatted the elusive leather, but as the tallies piled up, not in ones and twos, but in flocks and droves, it was too much.

HIS DUTY.

Al Jolson's weekly salary is up in the four figures. It is his duty to fill the Majestic every night to earn said lucre. While in Los Angeles our city must be fairest, our girls prettiest—and our ball team the best. He is paid to have that view while he is in our town.

But did he? Did this newly-hired representative of The Times see his duty and do it?

He did not! All Jolson could see was the little ball rambling all over the lot and the Oaks wearing an ever-widening path across home plate.

Forgotten was duty, his theater, his role of sporting writer; everything but that his home team was winning.

"Gee, it looks good to me," he cried. "Reminds me of the Englishman who never saw a game before. He kept looking at the scoreboard on the back fence, and when, along about the seventh inning, someone asked him how the teams stood, he looked at the two rows of figures and replied: "I cawn't figure it out very jolly well, you know, but they are both well into the millions."

And then he resigned, and fled for the bleachers, where Charley Van Loan and all the rest of the iconoclasts love to sun themselves and forget duty and emoluments, and sporting editors, and root for the "home team" regardless of consequences.

Up and Down Broadway.

'PINOCHLE' ONLY GAME FOR THEM.

Burbank Fans Miss Fight and Ball Game.

Los Angeles Girl Wins Hand at Orpheum.

William Shakespeare Goes Into Discard.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

Baseball, boxing and—a rehearsal. No wonder there was little or no comedy at the Burbank yesterday. No wonder Jess Dandy tore the hair of Herr Adolph Phillip.

"Gus" confided in me that he would have torn his own, only he hasn't any.

For be it known that there is no greater bunch of fans in the city than said Burbank company, but "Auction Pinochle" simply has to go on Sunday, and Phillip wants to see it done right, before this happens.

Wherein lies a tragedy, for Adolph leaves nothing to the imagination, not even asparagus, whereas, the stock players seldom do anything at rehearsal that they do when the show is actually running. Heaven forbid.

So, instead of having the afternoon and evening off yesterday, to see the first game of the year, and go to the fight in the evening, Jess Dandy, Walter Lawrence, Forrest Stanley, Walter Catlett, Arthur Burckley and all the rest of the fans, not overlooking Beatrice Nichols, had to work—and were tickled to death.

By the way, didn't I mention or suggest a bald head a moment ago. Right away it should have suggested another which glittered at me the other night at the Orpheum.

It turned out to be Al Levy, cuisine impressario, and he was all fussed up because Madge Maitland was making a hit.

Naturally, I suspecetd a scandal, but it sems that Al started her in her career at his Third-and-Main-street place, and feels justified in patting himself on the back. "I discovered her," he claims. All of which shows that Al is in the Dr. Cook, Admiral Peary class.

Two nude domes in one day is enough, so I side-stepped by dropping into the Alphin to see what Charley was doing, and discovered Reece Gardner busy whipping the sirens into shape.

Charley tells me that the new venture will open Monday night, sure, and that matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday, and two shows nightly will be the vogue.

Pantages has been so quiet ever since Marcus Loew et al. have been gunning for a little time, that I went over there looking for crepe, only to find that they had captured Harry Girard for next week with "The Luck of the Totem."

I understand that the act has been greatly improved since it played the Orpheum, and it ought to make a hit in its new form.

Dr. Carver, world's greatest living rifle shot, and commander-in-chief of the wonderful diving horses now at the Hippodrome, has found that there is such a thing as doing a stunt too well.

"I train all my animals on sugar and kindness," he announced, and then whistled to Rover, who was to come out and make all other talking dogs look like dummies. But no dog appeared.

Carver stepped into the wings, and mutters could be heard. Then some wild yelps, and then some more. The audience began to murmur, and when Carver reappeared it hissed him roundly, and it might have been hissing yet had not Two Feathers, the little Indian girl, who dives on the horses' back, come romping onto the stage still yelping.

She is one of the greatest mimics of animals in the world, and Carver loves to fool audiences with her, but he confesses that it isn't the pleasantest thing in the world to be hissed, even though there is appreciative laughter in the end.

While I was hustling down to Harlow's for some tips on how to place my salary on the fight, I was buttonholed by Bill Schneider of the Bristol, who confided that he is now an impressario as well as manager.

Just to prove it, he tells me he has engaged the Masqueria Sisters, Eva Dowling and Nell Stewart. He declares they are all queens of hearts, and that he has placed them all under contract not to marry before July Fourth.

And now comes word that Sam Bernard and Gaby Deslys are to appear in the same production next season.

And while on the subject of next season's shows it is not amiss to mention that William Shakespeare will be temporarily shelved.

Sothern and Marlowe say they are through with him. William Faversham found him too costly, Forbes Robertson has decided to limit his repertoire to "Mice and Men" and "Antony and Cleopatra," "The Light that Failed" and "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." Robert Mantell is to have a new play. Margaret Anglin I have not heard from, but here's hoping.

Slightly Delayed.

MARIE LLOYD TO HAVE HONEYMOON AT BEACH.

A HONEYMOON so long delayed it's all dusty and moth-eaten, is that of Marie Lloyd and little Jockey Dillon, whose marriage was so rudely wished on 'em "directly" they'd set foot in this country.

There's no time for honeymoons in the two-a-days, but the refrigerated romance is to be taken out and dusted and made ready for instant use. Nat Goodwin has invited the Dillons to be his guests at Venice for a week immediately following Miss Lloyd's engagement at the Orpheum here. And Miss Lloyd says she's going to enjoy that honeymoon if she has to bust every contract she owns!

Miss Lloyd is a great swimmer. She says some day she's going to buy a desert island and bathe off the sunny side of it in the "altogether!" And right down at Venice she's going to warble her new songs down on the ocean's edge, as she "squidges" her toes in the sand and takes her morning dip at 5 g.m. For she says the salt air has a wonderfully invigorating effect on the voice, strengthening and clearing it, and so she's going to warble to the early mermaids, the seagulls and the "lark" car from Redondo.

Also Miss Lloyd has an experiment in dancing known as the "sand-dance," which she's going to practice down at Venice. So, if some early morn you chance to see a graceful mermaid dancing like "Fanchon the Cricket," or hear her caroling a thousand-dollar carol as she combs her hair down by the sad sea waves, don't try and tame her for a museum, because you couldn't afford her salary!

Also she will give dinner parties, and make the best dishes with her own fair hands! She loves to cook, and goes marketing every day. The Dillons live in a flat, and the Queen of Lunnon music halls confesses to bringing home the props for meals every morning. The other day she had so many baskets and bundles that she had to hire a taxi and it cost her $5. She has learned to cook "American" over here, but still prefers "a fine kidney pudding, some finnan haddie, a joint, an apple tart, and a tankard of port." Also a dish of tea.

In between the "ootsie-tootsies" and bunny hugs in such case provided, Miss Lloyd will design her costumes and make her hats for her new songs. For—did you know—she makes all those stunning hats which she wears in her act?

And once back in London, she declares she is going to open a millinery shop, for she is famous as a hat maker. It's a passion with her, making hats; in fact, "a mad hatter" she declares herself!

The Dope.

WINNING OPENING GAME DOESN'T CINCH PENNANT.

BY ERNEST J. LANIGAN.
[SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION.]

BASEBALL dope is a very peculiar thing. Looking over the major league openings for the last ten years, one finds that the Pirates, who in this time have won only one flag, have landed eight of their opening controversies, and so have the Braves, who generally have finished way down in the ruck. The Naps, also non-pennant winners, have done splendidly at the kick-off, capturing seven contests.

The White Elephants, with a record of four pennants in ten years, have broken away in front just six times, and the Giants, who have annexed five gonfalons, have had only an even split in their pry-off combats. The McGrawites, moreover, have been blanked on opening day on four occasions. Six times have the Cardinals had to be content with one tally in their first championship contests.

Star pitchers do not always fare well when real hostilities commence. Cy Young was the twirler for the Boston Red Sox in four of their openers and he was bracketed only once. Joe Wood's record on getaway day shows one victory, two defeats and one tie. Nap Rucker has gone down to defeat three times when the championship lid was lifted, and only once has led the Superbas to a triumph in an opening game. It was when G. Napoleon was operating on the mound, in 1912, that the Giants set a modern record for runs on the first day of the season by accumulating eighteen.

A luckless individual at the start of the campaigns has been Arthur Fromme of the Giants. He worked in three openers for the Reds and one for the Cardinals, and defeat was his portion on each occasion.

Irving Melrose Young (Cy II) was delegated three times while with the Braves to pitch the opening battle and on all three occasions he came through with wins. Once he let his opponents down with a safety. That trick also has been turned on opening day by Walter Johnson, the Chalmers car winner last season; Frank Paderewski Smith, and George Mullin.

Johnson has won two of the three games he has pitched on opening day. So have Jack Coombs, Eddie Plank, Howard Camnitz, Addie Joss and Jeff Overall. Christy Mathewson copped both of the pry-off contests in which he toiled, as did "Babe" Adams.

These figures show the way the major league clubs have fared on the opening days of the last ten years and the number of runs they have acquired:

Clubs—	Won.	Lost.	Tied.	P.c.	Runs.
Pirates	8	2	0	.800	53
Braves	8	2	0	.800	44
Naps	7	3	0	.700	38

FEDS SIGN UMP FROM THE BUSHES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Ed Goeckel was added to the Federal League staff of umpires today by President Gilmore, making nine arbitrators. Goeckel made a good reputation on local semi-professional diamonds last year.

R. B. Ward, president of the Brooklyn Federals, is expected in Chicago tomorrow to settle with President Weeghman of the local club the disposal of Pitcher Tom Seaton. No difficulty is expected in arranging the dispute, according to Gilmore.

President Thomas of the Chicago Nationals, over the telephone today, learned from Charles P. Taft at Cincinnati that no bid for the Cub stock had been received by the latter from Herbert S. Mills of Chicago.

MOTORBIKE MARK IS AT STAKE.

SEVERAL STARS TO TRY FOR IT AT PHOENIX.

E. G. Baker, Holder of the Record, and Don Johns of Los Angeles Are the Principal Competitors—Plans on Foot for a Motorcycle Race from Los Angeles to Phoenix.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 30.—The 100-mile dirt-track record for stock motorcycles, established by E. G. Baker, now of Phoenix, at Indianapolis last September, will be attacked on the State Fair mile oval track in this city next Sunday. It was to have been tackled yesterday, but the elements forbade, the track being transformed in a half-hour into better shape for motor boating.

The central figures in this century grind are to be Baker himself and Don Johns, the Los Angeles Excelsior exponent, who is here already, and who will remain till he has a race. For the same race are about a dozen other entries, all of local men, including Boldo, the youthful star, who came in within the money on the November San Diego-Phoenix motorcycle race.

The race is promoted by the Phoenix Motorcycle Club, affiliated with the Federation of American Motorcyclists. This club has some large plans for the future. It will put on a half-dozen contests this year, but especially has in view the scheme of starting from Los Angeles, instead of San Diego, next fall's great motorcycle desert race.

The funds raised in the preliminaries are to be kept sacred for use in the desert race, and the club proposes to "go broke" or make the contest the greatest thing of the kind that ever has occurred in motorcycle circles.

Last year's race was won by Paul Derkum of Los Angeles. Baker got wrecked in the Mammoth Wash at that time. He doesn't propose to go again this year on two wheels, but will take a high-grade racing automobile into the Los Angeles-Phoenix contest.

On May 3 Baker will leave either Los Angeles or San Diego eastward bound, on an Indian motorcycle, with the intention of beating the present transcontinental motorcycle record of twenty days, made between San Francisco and New York. His route will be over 3300 miles long, by way of Phoenix, Springerville, Albuquerque and the Santa Fe trail. Sanction for this event already has been given by Secretary Donovan of the Competition Committee of the F.A.M., being the first of the kind ever issued by the federation.

Good Times and the Business Ducking
Editorial
By Judge Elbert H. Gary
Chairman of the Board of Directors
United States Steel Corporation

Our editorial page has become standard. It is devoted to sane views of important questions handled by the most prominent authorities. Judge Gary, whose fingers are continually on the pulse of our nation, is perhaps better equipped than any other man to speak on matters of vital importance. He tells why our business prosperity is so frequently and seriously interrupted — why, with our great and growing wealth, our resources and superior advantages, we are not more continuously prosperous—and more WHYS.

The Great Serial the Prince of Graustark
By George Barr McCutcheon
Illustrated by R. F. Schabelitz

The preceding installments were highly amusing, but they were only preliminaries. The real fun commences in the installment to be published in this issue. The undaunted and self-satisfied Blithers is literally shaking hands with himself. He has thrown out a gilded net and to him Prince Robin of Graustark is as good as landed. He plans a wonderful ball in honor of the Prince, the novel feature of the evening to be a sparring match between two famous prize fighters. Everything is ermine and velvet in his mind—when the unlooked-for blow falls. Maud, his pride and joy, rebels and flatly refuses to meet the Prince. A "stunning" situation to the Blithers family. It leaves you impatient for the next installment.

The Invitation of the Sea
Prose Poem
By Marguerite O. B. Wilkinson

Here might be the answer to "What Are the Sad Sea Waves Saying?" An invitation to partake of its strength-giving, evil-denying, bracing gifts; an invitation for the weary toiler, for the pompous rich, for the old, for lovers, for little children. Its inspiring message is like an invigorating dip in the sea.

Occult Phenomena and Common Sense
Article
By H. Addington Bruce
Illustrated by H. L. Drucklieb

Whether or not we believe in occultism, this weird and uncanny subject is always fascinating. We learn here that physical research has been useful to medical science, that hypnotism, crystal gazing, etc., have their value in bringing back health to victims of nervous breakdowns. Some things are also explained away that many of us have puzzled and wondered over.

The Troubles of Two Working Girls
Story
By Helen Van Campen
Illustrations by Horace Taylor

There is nothing "high-brow" about this story. It's a mixture of slang and chorus-girl sauciness, but the result is so droll and entertaining that we indorse it as a chaser of the "blues."

Confessions of a Washington Lobbyist
Lo, the Poor Indian!

When a reverend doctor, a prominent millionaire financier and others of unscrupulous character form an association for the mental and spiritual uplift of the North American Indian, everyone applauds. No one thinks of looking for an Ethiopian in the woodpile, unless it be a clever lobbyist. Even the President has the wool drawn over his eyes. This Washington lobbyist is so sharp that his find, in the form of an innocent-looking bill about to be passed by Congress, places the association completely under his thumb. The slice he receives to keep his tongue in his cheek enables him to retire from the work of lobbying.

Beautiful and touching verses about a little sister who crept out on the convent stairs to hear the robins sing.

Places Not on the Map
By Thomas L. Masson

They are Girlville, Faketown and Terrortown—never before chartered and yet immediately recognized.

The Cover Design is a humorous drawing by Charles A. MacLellan. When a man gets his face all lathered ready for a shave and finds his razor has been used as a hatchet or some such implement, what do you suppose is going to happen to the guilty little son? The expression on both the father's and son's faces are wonderful.

BRIBES ADMIT SLAVE GIRLS.

CHINESE WOMAN TELLS WAYS USED BY IMPORTERS.

False Papers Passed Into Greased Palms of Officials Favorite Method, Says Helper of Miss Cameron—Declares Chinatown Conditions Better Than Elsewhere on Coast.

Bribery of officials, use of false papers and other wily ways are the means of bringing Chinese girls to America for veritable lives of slavery, according to Miss T. F. Wu, a little Chinese woman who has been devoting her education, her knowledge of conditions and her life in general to the rescue of these unfortunates. She arrived at the Hollenbeck yesterday to join Miss Dondena Cameron, who for a decade has worked in San Francisco and Los Angeles through the Presbyterian church missions to stamp out these practices.

"Frequently a Chinese family returns to China after many years in the United States, where probably a number of children were born," said Miss Wu. "They love their native land and decide to remain there permanently. Perhaps after several years they are prevailed upon to sell their passport papers to other Chinese and it is these papers which are most frequently brought into play in shipping Chinese girls to Pacific Coast ports, where they are sold either into menial bondage or placed in immoral traffic. There are several hundred of these young women hidden away in San Francisco despite the vigilance of officers."

Miss Wu was accompanied by another Chinese woman, who insisted that many of her country women are allowed to come into the country by immigration officials who have had their palms greased copiously.

"There are numerous methods other than these mentioned to get girls here," said Miss Wu.

Of the general moral tone of the Chinese woman, she spoke very highly. "It is deemed almost a crime as great as murder for a wife to secure a divorce and for a widow to remarry is considered a mark of odious disrespect to the deceased husband and his relatives."

When asked whether these opinions were not dying out because of the formation of a Chinese republic which is destroying many of the old traditions, Miss Wu declared that the inborn doctrines and beliefs of a nation cannot be eradicated by a few months of changed government.

She will return to San Francisco today and will not make a tour of the local Chinatown, having been through it on previous occasions and knowing conditions thoroughly. They are far better here than in other cities of the Coast, according to her report.

FIRE DESTROYS RESIDENCE.

While Occupants Are Away House Catches Fire and Burns Before Fire Apparatus Arrives.

The residence of J. T. Reynolds at No. 431 La Brea street, near the Santa Monica boulevard, a two-story frame residence of some pretensions, was completely destroyed late last night by fire of unknown origin. Reynolds and his family were away at Santa Monica at the time, the home being unoccupied. Whistles at the near-by oil wells aroused the widely scattered neighbors, who rushed to the place and saved as much of the furniture as possible. The apparatus from Hollywood was rushed to the place, but not in time to save the building.

LYING IN STATE.

Remains of Late Councilman in Chapel Until Today at Noon—Funeral Tomorrow Afternoon.

The body of the late Councilman [illegible] will lie in state at the [illegible] chapel, Flower street near [illegible], until noon today. The funeral services will be held at the family residence in Highland Park tomorrow afternoon, the pastor of the Highland Park Methodist Episcopal church officiating. The members of the City Council will be pallbearers. Interment will be in the Forest Lawn cemetery. Acting Mayor Whiffen yesterday ordered the flag at the City Hall placed at half-mast. Flags were also displayed at half-mast by the fire department.

Startling.

RECEIPTS TOTAL THIRTY CENTS.

DEMOCRATIC FREE TRADE PUTS CRIMP INTO CAMPO.

Customs Returns Fall Off from Thousands of Dollars to the Sum That Sounds Like Slang—Duty on Bottle of Whisky Saves Complete Loss.

The beauty of Democratic free-trade, now in full operation is indicated by the return of receipts at the port of Campo in the Los Angeles collection district, for the month of March. Campo is a great cattle port, thousands of cattle from Mexico coming there into the United States each month. Since the duty has been removed from cattle, the receipts at Campo have dwindled, until during the month that closed last night, they amounted to but thirty cents. In September more than $1700 was received at Campo, and all on account of cattle. The figures for March were for the sale of supplies and the duty collected on a bottle of whisky.

The revenues for the district for March amounted to $54,328.33; for Los Angeles, alone, $51,481. San Diego collected $2,407.07; Calexico $111; and Campo, 30 cents. The receipts for the corresponding month last year were $57,662; for March, 1912, $[illegible]1,209.83.

Collector Carter of the Internal Revenue service, collected $107,696, for the month of March, as compared with $82,696 for the same month in 1913.

OPPOSING NORTON.

Supervisor Norton will have five opponents in the recall election. They are: [illegible] Y. Boothe, who filed his petition Monday, and Luis H. Schwaebe, [illegible] W. Byrnes, Lewis Martin Kelley and Benjamin S. Lauder, all of whom filed their petitions yesterday. The time for filing petitions was up at midnight.

Net-Container Law.

the weight of the contents to be secreted therein.

GOOD FOR LAWYERS.

Sugar and spice and everything nice, where put up in package or container form, all are included. "We hired a lawyer by the day and also two cheap boys," said the manager of a large grocery firm here. "I want to say, too, that the lawyer was the busiest of the three.

Through the kindness of Uncle Sam the labor has been considerably lightened. The national government, though beaten out by the State on the effective date of its net-container act, got the "bug" first and issued a sort of Baedeker by which the retailer or wholesaler might personally conduct himself through the intricacies of finding out the legal weight of any specified article.

Anything from allspice to zante root is shown logarithm-form in Uncle Sam's little guide with probable weight under normal circumstances, whether packed in paper or bottle. Take a ten-ounce bottle, for instance, and Uncle Sam's guide will show you the average weight of the milk it contains. Or take any variety of cartons and if you know the cubic contents his guide will tell you how many ounces or pounds of any commodity may be packed into it. This simplified matters considerably for the larger concerns.

GET IT ALL IN.

But Uncle Sam's minions missed a few quibbles that the State law didn't. The small merchants weren't taken into consideration either, though Uncle Sam was kind enough to furnish a short legal cut for them. Take twenty packages of same size and commodity, and the weight of the lightest will be the net legal weight, is this short cut in brief.

For the benefit of the consumer this short legal cut is strongly urged on all wholesalers and retailers. But, as one large wholesaler remarked yesterday, "The big fellows are not going to addict themselves to any slipshod methods like this light-weight business as the normal. We'll take the mean weight and put the burden of legal proof on those who are operating these laws."

Though the foodstuff men are not pleased with the new law, the rubber-stamp makers are temporarily so. They have visions of rubber stamps up one side and down the other of every big grocery concern, labeled all the way from ounces into infinitesimal decimals. But their reign of profit is to be short-lived, for about all the big fellows are getting new containers made with the weight printed thereon. Goods shipped in from other States in packages will probably have to be rubber-stamped here, for it is probable that the outside concerns will not begin their own stamping until the Federal law goes into effect.

By the way, the 5 and 10-cent stores are exempt, for the State law does its proscribing only for packages retailing at 11 cents or over.

FLOWER FESTIVAL.

Sierra Madre Women Prepare Annual Display—Many Rare Specimens to Be Exhibited.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SIERRA MADRE, March 31.—Mrs. W. J. Lawless, chairman of the Flower Festival, announces everything in readiness for the opening day, April 2. When the Woman's Clubhouse is thrown open to visitors a beautiful display of potted plants, cut flowers, vines and shrubbery of all kinds will greet the eyes of the lovers of plant life.

Mayor C. W. Jones will award the prizes Thursday evening. The judges of wild flowers will be Mrs. A. N. Davidson and Miss Mary Keyes. On all the other exhibits the judges will be William Hetrich of the Huntington gardens, W. B. Richards, Theodore Payne and Ernest Braunton, editor of The Times tree and plant department.

Several displays of oranges will occupy a space. One of the main exhibitors in this class will be James Vosburg of The Villa, Dr. W. J. Barlow will have his usual fine collection, raised and experimented upon by his manager, W. W. Felgate. Felgate is looked upon as the "Burbank" of this section on account of his success in producing choice varieties of plants and changing the color in well-known groups.

Frank Hart of The Villa, who has sent to all parts of the world for rare specimens of trees and plants, will also have a fine collection. Hart has upset the theories of many botanists by producing in this clime plants and trees which it was believed would not thrive here.

For three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, this town will take on the appearance of a New England county fair, with its many types of visitors and its gala holiday aspect.

in Blanchard Hall. Every member who isn't paralyzed will be on deck to add a touch of local color.

Of the dark horses "mentioned" the names of Gen. Mathews and Col. Tom Thornton are the ones most frequently heard. Lloyd McAtee, who lost out for Collector of Internal Revenue, is also a likely dark number.

One thing is practically certain, neither Rinehart nor Spellacy will land the coveted office. Mesmer is gaining strength rapidly and hopes to win.

Meanwhile Postmaster Harrison, whose term expired January 1, last, is still on the job and doing good work.

Cotton may be ousted from his position as chairman before the November election. He says he will fight to stick.

SHOW GRATITUDE IN LOVING CUPS.

BONIFACES RECEIVE EVIDENCE OF APPRECIATION.

Employees of Commissary Department of Alexandria Present to Retiring Chiefs Substantial Display of the Good Feeling Entertained Toward Them.

Two hundred appreciative employees in the culinary department of the Alexandria presented Joseph Reichl, their manager for more than eight years, and Samuel J. Whitmore, the retiring manager of the hotel, loving cups of gold and silver.

They were accompanied by a parchment, hand illuminated, inscribed with the names of the donors, and a fine sentiment. The cup presented to Herr Reichl stands twenty-two inches in height off its pedestal, which itself is of ebony and eight inches tall.

On the face in relief is the head of Alexander the Great, and the following inscription: "In appreciation of our cordial relations, we, the commissary department of the Hotel Alexandria, present this token of affection and esteem to Joseph Reichl." The other cup bears the same inscription, with Whitmore's name.

Feagans & Co. supplied the two works of art, which were designed and carried out in their shops. The two hotel men, whose names have been synonymous with good hotel service in Los Angeles for nearly a decade, will today relinquish their posts to Vernon Goodwin, managing director; Morgan Ross, the incoming manager, and Allen Pederson, the assistant manager. Ross was for years at the Coronado Hotel and has an extensive acquaintance. Pederson for nine years past has been closely identified with the hotel business in this city.

Honoring Samuel Whitmore, who is retiring at this time also as vice-president of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association, members of that organization will tender him a banquet tomorrow evening at the Alexandria. Hotel men from all parts of the State will attend the affair. Walter Raymond, president of the association, will be chairman, and C. C. Loomis, toastmaster.

The list of speakers includes Charles Cooke of the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco; Vernon Goodwin, John S. Mitchell and a number of other well-known bonifaces. Joseph Reichl will be in direct charge of the banquet, which will be the last affair of its kind which he will supervise.

TO RAISE FUNDS.

To raise funds needed for improvements at the sanatorium at Duarte, the Jewish Consumptive Relief Association of California, which met last night in the Alexandria, made arrangements for a garden festival and bazaar, to be held in Hamburger's Roof Garden, during the week of May 18. Dr. Henry M. Silverberg was named chairman of the Committee on Arrangements.

Killfoil Grand Jury.

Mary E. Kilfoil was slain with poisoned chocolate.

Dysert's testimony, it is believed, was concluded yesterday, but it is understood that the other three will be recalled, with Phil Kilfoil himself returning to the stand at 10 o'clock this morning when the inquiry is resumed.

All of the Kilfoils seemed confident yesterday that the presentation of letters, statements and other evidence left a vivid impression upon the grand jury.

MANY CALLED.

Among the others who were called as witnesses, but who will not appear until today, are Albert ("Punk") Hall, Edward Hall, Cecil King, Dorothy Brandes, Cecil Jones, Marie Jones, Frances Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Blaine, parents of Lillian Palmer. John F. Kilfoil also has been called and probably will take the stand today. Most of the others are boy and girl associates of Lillian Palmer, who have seen her often in the company of Phil Kilfoil, and who may know something that will lead the District Attorney to the source of the arsenic.

The whole Kilfoil case seems quite clear now, although the investigation has brought the District Attorney no nearer to personal contact with the original source of the arsenic than he was several weeks ago. The calling of the little playmates of the Palmer girl has in view the chance that they might know something of the poison, either directly or otherwise.

An important angle of the inquiry came at the close of the grand jury investigation last night, when Deputy Ford was closeted for two hours with Mr. and Mrs. Blaine and Frances Palmer. The Blaines have returned from San Diego, where Lillian Palmer, now a mother, is recovering from her illness. They told Ford last night that the girl has steadfastly denied any knowledge of the poison. They admitted that they had not told the girl of Kilfoil's charge that she had committed the murder, because of the young mother's weakened condition.

TO SAN DIEGO.

Ford will leave tonight for San Diego, where he expects to get a signed statement from the girl. He has given strict orders that no one outside the family and attending physician be permitted to see the girl, and that none of the recent developments in the case be told her. Ford has the co-operation of the Blaines in the prosecution of Kilfoil on the statutory charge, although it is not believed that they have any evidence that will tend to clarify the atmosphere that is now befogged with the all-important question: "Where did the arsenic come from?"

After his two-hour examination before the grand jury yesterday Phil Kilfoil was besieged by motion-picture men who want to make him the central figure of a thrilling poison mystery. Kilfoil admitted at the County Jail last night that all sorts of flattering offers had been made to him along this line, and that he is now considering going into the "movies" as he has entered into the telling of his own life's story.

Ford said last night that he expects to conclude the presentation of his evidence today, and wind up the investigation by a trip to San Diego to see the Palmer girl. He said that his anxiety to see Lillian Palmer is based upon a report current yesterday that the Kilfoils have raised enough money to give $20,000 bail for the release of Kilfoil from the County Jail pending his trial on May 14.

WOMEN ACTIVE IN PROSECUTING.

JURYMEN CHALLENGED BECAUSE WIVES ARE INTERESTED.

Trial of Clubman Produces Legal Clashes—Venireman Fined for Contempt Because He Loiters to Tie Up His Beans—Land Experts to Examine Forest Reserve.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, March 31.—The influence of the Parent-Teachers' Association was felt today in the trial of George H. A. Phillips, pharmacist and wealthy clubman, charged with contributing to the delinquency of 18-year-old Neva Benedict.

Because the wives of numerous members of the jury venire summoned had taken an active part as association members in raising a fund to aid the prosecution many of the most prominent men on the venire were peremptorily challenged by the defense. One talesman, Frank B. Moore, was fined $10 for contempt of court because he loitered at home to tie up some beans, arriving late.

After a long, hard day's session of court, featured by repeated legal clashes between the six attorneys in the case, a jury was secured late this evening and an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock tomorrow. During the day the court was crowded with women appointed by the Parent-Teachers' Association to attend the hearing.

The jurors are: T. L. Smith, T. N. Martin, M. Wakefield, Ben Grossi, W. H. Robinson, all of Lompoc; Charles French of Orcutt; J. K. Wade, Naples; Thomas Tunnell, Santa Maria; S. Darling, Summerland; W. T. Warren; Goleta; T. B. Owen, Santa Barbara; J. E. Doty, Naples. All are farmers except Smith, real estate agent; Wakefield, laborer; and Darling, machinist.

NEWS BRIEFS.

To determine what land in the Santa Barbara forest reserve is agricultural, six experts, J. E. Dunn, A. T. Strahorn, W. H. Hellman, A. F. Kocher, A. W. Mangun and D. Wenston of the Forestry Department leave for the reserve tomorrow morning. The soil men will cover 1000 square miles in their work, embracing all the reserve in Ventura and a portion in Los Angeles and Kern counties. Ultimately the agricultural lands will be opened to entry.

Nathan Straus addressed the State Normal School classes today, demonstrating his system of milk pasteurization. During the week he will hold a citizens' meeting and address the County Medical Society.

JUDGMENT AFFIRMED.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of the Superior Court of Santa Barbara county, in the action brought by Louise S. Bradbury against Augustus B. Higginson, to recover $600 alleged to be due for rent of a house at Montecito.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

Caroline J. Strong and Ruby L. Beardsley, doing business as the "Mission Grocery Company," San Diego, filed a partnership petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday. The debts of the concern are scheduled at $2,235.21, and the assets at $1072.

RATE REDUCED ON FUEL GAS.

CONFERENCE AGREES TO SHEAR OFF FIFTEEN PER CENT.

Common Ground Reached After Amicable Discussion — W.C.T.U. Demands Prohibition of Evelyn Thaw from Showing—Eight Blocks to Be Added to City's Streets.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, March 31.—Dollar-and-ten-cent gas was secured for the city at a conference held between the City Council and the Southern California Gas Company this morning. This is a reduction of more than 15 per cent. for the Arlington district where gas has been delivered at $1.30 net and is a reduction of 5 cents per thousand feet for the main portion of the city.

In other words, the new rate, which is to be effective April 1, will provide for a reduction from $1.25 to $1.20 per 1000 feet, discounted 10 cents per 1000 feet in case of payment of bill by the 10th of the following month. The Arlington rate is cut from $1.40 to $1.20, subject to the same discount in regard to payment of bill.

The rate was agreed to after a conference lasting less than an hour and common ground was reached without any of the feeling that has characterized the discussion of the matter of gas rates in other Southern California cities of late.

W.C.T.U. AFTER EVELYN.

The advertised appearance of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in this city tomorrow evening, paved the way for the W.C.T.U. to secure representation on the Board of Censors this morning, when a committee of women asked that steps be taken to prevent the Thaw woman exhibiting herself here.

City Attorney Irving's opinion that there was no provision of law whereby the performance could be prevented, led to the directing of attention by the women present to the censor board, the mild implication being that that body had fallen into a state of innocuous desuetude. This was followed up with a request for the appointment of a woman on the board, and there being a vacancy the Mayor promptly agreed to make such appointment within a week's time.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS.

The first step looking to the addition of eight more blocks to the city's already large mileage of streets improved with lighting posts of an ornamental design was taken this morning when property owners on Lime street filed a petition for the improvement of that thoroughfare between First and Eighth streets with the single-light concrete posts.

The City Treasurer announces the collection of $4568.82 for the lighting system to be installed on Tenth street, which covers more than a mile, extending westerly to Rubidoux Mountain. The proposed Lime-street improvement, as compared with the assessment for similar work, will cost approximately $2500 to install.

In addition to lighting improvements asked for, there are more proceedings desired for general street improvement before the City Council at the present time than at any time within the past two years.

Activity in building operations is also noticeable at the present time. Permits were issued today for fine homes in various parts of the city. A. Schliem will erect a $4000 residence at No. 318 Brockton avenue. This will be an adobe structure, along the lines of a number of homes of this kind that have been erected the past year. A permit has been issued to I. C. Berns for a bungalow, estimated to cost $2000, to be erected at No. 236 Elmwood Court.

HARBOR DAY FESTIVITIES.

Army and Navy to Be Represented, Machine Guns and Infantry to Take Part in Maneuvers.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WILMINGTON, March 31.—Both army and navy will be represented at the Harbor Day festivities at Wilmington on April 11, according to the announcement made by F. P. Guiton, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, yesterday.

Arrangements were consummated for the presence of a company of field artillery with a corps of machine-gun men, with their entire equipment. Military maneuvers will be a feature of the day, while throughout the celebration salutes will be fired.

The soldiers will be taken to Wilmington the night before the celebration on huge motor trucks, equipment and all. They will pitch camp near the harbor and be ready to aid in the festivities early in the morning of April 11.

Arrangements are also under way with Col. W. G. Schreiber to have a company of the militia infantry present at the celebration. Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels has promised a large representation of government battleships, including the new armored cruiser Cleveland. This will bring many marines into port, so that the town will be fairly alive with men in uniform.

Chairman Guiton addressed the Los Angeles Ad Club yesterday and invited the organization to attend in a body. D. R. Woods, chairman of the Arrangements Committee, will extend a similar invitation to the Realty Board at its weekly luncheon at the Clark Hotel, Thursday.

"TAPS."

Machine-gun Company, Seventh Regiment, N.G.C., is to honor the burial of Corp. Ralph Henry Englund at Rosedale Cemetery today with a full military funeral. The dead comrade is to be laid to rest in his company uniform, his own squad firing a volley over the grave. Services are to be conducted at 1 o'clock, in the chapel of the Sterling-Boothe Company, Twelfth and Hope streets. Members of the company will be pallbearers.

Arrangements for Board of Trade Banquet.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, April 1.—With the grim determination and the force that has characterized his fight to build up the largest fortune in the land, Frederick W. Weyerhaeuser is now fighting for his life, and the tenacity with which he clings to it is, for a man of 80 years, nothing less than marvelous to the corps of doctors who are sitting day and night at his bedside. There is now believed to be a chance for his recovery.

Last Monday night one of the members of the family said that he was a "very ill man," and intimated that it was feared he might not last through the night. Yesterday afternoon the announcement came from the Weyerhaeuser residence in Oak Knoll that he was better than he had been at the corresponding time the day before, and last night it was declared that he was "somewhat improved."

Members of the family say that he is not out of danger, but they are now hopeful that he will pull through.

Mrs. W. B. Hill of New York and Mrs. S. S. Davis of Rock Island, two of the timber king's daughters, who have been speeding across the country as fast as wheels could carry them, arrived yesterday. Every member of the family is now at the Oak Knoll residence.

BAND PLAYED ON ROOF.

The annual visit of the Stanford University band to Pasadena yesterday was the occasion of one of the most enjoyable fetes of the winter. The band played a matinee programme in the roof garden of the Hotel Green and Pasadena society attended in a flutter of summer gowns and a profusion of flowers.

The roof garden was decorated with American flags and bunting, with huge bouquets of flowers, palms and ferns, and around the edges were placed the tea tables. Tea was served as the music was played and the audience was so seated that they might look out over the valley and across to the mountains.

DAY IS SET.

It was announced yesterday that the Pasadena Board of Trade will hold its annual banquet, April 14, at the Hotel Raymond. This banquet has in the past always been one of the notable affairs of the year in Pasadena, and the committee that has charge of the arrangements for this year's, of which Arthur E. Noble is chairman, hopes to make it the largest ever given. The speakers have not yet been announced, but there will be several addresses by men of prominence and on subjects of timely interest.

BUSINESS MAN DIES.

George M. Alexander, who was a member of the firm of Longley, Low & Alexander, wholesale hat dealers of Chicago, died yesterday at the Pasadena Hospital of heart failure, after an illness of several weeks. He came here a short time ago to spend his vacation and had planned to say at the Hotel Huntington, but illness followed so soon that he had had little enjoyment from his visit when he was compelled to go to the hospital. He was a bachelor 64 years of age and one of the best-known clubmen in Chicago. He leaves a mother, 94 years old, who lives at Louisville, Ky., and to whom word of his death wes sent yesterday. He also leaves three brothers and two sisters. The body will be taken to Louisville for burial, and there will be no services here.

CITY BRIEFS.

The record for March building in Pasadena has been broken this year. Permits totaling $221,816 had been issued at the office of the Building Inspector for the month yesterday.

Residents in the western part of the city are still exercised over the establishment of an industrial district along the Salt Lake track. A committee, composed of F. J. Pierce, J. E. Mills and J. B. Wyatt, has been appointed by the West Side Improvement Association No. 2 to confer with the original West Side Improvement Association apropos the subject.

Ralph W. Waters, the young man who, in driving an automobile last Saturday night, ran into J. W. Pitzer, who is now in a serious condition at the Marengo Avenue Hospital, appeared before Police Judge McDonald yesterday to answer to the charge of exceeding the speed limit, for which offense he was arrested later the same night. He was fined $30, which he paid. His defense was that he had been unnerved by the accident and could not control the machine. Several other speeders were also fined.

ONLY ONE CANDIDATE.

ANAHEIM, March 31.—Charles Boege is the only candidate in the field to be elected to fill the vacancy in the grammar school board of trustees, so in all probability he will succeed himself for that office. An important question which will come up at the election to be held April 3 is the proposed issuance of $15,000 in bonds to be used in adding four school rooms to the Broadway school building and in the general improvement of the grounds. This improvement met with the approval of the members of the Board of Trade and received their full indorsement at a recent meeting, as they hope to have a kindergarten branch established in the schools before the opening of another term, and have appointed a committee to present a signed petition asking for same to the school board.

FULLERTON OIL FIRE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FULLERTON, March 31.—A fire broke out today on the lease of the Orange Oil Company and four large tanks and about 30,000 barrels of oil were destroyed within a short time. The cause of the blaze is unknown. It is said the property was partly covered by insurance.

TWO SHERIFFS RAID A TOWN

Nearly All Inhabitants Are Put Under Arrest.

Four Road Camps to House County Prisoners.

Befuddled Mind Dreams of Things Gone By.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, March 31.—Nearly the entire population at Blythe Junction, away out on the desert, near the Colorado River, were arrested this morning at an early hour by a posse headed by Sheriffs J. C. Ralphs of this county and Wilson of Riverside county and several other officers.

Two blind pigs and a gambling joint were raided, five negro proprietors, two negro women and several Mexicans and others were captured, besides a quantity of goods and other evidence. Only two or three residents of the place escaped.

The town is where the wagon road leaves the Santa Fe for the Palo Verde Valley and it has recently come to the attention of the officers that a tough gang was making the point its headquarters.

Blythe Junction is on "No Man's Land," there having long been a question of whether it is located in San Bernardino or Riverside counties. In order to avert trouble in the prosecution, the officers of the two counties joined in the raid, and will also do so in the prosecution.

FOUR ROAD CAMPS.

The Board of Supervisors have determined on the establishment of four road camps for working county prisoners on the county roads. One small camp has already been established at Fontana and a second is now nearly ready to be established in the Mill Creek Canyon. A third will be placed in Cajon Pass, while a fourth will be used in the building of the road through Carbon Canyon, from Chino to Orange county.

Experiments have been carried on for several months in doing road work by working the county prisoners and so successful has the plan worked out that the determination has been reached to establish the four camps and do more work in the same way.

DREAMS HIS PAST.

Further symptoms of returning mentality are being exhibited by Michael Haitsch, the man without a memory, who has engaged much attention from local medical men and psychologists. Haitsch tells of a vivid dream he had a night or two ago in which he seemed to be at the secretary's desk in the meeting of a German or other society, while the meeting was discussing numerous matters which those watching his case believe were incidents which really occurred in a meeting in the East before the loss of memory overtook him.

Haitsch was secretary of a large German society in the East, and it was while holding that position that he was overtaken with the loss of memory as a result of worry and being threatened by a black-hand plot. The details of the dream have been sent back to his German friends in the East for verification and Haitsch will be closely observed for further developments.

NEWS BRIEFS.

County Health Officer P. M. Savage and the owners of the trout farm near Forest Home, in upper Mill Creek Canyon, are investigating the death of a large number of trout there. The indications are that either dynamite had been used in the place or the water had been poisoned. Meantime a warning was issued against using the water for domestic purposes. A large number of fish are dead and thus far the cause of their death is a mystery.

The first machine to reach Pine Knot Hotel in Bear Valley since the heavy snows was driven by Kirk Phillips of this city, and has just returned from the mountains. He reports the roads are yet in bad shape, there being much snow, while in the valley they are soft. Regular stage service will not be attempted for probably two weeks yet.

Miss Blanche Gillard of Summit, while out riding near her home, was thrown by her horse and severely injured about the head. At first it was feared she had suffered a fracture of the skull, but on being rushed to a hospital here it was found she only had scalp wounds and severe concussion of the brain.

After July 1 the superintendent of the County Hospital must not have any outside practice is the edict of the Supervisors in passing on hospital matters. Also all county employees injured in the future must go to the County Hospital for treatment if they claim damages under the County Liability Act.

POSTOFFICE LOOTED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, March 31.—Automobile thieves are carrying on a persistent looting of postoffices in this county. Last week the postoffice safe at Camarillo was blown by a couple of men who came and went in an automobile. Nitro-glycerine was used. Last night the postoffice safe at Nordhoff was also blown with nitro-glycerine, the thieves takin $467 of Uncle Sam's money, while Postmaster Smith lost from his store, in which the office is housed, $32 in silver and $30 in gold. Also several checks in the till were taken and a lot of deeds and miscellaneous papers belonging to Postmaster Smith. It is supposed the safe was blown at about 2 o'clock this morning, though no one heard the explosion. It is known that an automobile left the village at about that hour in the morning and it is supposed the men in it were the bandits.

LIVES BUT AN HOUR.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, March 31.—Harry J. Gard, a carpenter, aged 35, single, and who had worked in this city for several months, shot and killed himself at 8 o'clock last evening in his room at the house of E. Snuffin in this city. Gard used a rifle and shot himself in the chest. He was removed to the hospital, where he lived about an hour. There is no known reason why he should have made away with himself, but a note found in his effects written a week ago, shows that the deed was premeditated.

HIT ON THE EAR WITH A LEMON.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN PEDRO, March 31.—The question of the proper tip a newsboy should receive for carrying two suit cases from the Catalina boat to the Pacific Electric car has been raised by Wade Chance of No. 606 North Hollister avenue, Pasadena. He has written a letter to the police complaining that a newsboy here endeavored to impose a charge of 25 cents and that when he refused to pay it the boy called him a "cheap skate" and threw a lemon that hit him on the ear. Chance writes that he has been traveling over Europe and America twenty years and never had to pay over 10 cents for the same service. He asks that the boy be reprimanded.

BUILDING PERMITS DOUBLE IN HARBOR DISTRICT.

Plans Made to Help Wilmington Celebrate Opening of New Municipal Wharf—Big Three Steamers Enjoy Increased Traffic—Travel Diverted from Rail to Water.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN PEDRO, March 31.—Building permits for the harbor district run close to $100,000 for the first quarter of the year. For March the permits are more than double those of the combined months of January and February. Since the first of the year the valuation of permits for San Pedro amounts to $61,181 and for Wilmington $30,890.

Practically all of the new buildings are dwellings and storerooms. The water front permits include the rebuilding of the San Pedro dock at a cost of $20,000, new sheds for the E. K. Wood Lumber Company and the United Tuna Cannery at Wilmington. Four new flat buildings at San Pedro and a number of fine residences at Wilmington are among the more substantial improvements. Few of the permits for dwellings call for an expenditure of less than $1000.

INVITATION ACCEPTED.

An invitation from the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce to join with that organization in celebrating the opening of the new municipal wharf on the Mormon Island channel was accepted today by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. The two organizations will pull together to make the celebration a big success. A committee was appointed today to raise funds for decorating and otherwise assist in the advertising.

A committee was also appointed to take up with the Wilmington organization and the Harbor Commission the need of a drawbridge over the west basin channel to give a more direct road between Wilmington and San Pedro. About three miles could be saved by a direct road over that now used around the west basin. It has been proposed that arrangements be made with the Southern Pacific to build wings on the present drawbridge for teams to save the cost of a second bridge.

INCREASED TRAFFIC.

Passenger traffic over the Big Three steamers of the San Francisco and Portland line has shown a big increase since the unmerger of the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, according to C. G. Krueger, district passenger agent for the line. For the month of March the business is 35 per cent. greater than the same month last year.

The San Francisco and Portland line and the Pacific Mail were both under the same management before the unmerger and controlled by the Southern Pacific road. Now the San Francisco and Portland steamers are controlled by the Oregon-Washington Railway and Navigation Company. Efforts are being made to divert travel from the Southwest to the Northwest from the all-rail routes to the steamers, with great success.

President J. D. Ferrell of the Oregon Railroad has been in Los Angeles for several days, and with G. L. Blair, general manager of the steamship company, looking after the interest of the steamers, and inspected the facilities of the company here.

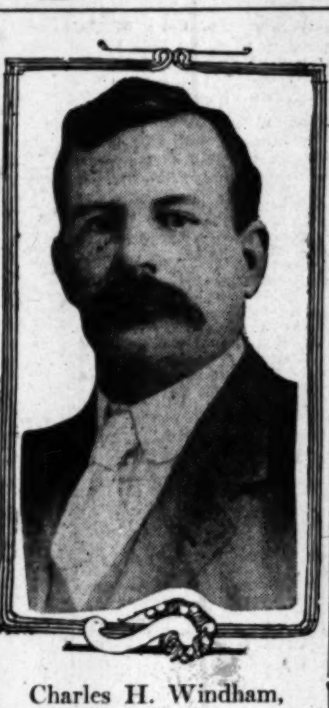
PREP GLEE CLUBS TO MEET IN MUSICAL FESTIVAL.

Stanford University Band to Join in Programme—Complaining Witnesses Testify in Basil Brock Shooting Case—To Pave Monterey Road and Fair Oaks Avenue.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, March 31.—Five high schools are to participate in a musical festival Friday evening at the local High School. Alhambra High School will be here with its orchestra and Girls' Glee Club. Glendale Union High School will bring its orchestra and Girls' Glee Club; an orchestra will be furnished by the Citrus Union High School of Azusa, and from Covina Union High School will come the Girls' Glee Club and band. South Pasadena High will have the largest representation, furnishing the Boys' Quartette, Girls' Glee Club, boys' chorus and orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Emma K. Bartlett, musical director. Each organization will render at least one selection, providing a programme of twenty-five numbers.

More than the usual degree of friendly rivalry has been aroused in the preparation for this event. This is the first function of the kind to be held in this section of Southern California. It is the plan of the school officials to follow out the practice of holding similar festivals each year, and for this reason every effort has been put forth to make it a success.



Charles H. Windham,
Of Long Beach, who has announced his candidacy for Congress on the Republican ticket.

It is announced that each visiting school will bring a large delegation.

Stanford University's military band of forty pieces will give a concert under the auspices of the local High School student body in the school auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. The band is now on a tour of Central and Southern California, and its programme includes grand opera, classic numbers, rhythmic marches and the best of popular airs.

STORY OF SHOOTING.

In the case against the McDonald brothers, charged with the shooting of Basil Brock two weeks ago at the historic adobe house on Garfield avenue, in which Brock was wounded in the forehead, the complaining witnesses testified in Judge Glover's court this morning.

Besides the three complaining witnesses—Basil Brock, Whalen Tussing and Glen Haskell—Mr. and Mrs. Brock appeared in behalf of their son, who was injured. At the conclusion of the testimony for the State, Attorney Gardner, representing the defendants, arose and made a motion that the case against the McDonald boys be dismissed. The motion was granted.

INTENTION TO PAVE.

Following closely the call for bids for the laying of the new sewer system, the Board of City Trustees at an adjourned meeting last evening introduced the resolution of intention for the paving of Monterey road and Fair Oaks avenue. The next step will be the calling for bids for the paving work which is to be started as soon as the sewer and public service pipes are laid in those thoroughfares.

As a protection to the pavement when laid the board passed to first reading an ordinance regulating excavations in all streets, making it an offense to make any sort of excavation without a permit. It is specified that all pipes less than six inches in diameter must be of iron, and no more wooden pipe of any size will be allowed.

Jaynes is also erecting several modern bungalows for rental purposes. Owing to the sudden increase in population since the remarkable oil developments in this vicinity it is almost impossible for the people to secure lodging. A modern apartment-house will be erected within a short time and the building activities are the greatest in years. Several new business enterprises have opened during the past fortnight.

OCEAN PARK, March 31.—Light in the new electrolier system of Main street was turned on this evening, giving a far different appearance to this street, which is fast becoming a section of business houses serving the district east of Trolley way. The citizens have been agitating for the lighting system for a long time. There was an informal ceremony prior to turning on the "juice," several talks being made by persons interested in the project.

WINDHAM TRIES FOR CONGRESS.

Pins Faith for Election to Republican Party.

Defied Earl's Machine in Last Political Campaign.

Former Mayor's ReRcord of Municipal Honors.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, March 31.—Charles H. Windham, business man and pioneer in the development of the twin harbors of Los Angeles county, has consented to become a Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District.

When, after his remarkable speech upon the tariff at the monster Republican anniversary meeting in the Forum Friday evening, public sentiment in his own city crystallized and he was asked to make the race, he would not consent to have his name used. Not until a wave of sentiment in favor of his candidacy came from the citrus belt and other sections of the county, did he agree.

Ever since he was 16 years old, and he is now 48, the former Mayor of Long Beach has been in the construction and transportation business. When, broken in health after an attack of tropical malaria, he came to Southern California in 1902, he brought with him twelve years of experience as manager of the largest fruit-shipping port of Central America, Port Limon, Costa Rica.

PROJECTED HARBOR.

He was among the small group of Southern California optimists who projected and completed the improvement of the Long Beach harbor and the east end of the Los Angeles Harbor. He took a leading part in the development of a port from a winding stream and shallow sloughs. He has been the principal promoter of the building and operating of steel steamships in Los Angeles county at the Craig plant.

He is president of the Long Beach Steamship Company, owner and operator of the steel steamships Paraiso and Alvarado, now plying between San Francisco and Panama. He is also secretary of the Western Steam Navigation Company, owning the big steamers Camino and Navajo. All of these steamships were made at the local shipyards. As general manager of the Western Dredging and Marine Construction Company, he has been active in the development of the harbor.

Windham was Mayor of Long Beach for two terms, declining a third term. While his competent hand was at the helm of the city it made the remarkable growth as indicated by the last Federal census, and placed Long Beach at the head of the fastest-growing cities in the whole country.

SENT TO WASHINGTON.

Windham was twice special envoy to Washington in the interests of the development of both harbors. It was he who first brought to the attention of the National Rivers and Harbors Board the fact that the Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors were really one harbor, and they, so considered today, are about to receive Federal aid as a direct result of that plan. He, in conjunction with Capt. A. A. Fries, secured a deed from the Salt Lake Railroad to the strip of land which now connects the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors.

Windham was the first Progressive Republican who refused to take orders from Lissner and Earl. His defiance of their ultimatum that he must run for Congress at the last election under their despicable banner or not at all, was, his friends think, the beginning of their end for the Earl-Lissner crowd, for Windham ran as an independent, carrying his own city by three to one, carrying Whittier and other communities, polling against the insidious Lissner machine.

SCANDAL'S TONGUE WAGS BUT WIFE ANSWERS NOT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, March 31.—That a man in politics will stoop to anything to further his own interests, even to the sacrificing of his own family, is the statement today of Mrs. Linnie D. Sewell, who is made the defendant in a suit filed for divorce by Edgar W. Sewell, churchman and reformer and a candidate for the City Council, who announces that he brought suit at this time to check stories being circulated by political enemies in regard to his relations with other women. Were it not for her pretty 18-year-old daughter, Grace Daley, to protect whom she declares is her sole aim, Mrs. Sewell adds that the present divorce action would assume an infinitely different shape.

"While I am obliged to suffer the humiliation of allowing Mr. Sewell to divorce me without a word in my own defense and while I have undoubtedly laid myself open to harsh criticism by people who do not understand my position, nevertheless for my daughter's sake my lips are sealed. Were it not for Grace I should most certainly contest this suit and it would assume a very different aspect—very," continued Mrs. Sewell, "but as it is, the less scandal the better. My daughter is a young woman, just starting out in life, and for me to do anything to hamper her future would be most unjust. Grace will graduate from Chaffey High School this year and then I am going to put her through normal. She wants to be a teacher.

"Of course I am criticised, and while Mr. Sewell is looked upon as a paragon of virtue on account of the stand he has taken in regard to public morals and religion, everybody knows that when a woman deserts her husband in the way I have, there is a reason for it. It is humiliating to have to live in the same house with the man who is suing to divorce me, but here again I must think of my daughter. I do not intend to take her out of school and put her to work and I can't afford to pay board at present.

"I have known for years that Mr. Sewell cared more for somebody else than he did for me, and it hasn't always been one, either, but there is one now and she is right in this town, and what brought this thing to a head is the stand I took in regard to this other woman. When he brought her to my home that is where I drew the line and I set my foot down emphatically."

Mrs. Sewell admits having in her possession letters from the "other woman" and adds that they will remain in her possession until Sewell's agreement to pay her $50 monthly on condition that she does not fight the suit, is in writing and properly sworn to before a notary.

Mrs. Sewell is a sister of Sewell's first wife but she denies stories circulated to the effect that her marriage to Sewell was the result of her dying sister's request. Mrs. Sewell also denies emphatically a report to the effect that she is still in love with her first husband, whom she divorced, declaring that he is a "worthless rake" and that she does not even know where he is.

KILLING OF DROWN.

Archer C. Drown, son of the late Judge A. N. Drown, was shot and killed in his Oakland home on the night of Friday, October 24, 1912. His body was found in bed twenty-four hours after death. Death had been caused by a bullet wound. The police were called in and Mrs. Drown was arrested.

The woman, it is alleged by the police, had confessed to relatives that she had shot her husband as he slept, and later, testimony showed, she visited Mrs. Marie Millar, whom she declared destroyed her husband's love, and attempted to shoot her. She snapped an unloaded revolver at the woman several times. Relatives of the dead man rallied to the woman's defense. Insanity was pleaded.

"If women can commit murder and juries will not convict them, what is to be done?" asked Dist.-Atty. W. H. L. Hynes after the verdict had been rendered. "Once a woman kills a person there is a hue and cry that she is insane. Then she goes into court and is acquitted. Why arrest them at all?"

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—United States District Judge Dooling, to clear up any doubt as to his attitude toward the Mann act, has issued the following statement:

"The law must be enforced as it is written. It makes equally penal the transporting of a woman in interstate commerce for the purpose of prostitution and such transportation for any other immoral purpose, but in the imposition of penalties a distinction will be made in this court between the two classes of offenders, and those offending against the law for commercial purposes will be more severely dealt with than those who offend against the law with women of mature age and some sophistication for the sole purpose of mutual gratification."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B.C.) March 31.—The American fishing schooner Valiant, captured by the Canadian fishery protection vessel Joliffe, was today declared confiscated by Justice Martin in the admiralty court.

The Valiant was seized May 11, 1913, off Haycock Island, at the northern end of Vancouver Island. The Valiant is alleged to have been fishing too close to shore, and to have raced for the open sea when the Joliffe hove in sight. When overhauled the captain of the Valiant said he had no fish, but the boarding officer found 1000 pounds of halibut below, some of the fish being alive. The Valiant is of eighteen tons, and was owned by the Pacific Net and Twine Company of Seattle.

Merely in jest, Miss Ruth Heppe sent a wireless from the Cheyenne to her mother, who lives on Breeze avenue, to this effect: "When you get this marogram my name will be Mrs. Lieut. Logan."

When the reporters called to see Miss Ruth to find out whether she had really eloped, the girl declared that it was all a joke. But instead of giving the details she blushingly fled to her room, leaving her sisters, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Mary, to explain the somewhat complicated situation.

The woman, it is alleged by the police, had confessed to relatives that she had shot her husband as he slept, and later, testimony showed, she visited Mrs. Marie Millar, whom she declared destroyed her husband's love, and attempted to shoot her. She snapped an unloaded revolver at the woman several times. Relatives of the dead man rallied to the woman's defense. Insanity was pleaded.

"If women can commit murder and juries will not convict them, what is to be done?" asked Dist.-Atty. W. H. L. Hynes after the verdict had been rendered. "Once a woman kills a man there is a hue and cry that she is insane. Then she goes into court and is acquitted. Why arrest them at all?"

JUDGE DOOLING EXPLAINS.

Will Enforce Mann Law as Written, but Will Be Easier on Some Offenders Than Others.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—United States District Judge Dooling, to clear up any doubt as to his attitude toward the Mann act, has issued the following statement:

"The law must be enforced as it is written. It makes equally penal the transporting of a woman in interstate commerce for the purpose of prostitution and such transportation for any other immoral purpose, but in the imposition of penalties a distinction will be made in this court between the two classes of offenders, and those offending against the law for commercial purposes will be more severely dealt with than those who offend against the law with women of mature age and some sophistication for the sole purpose of mutual gratification."

"VALIANT" CONFISCATED.

American Fishing Schooner Is Alleged to Have Worked Too Close to Vancouver Shore.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VANCOUVER (B.C.) March 31.—The American fishing schooner Valiant, captured by the Canadian fishery protection vessel Joliffe, was today declared confiscated by Justice Martin in the admiralty court.

The Valiant was seized May 11, 1913, off Haycock Island, at the northern end of Vancouver Island. The Valiant is alleged to have been fishing too close to shore, and to have headed for the open sea when the Joliffe hove in sight. When overhauled the captain of the Valiant said he had no fish, but the boarding officer found 1000 pounds of halibut below, some of the fish being alive. The Valiant is of eighteen tons, and was owned by the Pacific Net and Twine Company of Seattle.

CHINO ELECTION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHINO, March 31.—The Chamber of Commerce elected the following directors last night: D. B. Livingstone, George V. Holcomb, C. F. Ten Eyck, F. V. Newman, S. D. McCreary, Edwin Rhodes, Ralph C. Homan, G. B. Bidwell, J. C. Reher, H. G. Shafer, H. Cooke, H. C. Daniels, W. B. McQueen, J. W. Bandy, W. T. Clark. Edwin Rhodes was chosen president for another year. The other officers are: George V. Holcomb, vice-president; D. B. Livingstone, secretary; H. G. Shafer, treasurer.

MEN ABOVE MACHINERY.

Secretary Redfield Blatherskites About It as If He Had Made Some Very Wonderful Discovery.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, March 31.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield was the guest of honor at a luncheon tonight in the Seattle Commercial Club.

He spoke on the industrial revolution, which he said was in progress, saying in part:

"We do not place machinery that would be injured by dust in a dusty place; we must not put men in such a place. We do not place machinery that would be injured by dirt in a dirty place; we must not put men in such a place. We know that metals become fatigued and that wheels are liable to fly to pieces; we must learn not to overfatigue our men and women in industry. There is no place in this country for the man who would be masterful over his fellows. Leadership, not mastery, is the need. Men who would be masters of industry must learn this lesson."

Secretary Redfield expressed indignation over the continued personal attacks made on the administration by two members of the Washington delegation.

After the luncheon the Secretary went to the Puget Sound navy yard.

INDIAN RELICS FOR UNIVERSITY.

PART OF LOWE COLLECTION MAY GO TO BERKELEY.

Two Men Buy the Famous Examples of Primitive Art at San Francisco for Other Parties—The Antiquities Include Ancient Pottery and Stone Implements.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 31.—That the University of California probably will get a large part of the collection of Indian baskets and Indian relics gathered during forty years by Mrs. T. S. C. Lowe and which were sold at auction by H. Taylor Curtis, was the statement made after the sale by W. H. Fitzhugh who, with Harry Creswell, bought the collection for $15,000 for other parties. The collection is one of the most famous in the State. Collectors and others interested in such relics and antiquities have paid daily visits to the auction room on Sutter street, where the sale was to be held.

Both Professor and Mrs. Lowe spent a great deal of time in gathering this collection in this country and in travels in Europe. There were over 1500 Indian baskets of great rarity and including all types, a collection of pottery from the Aztecs and Mound Builders to the Pueblos of the present, fully illustrating the ceramic art from its primitive state to its highest development. Hundreds of stone implements were included in the collection, as were many specimens of bead work garments, weapons, pipes and blankets.

The first bid was $5000. The offers rose steadily by $1000 stages, many bidders taking part, but many dropped out and the collection was finally knocked down to Fitzhugh and Creswell.

RESERVOIR TESTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 31.—City officials and members of the local fire department participated in tests made this afternoon to show the reserve capacity of the storage reservoirs of the Santa Monica Water Company. Ten streams throwing 120,000 gallons an hour were used in the trial, which lasted for twelve hours. The water officials say that in addition to the present supply a new well at Sixteenth and Arcadia streets, Sawtelle, will be capable of delivering 3000 gallons a minute, and that another well is to be sunk in the same vicinity. If the city votes $200,000 bonds the intention is to buy additional fire apparatus and to lay larger mains in the business districts. This precautionary measure is considered necessary because of the building of new blocks and also to serve as an additional safeguard in case of a severe fire. It is also suggested that a salt-water system be installed similar to the one in operation in Venice.

AGAINST LABOR BILL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, March 30.—The Whittier Board of Trade is out with a strong resolution against the initiative bill that is to be voted on this fall providing for an eight-hour day of labor. The Board of Trade believes that the adoption of an eight-hour day for this State will work hardship and will put California business at a disadvantage in competing with outside products. The bill was passed by the last Legislature and purports to be in the interests of labor, but is put up to the sovereign people for final approval or rejection.

Venice.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, March 31.—The innocent prank of a pretty society girl of this city may cause some embarrassment for Lieut. Logan, U.S.N., on the Cheyenne, now in port at Los Angeles Harbor. In company with a bevy of other Venice girls and in charge of Mrs. E. Pape, an indulgent chaperon, the girls were entertained at luncheon at San Pedro, Sunday. The naval men were present as hosts.

Merely in jest, Miss Ruth Heppe sent a wireless from the Cheyenne to her mother, who lives on Breeze avenue, to this effect: "When you get this telegram my name will be Mrs. Lieut. Logan."

When the reporters called to see Miss Ruth to find out whether she had really eloped, the girl declared that it was all a joke. But instead of giving the details she blushingly fled to her room, leaving her sisters, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Mary, to explain the somewhat complicated situation.

"We don't want any publicity about this," said Miss Mary, dimpling. "A [illegible] of us girls were under the chaperonage of Mrs. Pape. We were delightfully entertained by the officers and just in sport I stood up with Lieut. Marsh, while my sister did the same with Lieut. Logan. You might call it a mock marriage, as Mrs. Pape read some ridiculous nonsense as though it were a ceremony."

To carry out the jest the wireless message was sent to Mrs. Heppe. She was amused, but not at all alarmed. The girls rached home safely and supposed that their prank was a secret until in some way the report was circulated that either a marriage at sea took place or that a wedding is in prospect.

The Heppe family deny both rumors and declare that their acquaintance with the gallant naval officers is merely one of pure friendship and that there is no romance. Their only concern is lest the publication of the innocent escapade of Sunday last will involve the officers in some "dreadful" court-martial or official inquiry.

The Heppe sisters are willing to be witnesses to the fact that Lieuts. Logan and Marsh are blameless and that nothing occurred that can cause the Secretary of the Navy or any admirals the slightest uneasiness.

REVOLVER BEATS POISON.

Market Owner Makes Sure Thing of Committing Suicide in His San Francisco Home.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BURLINGAME, March 31.—James Owen Long, owner of a large market in San Francisco, took poison and then sat down to breakfast with his family here this morning. As the poison did not seem to be working, he excused himself from the table, went to the bathroom and killed himself with a revolver. Mrs. Long could give no reason other than business worries for the act.

Long was 45 years old. He left two infant children.

LIGHTNING HITS "HORNET."

Bolt Enters Steamer's Pilot House and Disables All Compasses Previous to Severe Storm.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

EVERETT (Wash.) March 31.—Lightning struck the steamer Hornet from San Francisco while she was at sea, the bolt splintering the aftermast and following the rigging into the pilot house. All the compasses were disarranged and for three days, while a storm raged, Captain Marxen felt his way northward by occasional glimpses of the shore line as a guide. The Hornet arrived in port today.

NOOSE DANGLES FOR GREEN. SMALL CHANCE OF REPRIEVE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Tom Green is due to hang Friday in San Quentin prison for there appears to be little chance of a reprieve or a commutation of sentence being extended him. Green, whose real name is Charles Thomas, shot William A. Bowles, cashier of a bank at Blythe, Riverside county, when he feared that the cries of Bowles would result in his being captured, while robbing the bank.

ORIGIN OF POSTOFFICE NAMES.

Choice Made by People of Locality and Sometimes Bad Spelling Is Responsible for Peculiarity.

[Tacoma Ledger:] The history of origin of postoffice names affords many amusing facts. Not a few of the names grow out of blunders in writing or spelling. The Postoffice Department presumably hasn't the time to conduct a special investigation in every neighborhood, so it often jumps to conclusions or draws upon its imagination. In the Princeton Press, of West Virginia, we find a curious instance of a name conferred upon a postoffice because of an error in one letter of a petition. There is a district in that State known as Hill Top. When the people of Hill Top decided to ask for a postoffice a petition was drawn up and forwarded to Washington city. The writer was not careful to dot the "i" in Hill. Instead he made a sort of loop that was interpreted as an "e." Call a postoffice "Hell Top?" That would never do. It shocked the agents of Uncle Sam. But they thought they would comply as closely as possible with local sentiment so they named the postoffice "Tophet." Tophet was a hill on which the refuse of Jerusalem was dumped and burned. The fires were almost continuous, and hence Tophet came to signify hell or a place of endless perdition. Many postoffice names are duplicated, but West Virginia boasts of having the only Tophet in the land. What a difference one letter of a word makes in history! It is said that Nome, Alaska, got its name from the fact that the "a" of the word name was misinterpreted for an "o." At that, it is a very impressive name.

A Friend of Peace.

[London Opinion:] The peace advocate was talking. He said:

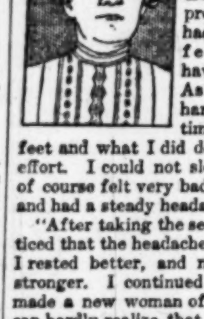
"I wish we'd all take as sensible and prudent a view of war as the Nice avocat took of dueling.

"An avocat and lieutenant quarreled one evening at the Cafe de la Regence in Nice, and the lieutenant sent his seconds to the avocat the next morning. But the avocat shook his head and said: 'A duel? No, no. It wouldn't be fair. The risks would be unequal. For, look you, the lieutenant is a single man, whereas I have three children.'

"The avocat's refusal was conveyed to the lieutenant, who, being a bloodthirsty wretch, straightway got married. In three years he became the father of three children, and then he called upon the avocat.

"'Ha,' he said fiercely, 'you'll have to fight me now; I have three children.'

"'But I,' said the avocat, with a peaceful and joyous smile, 'I have now got five.'"



WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa.—"When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women

for forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ills. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Itching Stops Instantly!

One Application of ZEMO Stops This Unbearable Torture and Makes Life Worth Living.

Get a 25c Bottle Today and Prove It.

Words Can Never Describe the Blessed Relief ZEMO Gave Me From Those Unsightly Itching Spots.

It doesn't take any longer to apply ZEMO than it does to scratch and rub those awful itching places, but it does more good. ZEMO puts an instant end to the itching, leaving the skin cool and comfortable, while scratching just makes it worse, and ZEMO conquers the cause of the itching at the same time.

This remarkable skin remedy acts almost like magic. It quickly allays the irritation that causes itching, whether this is germ activity or clogged pores and blood vessels, and when used regularly produces really wonderful and permanent results.

Try ZEMO! Prove it for yourself. Buy a 25c bottle today and stop your torture at once.

ZEMO is sold and guaranteed by druggists everywhere, and in Los Angeles by The Sun Drug Company's nine stores.

CONSTIPATED? TRY INTERNAL LUBRICATION

Cathartics and purgatives, with all their griping and pain, do not cure constipation. They afford at the best, only temporary relief. Many of them are nauseating and violent in action, and the habitual use of any laxative weakens the system. You know, too, that you must keep on increasing the dose or change to a more powerful drug. Over-stimulation of the liver is sure to have a harmful reaction and often results in serious diseases.

Instead of the usual "dose of salts," get from your druggist a bottle of Intestinol and take two teaspoonfuls, three times a day. Intestinol is an internal lubricant. Containing neither animal nor vegetable oil, it is not absorbed by the digestive organs but passes into the intestines and makes easy the natural processes of elimination.

Intestinol has no odor or taste, is agreeable to take and has a soothing and lubricating effect on the bowels, making the movements smooth, easy and regular. Intestinol is not expensive and can't possibly injure because it is not a food nor a drug—just a pure mineral lubricant.

STREET EXPECTS EARLY DECISION IN RATE CASES.

Stocks Respond Strongly to the Action of the Interstate Commerce Commission to Expedite Disposal of the Eastern Railroads' Appeal to Increase Freight Charges.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—The extent to which the speculative situation is bound up in the freight rates cases, was indicated today by the course of the stock market. The action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in expediting the rates case foreshadowed an early decision and as the financial community expects that the decision will be favorable to the railroads, the news was construed as distinctly bullish. The market responded strongly. Other influences were at work on the constructive side. Despite the hopes for better business entertained by brokers in the early part of the year, trading thus far has been no heavier than in 1913. With the close of the market today, the first quarter of the year ended. During that time transactions in stocks were about 22,000,000 shares compared with 22,500,000 shares last year. Bond sales this year were about $218,000,000, compared with $145,000,000 in 1913. Bonds shared only in slight degree the general strength of the stock market. Total sales $2,670,000. United States bonds declined from ⅛ to ⅛ on call.

NEW YORK LETTER.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—The New York Evening Post in its financial review today said: The movement of recovery which began on the Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon continued today. It had resulted before the close in advance of a point or more in the majority of active shares with fractional advances generally in the rest of the market. On the advance there was fair activity, which, however, had spent itself before the close, though with no reaction of consequence from the higher prices.

The two main influences today were Wall street's inference in connection with the advancing hearings of railway officers, that the Interstate Commerce Commission will render an early decision on the rate petition, and a report that powerful financial interests had at length obtained control of Missouri Pacific; in the second of these assumptions, there appeared to be some basis of fact. That which had reference to the rate decision was more doubtful, because it still remains to be determined whether the prolonged hearings on the "Industrial Tap Lines" will or will not have to precede a general decision on the railway rates. People of all shades of opinion would welcome the settlement of this railway controversy, the tedious delays in which, however excusable in an overworked commission, have begun to exert a most unhappy influence on the character of whole discussion.

Heavy buying of sterling exchange in connection with tomorrow's quarterly disbursements on foreign holdings of American securities caused a sharp advance in the price of sight drafts, which sold at 4.8645, or nearly ⅛ cent above yesterday. The inquiry was broad and was influenced somewhat by the expectation of considerable sums having to be remitted to cover this market subscription to the new Greek loan.

This demand is usually encountered in the closing days of March and while today's advances were not extraordinary they were interesting, as showing the extent of the adjustment which has to be made. There was little demand for stock market loans owing to the absence of speculation and the inclination of brokers to depend upon the call loan market for whatever accommodation they require. The banks here made further remittances to out-of-town markets and there was some calling of loans by various lenders who have long had large loans outstanding in Wall street.

The London market which had no opinion yesterday to pass on Mr. Asquith's move, responded emphatically today. Consols rose nearly ⅜, going well beyond the highest figure of the last four weeks and a total advance of 1¼ points since the "Army Crisis" came to a head a fortnight ago was registered. It is an interesting query whether this remarkable (some people would say paradoxical) action of securities which commonly reflects the vicissitudes of English public affairs, is to be ascribed to a keen and far-sighted judgment of the present situation itself or to such underlying strength in the financial situation as supersedes politics.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Market Is Absolutely Featureless. Union Oil Easier—Changes All Through Are Nominal.

Dullness on the Stock Exchange yesterday was practically unrelieved by anything of interest. Union showed an easier feeling, but the change was insignificant. Associated and Amalgamated lacked firmness. Los Angeles Investment was unchanged. The rest in almost every instance revealed nominal variations.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Butter and West End Stocks Weak. Trouble Over Disputed Territory Assumes More Serious Aspect.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Goldfields were easier today, owing to persistent selling and profit-taking. Offerings were well absorbed, however. Atlanta and Jumbo closed 2 points down. Florence was wanted at 58 at the close. Manhattans were decidedly soft. Comstocks were easier; Ophir and Sierra lost 1 and Union 2. Mexican seems pegged at 110 bid. The trouble between Jim Butler and West End in the Tonopah camp is causing some uneasiness. West End closed 9 down and Jim Butler was offered at 98 with no bid. Belmont was up 10 points on a declaration of a regular dividend of 25 cents and an extra dividend of 10 cents, payable May 1, to stockholders of record April 15. This is the same as the dividend declared last November and 10 cents above the dividend declared in February. Tonopah was up 5 points, North Star and Midway lost 2 points. Stocks in the outlying-camp list continue to drag. It is reported that the West End Company had ten machine drills in operation in disputed Jim Butler territory and would not accept the counter-proposition made by the Jim Butler management. The belief is that the matter will be brought to an issue in the courts.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Hawaii has again come to the rescue with onions and the quotations on Bermudas dropped 50 cents yesterday owing to the size of receipts from the Islands. In addition, a large number of crates of crystal white, a very fancy onion were shipped in and sold at the former quotation on Bermudas, $3.25 per crate. A heavy shipment of pineapples was also reported in. These continued to sell at 7 cents a pound.

Several surprises awaited vegetable buyers in the morning. Asparagus instead of going down as anticipated, increased in value, white selling from 7 to 9 cents and green as high as 12 cents for fancy quality. String beans also went up, selling from 9 to 12 and peas jumped up a cent, bringing 7 on local and 9 on fancy northern telephone peas. Some green top celery is arriving and is selling at 50 cents a dozen against 85 cents for the golden top. The latter is very scarce.

Egg receipts were 629 cases. The demand was fair and the market declined to 21 cents on heavy receipts from the north. The quotation on eggs in the north is 19½ cents.

Butter receipts were 73,840 pounds. The demand was very favorable on this stock and the market remained steady with advices of a 23-cent market in the north. Cheese arrivals were 2800 pounds. The market on northern fresh declined to 18 cents here and eastern stock was a little more easy in daisies and twins.

There was a fair call on spuds. Oregon stock is moving very well and extra fancy river stock is still bringing a good premium. Receipts were 2725 sacks. Sweet potatoes were weak and a slight decline was noticeable in quotations. The demand has been light for several weeks. Receipts were 141 sacks.

More than two cars of apples, 1264 boxes in all arrived from San Francisco. They were of the Roman Beauty and winesap varieties and were all consigned to the three largest dealers on the street. There were no other changes in fruit products, loquats sold from 8 to 10 cents for the best stock.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—There was considerable improvement in the tone of the oil stocks today. Advances in prices were general. Standard of Indiana, New Jersey, Vacuum and Prairie were the leaders. Standard of California made a good advance. Mining issues were quiet. Braden Copper opened quiet but strong. Business was limited because of the scarcity of offerings. Stocks Gold advanced a point. Arcadian rallied ⅛ point on short covering. Other stocks were ⅛ to ½ and in some instances a point higher in the forenoon. The close was steady with prices holding around the top.

FIX THE RATES FOR LIGHTING

Power Company and Tucs Reach Agreement.

Former State School Leas to Benson District.

Spanish-American Alliance t Erect Headquarters.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 26.—Through the joint efforts of the Arizona Corporation Commission and the Tucson City Council, an agreement has been reached with the Tucson Gas, Electric Light and Power Company settling all differences, lowering the maximum electric rate to 12 cents per kilowatt and assuring the installation of $200,000 worth of improvements by the company. The city will buy electricity at 5 cents under a five-year contract for city lighting and will take electric power at its wells for pumping at something less than 3 cents. Ornamental lighting standards, 120 in number, are to be established on Congress street and Stone avenue. While the agreement is thus far tentative, it is believed it will be approved by the Corporation Commission. The company in addition agrees to make substantial improvements in its streetcar and gas properties.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS LEASED.

The State Board of Control, in consideration of nominal rental, has leased to the Benson Union High School District the buildings formerly used for housing the State Reform School, an institution lately moved to Ft. Grant. Similar action was taken last year in turning over to the Yuma High School District the old penitentiary buildings at Yuma.

ALLIANCE HEADQUARTERS.

A building to cost about $30,000 is to be erected in Tucson next to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of headquarters of the Spanish-American Alliance, a Spanish-speaking order with subordinate organizations in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Sonora.

TONO ARRESTED.

Near Liberty, Maricopa county, has just been arrested Eugenio Tono, wanted in Santa Cruz county for the murder of Antonio Vasquez five years ago. Tono admits the crime, but alleges in extenuation that Vasquez had taken his wife from him.

STABBED TO THE HEART.

In Tucson early Sunday morning, Miguel Jivini was found lying on the floor of an adobe hut with a long-bladed knife thrust through his heart. Jose Tatobaro has been held for the crime, as well as a number of Mexicans believed to have been accomplices, including Francisca Brava, over whom the fatal quarrel is believed to have occurred. A somewhat more prosaic reason has been given that Jivini refused to go out for a bucket of beer.

SEE EXECUTIONS.

A large number of Americans were witnesses last Wednesday of the execution in Nogales, Sonora, of Rafael Rascon and Pedro Chavez. The men had been convicted in a military court for burning bridges on the Nogales-Cananea Railroad a few days before. At 4 a.m. they were brought out from the jail and marched to the cemetery. Rascon first was executed, after stating briefly that he was innocent of the crime charged and that he was not afraid to die. Then Chavez walked steadily out, stepped over the feet of the corpse of his comrade, faced the firing squad and asked the soldiers to avoid, if possible, mutilating his face. This request was observed, every shot being through the man's body. Within a few minutes both bodies had been dumped into graves already provided.

SEEN THROUGH CRACK.

At last the defense has scored in the never-ending warfare waged by trainmen against tramps. A. B. Crute and Charles G. Harrison, former trainmen on the Southern Pacific, have been held for the next session of the Federal Court on a charge of robbing interstate freight shipments. The main witness against them was a miner, William Hines, who, stealing a ride upon the bumper of a box car, through a crack saw trainmen enter the car and take away a number of sackfuls of goods to the caboose at the rear end of the train. One of the shipments looted was billed to Desmond & Co. of Los Angeles, and J. W. Woods, an employee of the firm, identified a number of the articles here found as those missed when the shipments were received and checked.

"EVERYBODY WANTS HIM."

Thomas D. Hawkins, a tall Englishman, a skillful draftsman, who worked in the offices of the Arizona Eastern Railroad Company here, left the city last week, also leaving a considerable number of checks later found to be worthless. Hawkins took a west-bound train and, on the assumption that he had gone to Los Angeles, the authorities in the Coast city were advised by wire to apprehend him. Slight encouragement was received, as the only answer from Chief Sebastian in Los Angeles was "Everybody wants him."

STAMPED EGGS

The Tucson Poultry Association will seek to encourage home industry by marketing its eggs only after each has been stamped with a trade mark and date.

OLD CANNON BALL.

A few days ago, while digging a sewer trench in Tucson, about seven feet below the surface, was found a twelve-pound cannon ball, at first considered a relic of the Civil War. Later, J. J. Chatham knocked all possible romance from the tale with the statement that near where the iron relic was found had been an old cannon ball ore-crushing plant, established about 1884. The experiment was not a success and the machinery and cannon balls were left on the ground.

TUCSON BOOSTERS.

The Tucson Chamber of Commerce is making a strong publicity campaign and has offered prizes for articles dealing with the advantages of Tucson. The stipulation is made that no reference must be made to the far-famed San Xavier Mission, to the Mission have had ample something not progress. One of the submitted was a p Climate Makes Life

The author, Frank Harris, late of Los Angeles, was given a special cash prize. President Manning of the Chamber of Commerce expresses wonder how Harris secured his data on local perfection, inasmuch as he had been in the city only four days, three of which had been spent in the County Jail, there held for trial for selling liquor to an Indian.

INDIAN MINISTER.

Rev. Richard Lewis, a Pima Indian graduate of the Moody Bible School at Northfield, Mass., has been placed in charge of a new Papago Indian church at San Miguel, sixty miles southwest of Tucson. The work of the Indian Presbyterian Church near Tucson has been placed in charge of Rev. F. S. Herndon, who will be assisted by Rev. James Fulton, a Pima Indian, who will soon graduate from the Cook Bible School at Phoenix.

TUCSON POSTMASTER.

J. M. Ronstadt yesterday was nominated by the President to be postmaster at Tucson, succeeding J. Knox Corbett, whose term has just expired. Ronstadt is considered representative of the Spanish-American element of the community. He was born in 1880 in Sonora, where his father, a German engineer, was an officer of the State. Mr. Corbett has been connected with the postal service for much of the time since 1900, as postoffice clerk, as assistant postmaster, and, through two appointments, as postmaster. He is heavily interested in the city and is at the head of the J. Knox Corbett Lumber Company.

The Oil Industry.

PROPOSED LAW IS DISTURBING.

HOLDING COMPANY AGITATION IS AFFECTING ASSOCIATED.

Used as Bear Argument to Depress Stock, Although It Seems Unlikely that the Company Will Be Affected by Pending Legislation at Washington.

The soft tone which has now prevailed for some time in Associated Oil stock is explained by the fact that the present agitation against holding companies is being used as a bear argument to depress the security. Legislation against holding companies is to be directed principally against railroads, and some believe that the Southern Pacific may have to unload its Associated holdings shortly.

Although it is probable that the railroad will escape the effects of the present proposed Federal law, as far as its Associated holdings are concerned, nevertheless the belief is as strong as ever that the railroad will ultimately be forced to unload its interest. On the other hand, the belief has always been expressed that such unloading of the control would not be made in the open market, but that the stock would go into strong hands among the Southern Pacific stockholders and their friends, or else into the hands of some other large corporation. Several dickers have been in progress during the past year, but so far nothing definite has materialized.

A great deal of interest in financial circles will center about the approaching annual meeting of the Associated, as it is possible that some announcement having a bearing upon this phase of the company's business may be made. The present lack of firmness in the stock, aside from the holding company issue, appears to be in the face of most favorable conditions.

May Increase Rate.

The large well brought in by the State Consolidated Oil Company on its property near the town of Shale makes the prospects favorable for increase in the dividend rate of the company. Nothing has been definitely decided regarding such an increase, however. The company is paying at the rate of ¼ of 1 per cent. a month, and has disbursed since the dividend payments were inaugurated an aggregate of approximately $117,000. The rate at one time was 2-3 per cent. a month. The company has paid thirty-four dividends altogether. The State well has been producing several hundred barrels of oil a day.

May Locate Here.

O. S. Marks, representing the Santa Maria Oilfields, Ltd., of London, is in this city on a visit of inspection. It is possible that he will reside here permanently in the capacity of a representative of the English interests. He is a brother of E. Seaborn Marks, chairman of the board. A. A. Daugherty, resident manager of the company, is now at London. One of the purposes of his trip is to attend the annual meeting of the company, which will be held today. He will probably be absent for a month or two yet.

Notes and Personals.

The resignation of W. J. McLean as secretary and treasurer of the General Petroleum Company has been accepted, and his place will be filled by the new British comptroller of the company.

William Ivey and Albert Mitchell, who are directors of the Kern River Oilfields, Ltd., and St. Helens Petroleum Company, have been visiting the company's properties in this State. They have been accompanied on their tour of inspection by E. V. Benjamin, resident manager of the company.

R. N. Bishop, president of the Universal Oil Company, has taken active charge of development on the company's property, W. L. McLaine having resigned as superintendent. It is said that the move was made in order that the company might effect greater economy.

The Home Oil Company of Whittier continues to disburse $500 in dividends per month. The rate is ½ of 1 per cent. The company is trying out a new well-pumping process on its No. 20 deep well.

Fisher, Munhall & Fisher are preparing to develop their twenty-acre tract in Brea Canyon, adjoining the Union's Stearns lease. They have been in possession of the holding for a number of years, but have never operated or leased it.

HARBOR ITEMS.

Lumber carriers arriving today were the steamer George W. Fenwick from Astoria, with 2,000,000 feet for the Hammond Lumber Company, and the steamer Columbia from Redondo Beach, with balance of cargo, loaded at Gray's Harbor.

Departures in ballast were the steamers A. M. Simpson for Coos Bay, Avalon for Willapa, Mandalay for Crescent City, and the schooner Caroline for Umpqua River. The steamer Falcon sailed for San Francisco to complete her cargo for Puget Sound, after loading freight here.

A wireless message was received today, asking that a tug be sent to the outer harbor to assist in towing the steamer Congress to her berth in the inner harbor. An unfavorable tide running was the reasons assigned for the need of a tug. The Congress will proceed to San Diego tomorrow morning.

WATER DEPARTMENT.

Public Service Commission Calls Upon Hollywood Water Concern to Submit Report Without Delay.

The Public Service Commission at its meeting yesterday showed a touch of impatience with the Union Hollywood Water Company, and adopted a resolution calling upon the officers to make a report at once on the valuation of the plant, in order that steps for its acquirement by the city may proceed.

"It's pretty nearly time they're doing something," said Commissioner Snyder, "and if they don't we'll take some other step."

The question as to the legality of assessing a monthly fee of 50 cents on each meter, to pay for the plant, was submitted to the City Attorney for an opinion.

The owner of the Rose Hill plant submitted a statement showing its value to be something over $15,000.

The commission unceremoniously turned down a proposition to become partner in a garage, which two proponents wished to place on the water department lot at Fifth and Olive streets and divide the receipts, declaring that it is probably more profitable to have it used as it is now, for a free playground for newsboys and others, under the direction of Temple Baptist Church.

A request from the Moneta Improvement Association that the new mains be laid on South Main street before the paving is done, was referred to the secretary for report that extensions must be paid for under the rule.

BEARS CONTROL CEREAL MARKET.

BRILLIANT CROP OUTLOOK STUNS WHEAT BULLS.

Big Falling Off in World's Available Supply Fails to Indicate Any Export Business—Cheap Offers from Argentina Give Corn a Black Eye.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, March 31.—Radical bearish sentiment as to wheat developed today because of the present brilliant outlook and in consequence of the total lack of exports. The market had no good reaction, and closed heavy, ⅞ to 1 cent under last night. Corn finished 5-8@¾ to 1 cent down, and oats off 5-8 to ¾. In provisions, the outcome varied from 10 cents decline to an advance of 2½. Notwithstanding a big falling off in the world's available stock of wheat, no authoritative trace could be obtained of an export business being done. Corn trade became semi-demoralized as a result of the cheapest offers from Argentina. The weakness of corn and wheat was too much for the oats market. Depression was emphasized by the big stock here and by nine per cent. increase of acreage in Oklahoma. Provisions receded with grain. There was some substantial buying on the declines, though, believed to be for one of the leading packers.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, March 31.—After opening strong and advancing about 15 points from last night's prices the market had a sharp reaction and closed unchanged to 4 points net lower on old crop options, and 1 to 2 up on new. Foreign advices were more optimistic regarding the situation in Manchester, and under heavy buying for trade account shorts were badly frightened and ran to cover. When trading in the March option—which maintained its premium and went out at 80 points over May—ceased offerings became freer. Wall street and commission houses, together with local traders, were the heaviest sellers. Unfavorable weather reports, mainly from East Texas, were received again today. New crop options ruled steady and in fair demand. Sentiment appears to be of a more reactionary temper tonight on the idea that shorts have about covered and that a fair-sized long interest has accumulated.

Happenings on the Pacific Slope.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Police Commission yesterday approved the estimates for the police department for the next fiscal year. They total $1,126,847. Provision is made for 100 new patrolmen.

The Police Commission denied an application to change a saloon front so as to make place for a cigar and bootblack stand, declaring that every saloon in Los Angeles ought to keep a clear frontage.

Petitions were filed yesterday by property owners asking for the closing of four more blocks in the business district to the issuance of any further liquor permits.

Acting Mayor Whiffen yesterday sent to the City Council a letter urging that steps be taken at once to provide Hollywood with a municipal water system, either by buying the Union Hollywood Company's system or by constructing a new one.

An entirely new point has arisen in the suit tried by Judge Works and submitted against a paying teller and a bank to recover money paid to a woman on a check and later taken from her by the teller, it appearing he had overlooked a stop order from the maker of the check.

At the City Hall.

WANT HUNDRED NEW PATROLMEN.

POLICE COMMISSION MAKES ITS ESTIMATES.

Decides that More Than Million Dollars Is Necessary for Proper Handling of Department of Peace and Safety Next Fiscal Year. Money for "Jag Farm."

A total of $1,126,847 is asked for by the Police Commission to provide for the police department of Los Angeles for the next fiscal year. The estimates were submitted by the Chief yesterday and approved. Acting Mayor Whiffen was excused from voting, as he is a member of the Budget Committee that eventually must pass upon all estimates, and to him will fall the task of cutting down these estimates to meet the city's income.

A summary of the estimates shows that for outlays there is asked $93,880; for expenses, $102,507, and for salaries, $929,460. For the Municipal Inebriate Farm there is asked $370 for outlays and $2860 for expenses.

The estimates are considerably larger than those of last year, for the reason that the basis of salaries is that which has been in vogue in Oakland for the past two years, and that provision is made for 100 new policemen and for various betterments in equipment.

The additional service provided for in the estimates includes the 100 patrolmen, five sergeants, two police women, five chauffeurs, eight motorcycle officers, one stenographer and one hostler.

In the estimates on outlays there is included $1200 for furniture and fittings, $1000 for horses and $2550 for other equipment; $1000 for a lot in San Pedro and $40,000 for structures in San Pedro.

For special services the items aggregate $103,707.

PERMIT TRANSFERS. ACTION OF COMMISSIONERS.

The Police Commission yesterday took the following action on liquor permits:

The wholesale liquor permit for No. 528 South Spring street was transferred from Edward Mansbach to Mansbach & Mansbach. A son of the original permit holder has been taken into the business as a partner.

The wholesale liquor permit held by Fred H. Carter for No. 329 East Ninth street was transferred to Abondi Bulotti.

The saloon permit for No. 115 South Main street was transferred from L. Klinberger to Klinberger and Rosenberger.

The commission denied the application of Louis Lipstutz for a wholesale liquor permit for No. 116 South Main street. There are now twelve liquor establishments in that block.

The wholesale liquor permit for No. 225 East Sixth street was transferred from Jake Immergluck to Immergluck & Nance.

Paul Kerkow made application for a No. 1 restaurant liquor permit for No. 316½ West Fifth street. This was referred to the Chief of Police for investigation and report.

The commission denied the application of Ernest C. Junker for a No. 2 permit for a restaurant at No. 125 East Seventh street.

CLEAR FRONTS. BOARD'S SALOON IDEA.

The Police Commission has a new plan to make saloons more respectable. It would have cigar stands and bootblack stands removed from the frontage of the drinking places. The idea was indorsed yesterday by Acting Mayor Whiffen and two commissioners. The commission denied the application of Eraldi and Lombardo, No. 106 South Main street, for permission to remodel the frontage of their saloon so as to provide for a cigar and bootblack stand. This was done on motion of Commissioner Owen, who declared that the stands were a public nuisance, as they attracted loafers in front of saloons. "It would be a wise move to compel all saloons to clear their frontage," said Owen, and the other members of the board gave their approval.

AFTER FOUR BLOCKS. MORE PETITIONS TO CLOSE.

The general movement to close retail business districts to the further liquor permits gained force yesterday when petitions were filed for such action on four blocks. All these petitions were referred to Chief of Police Sebastian for the purpose of checking the frontage represented on the petitions.

The blocks for which closing petitions were issued are South Main between First and Second streets; South Hill, between Fifth and Sixth streets; Ninth street, between Main and Los Angeles streets, and Main street, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

Hollywood Water System.

Acting Mayor Whiffen yesterday sent to the City Council a letter in which he declared that the Los Angeles aqueduct water will be connected with the municipal water system about May 15, and urging that steps be taken at once to provide a municipal water system for Hollywood. He urges that plans be made for taking over the Union Hollywood water system or the construction of a new system to adequately serve Hollywood and adjacent territory, and states that the Hollywood company is willing to sell its system to the city upon long-time payments or will accept bonds, the value of the system to be fixed by arbitration. Whiffen advises that the system be paid for by the consumers being taxed a small additional rate on their monthly water bills until the entire cost has been met.

First Returns From Wharf.

The Harbor Commission yesterday received its first financial returns from the fishermen's wharf at San Pedro. Rentals for thirty-one stalls for the months of April, May and June were paid in, amounting to a total of $279.

City Hall Brevities.

The Police Commission yesterday again recommended that the City Council close to street speaking Sixth street, between Main and Los Angeles streets. Complaints have been made frequently over the controversies between religionists at street meetings at this locality, and twice before the commission has recommended that street speaking there be prohibited, but the Council has denied the recommendation.

The City Council is to be asked by the Police Commission to provide that manicurists and persons giving facial massage and scalp treatments be required to obtain permits from the Police Commission, the same as is required from persons conducting bath establishments, etc. This is required so that this class of persons may be put out of business in case of misconduct.

Ingle Carpenter yesterday addressed the City Council as a committee of the whole, on the subject of delegating to the State Railroad Commission the right to fix rates on public utilities. The subject will be further discussed today.

At the Courthouse.

LEGAL TWISTER BEFORE COURT.

NO CASE IN STATUTES WHICH IS SIMILAR TO THIS.

Question Whether Bank May Recover After Money Is Paid Out. Error Is Discovered and the Sum Is Taken from the Person Drawing It at the Bank.

There is something new in every lawsuit tried, and yesterday Judge Works got one which involves whether or not a bank is entitled to recover after money has been paid out, an error discovered and the sum paid is taken from the person drawing it at the bank. The case was submitted.

The suit to recover $300 from the Central National Bank paid to Mrs. Frances Holland by J. A. Brewer, paying teller, and later taken from her, was brought by J. W. Vickers, who held her assigned claim. Brewer is named one of the defendants.

Mrs. Holland received a check for $300 from E. F. Hunt in a business deal. She went to the Central National Bank to cash it; was told the check was good, but that she would have to wait until 10 o'clock, the banking hour.

Brewer gave her the money when she again presented the check and learned from her that she intended to deposit the money at the Security Trust and Savings Bank. After she had gone Brewer said, in so many words: "By crickety, there's a stop order here, and I forgot about it."

He left the bank in pursuit of Mrs. Holland, finding her in line among the depositors of the Security Bank. There is a slight variation in the testimony at this point. Mrs. Holland said that Brewer took the money, saying he wanted to count it, then telling her a mistake had been made and asking her to accompany him to the bank.

Brewer said he told her a mistake had been made, but that she handed him the money. At the bank Mrs. Holland had an interview with one of the officers and learned of the stop order.

There does not appear to be on the statutes a case in point where a bank official gets the money from the person after leaving the bank. All of the decisions bear on the right of a bank to bring suit to recover money paid out where it is afterward discovered it had been illegally drawn.

FAMILY QUARREL. SON AGAINST FATHER.

Before Ira Phillips died, December 20, 1912, he disposed of his property by trust deeds, naming the Title Insurance and Trust Company trustee of the estate, and his son, Ivar Ira Phillips, trustee of the fund given to the latter's four children.

Phillips gave one-third of his $175,000 estate to his wife, Matilda; one-third to Ivar, and the remaining one-third in trust to his grand-children, Ira Wendell, John Ivar, Amy D. and Edna Phillips. The widow's share of the estate was not to be less than $75,000.

Attorneys Leaf & Pugh yesterday filed a complaint by Ira Wendell Phillips against his father, brother and sisters and the widow, alleging that his father is unfit to act as his trustee, and further asserting that he has relentlessly persecuted him as the result of bitter hostility between them.

He asks for the removal of his father as trustee and an injunction restraining the Title Insurance and Trust Company from distributing the property, alleging that it has not been converted into cash and a distribution would be detrimental to his interests.

Presiding Judge McCormick granted a restraining order returnable in Department Three on Monday. Ivar Phillips will fight the injunction, and the suit promises to reveal a bitter family history.

JOHN BARLEYCORN FIGURES IN DIVORCE SUIT.

Habitual intemperance and cruelty are alleged in the separate maintenance complaint of Mrs. Elsie McKibbon against Dr. Rupert E. McKibbon, filed yesterday. She asserts that the alleged cruelty began with 1904, three years after their marriage at Langley, B. C.

When intoxicated, Mrs. McKibbon says that Dr. McKibbon is harsh and abusive. She was forced to leave the house and take refuge with her father to escape his alleged abusive treatment and physical violence. On each occasion, she declares, he besought her to return. She says he threatened to kill her, and once she appealed to the police for protection.

The couple have two sons, Harold, 11, and Collin, 8. Dr. McKibbon's income is set down as $300 a month, and he is alleged to be worth $20,000.

TRAILS HUSBAND. DETECTIVE SUMMONED.

Information tending to show that Mrs. Hattie E. Whittaker has put a detective on the trail of her husband, D. A. Whittaker, promoter of the Los Angeles Union Stockyards Company, came to light when Whittaker's divorce suit was heard in Judge Monroe's court yesterday.

The court will have the detective subpoenaed and learn from him whether or not he informed Mrs. Whittaker that her husband was guilty of misconduct. Whittaker told the court that he was merely boarding at the woman's house.

Whittaker alleged in his complaint that his wife deserted him May 1, 1910. She evidently intended to make no defense, but was brought into court for her side of the story.

FREE SPENDER. INCOME INSUFFICIENT.

Why Francis Ford, the director of a moving-picture company, could not support his wife and his son, Robert, 4 years old, on a salary of $175 a week, appeared to be for the reason that his expenses were $196 a week.

Judge Jackson had him make an itemized account of his expenses with the result that he spent weekly about $21 more than he earned. Ford was ordered to pay his wife $25 a week, with the privilege of seeing his child if the alimony is paid.

Mrs. Ford is suing for divorce, alleging desertion and failure to provide. They were married in New York August 19, 1908, and she alleges she was deserted December 1, 1912.

GIVEN DECREE. BOY BRIDEGROOM WINS.

Elmer A. James, the boy bridegroom, who, due to family troubles, enlisted in the United States army and deserted four months later for a longing to see his boy, won a signal victory in Judge Monroe's court yesterday when he was awarded a decree of divorce, although his wife brought the suit.

The court found that Mrs. James had not substantiated her allegation of non-support and that she had deserted him. He found that James had supported his family.

James was ordered to pay his wife $15 a month and will be allowed to see his son every other Sunday.

COURT PARAGRAPHS. PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

DAMAGES AWARDED. John Holzer was awarded $2500 damages by a jury in Hudge Houser's court yesterday in his $30,000 damage suit against the Orange County Coal Mining Company for injuries he sustained as an employee. He was injured in a dynamite blast, and alleged poor quality of the explosive.

LOSES ON NON-SUIT. A. C. Weeks, a stockholder of the Alhambra Construction Company, was nonsuited in Judge Morrison's court in his action to restrain the corporation from selling his stock for non-payment of the assessment.

HABEAS CORPUS. W. S. O'Brien, arrested in this city for a violation of the blue-sky law in Arizona, was admitted to bonds in $2000 by Presiding Judge McCormick yesterday, on the application of Attorney Morrison for a writ of habeas corpus. O'Brien, who is resisting extradition, has been in the County Jail about two weeks.

OPPOSE MARRIAGE. It is evident from the complaint of Ward Winchell and his wife, Lucretia, filed yesterday against their daughter-in-law, that they still considered their son, Ward Winchell, Jr., a child, and hence too tender to take a wife. At any rate, through Davis & Rush, they ask the court to annul the marriage, which took place January 29, last, without their consent. At the time of the nuptials Ward was 20 and Eva A. Sanders Winchell, 19.

INCORPORATIONS. Mortgage Assets Company, incorporators C. A. Thomas, N. J. Thomas, C. T. Haley, capital stock $75,000, subscribed $75,000; E. J. Stanton and Son, incorporators Leroy H. Stanton, F. S. Stanton, Fannie B. Stanton, L. S. Swafford, S. E. Hamilton, capital stock $50,000, subscribed $500; East Side Land and Water Company, incorporators H. G. Redwine, C. P. Rogers, H. C. Wagner, capital stock $500,000, subscribed $3.

JUDGMENT IS REVERSED.

Supreme Court Finds That Lower Court Erred in Case Involving a Cashier's Check.

The Supreme Court has reversed the judgment of the Superior Court of Los Angeles county in the action brought by the National Bank of California against C. B. Miner and the First National Bank of Los Angeles, involving a claim for $2970. The lower court found for the plaintiff.

It appears that Miner owed the plaintiff corporation that amount of money, and he secured from H. A. Johnson a check for the sum. He was given a cashier's check by the First National Bank of Los Angeles by mistake. It was soon discovered that Johnson had no account at the bank to check against. The pleadings show that the mistake in giving Miner a cashier's check for the money was discovered within an hour after it was made.

The same court also reversed the judgment of the Los Angeles county Superior Court, in favor of the defendant, in the suit brought by H. W. Brimmer against F. M. Salisbury and J. B. Parazette, involving a note for $500, paid on a contract for a piece of land in Imperial county, valued at $6250.

SEEK AN ACCOUNTING.

Rotary Drilling Apparatus Patent Infringement Suit Filed in United States Court.

The Oil Well Supply Company of Pittsburgh and Los Angeles, Edward Double and Thomas J. Griffin of Los Angeles, brought an action in the United States District Court yesterday against the Wilson & Willard Manufacturing Company, Elihu C. Wilson, William W. Wilson and Arthur G. Willard, for alleged infringement of the Thomas J. Griffin patent on rotary drilling apparatus.

The suit is based on the contention that the Wilson & Willard rotary is an infringement of the Griffin patent. An injunction against the further use, manufacture and sale, and an accounting are asked for. The Oil Well Supply Company and the Union Tool Company manufacture the rotaries under the Griffin patent. Frederick S. Lyon, the patent attorney, appears for the complainants.

WAIVES MINING STOCK BEQUEST.

JUDGE RELINQUISHES INTEREST IN THE ROSS ESTATE.

Time Within Which Will Might Have Been Contested Expired Yesterday, So Waiver Was Filed Before that Date—Quit-Claim Made to Every Person Concerned.

A waiver of the bequest of mining stock made in the will of Mrs. Ida Hancock Ross, was filed in the Probate Court yesterday by Judge Erskine M. Ross the widower.

The waiver was served on Stephens & Stephens, who represent the executor under the will of Mrs. Ross, and their office stated that probably nothing will be done except to accept the waiver.

Mrs. Ross died March 15, 1913, naming her son, George Allan Hancock, the principal beneficiary and executor. Judge Rives appraised her estate at $3,633,704.

The waiver reads as follows:

"In the matter of the estate of Ida Hancock Ross, deceased:

"The time within which the will of the said deceased, admitted to probate on the first day of April, 1913, can be contested expiring with this thirty-first day of March, 1914, the undersigned, Erskine M. Ross, hereby declines to accept the bequest made or intended to be made to him in and by the said will, or any part or portion thereof, consisting of stock in certain mines or mining claims situated in Mohave county of the now State of Arizona, and hereby relinquishes and quit-claims to whomsoever it may concern, any and all interest therein so bequeathed or intended to be bequeathed to him."

Hands Across the State.

DRAFTING AMENDMENT TO AID CONSOLIDATION.

"HANDS ACROSS THE STATE" might be an appropriate decription of the meeting of the City Council, as a committee of the whole yesterday forenoon, with representatives of San Francisco and Oakland to launch the movement for a city and county consolidation amendment to the State Constitution.

Councilman Conwell, who was the originator of the movement in Los Angeles that has brought about this conference between representatives of California's three leading cities, was made chairman, and briefly stated the situation.

Then followed short addresses from City Attorney Long of San Francisco, City Attorney Woolner of Oakland, and City Attorney Stephens of Los Angeles, each outlining the attitude desired by each city, in order that they may individually carry out their plans for enlargement of territory.

Each of the northern representatives expressed the willingness of the cities they represented to join with Los Angeles in the advocacy of an amendment that will be broad enough in its scope to allow for the territorial expension of any of the trio.

A. A. Dennison, secretary of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, declared that while Oakland would willingly aid its sister cities in their aspirations, it takes the position that there must be no encroachment of any city across county boundary lines; that this position is taken for its own safety and in order to carry out its own ambitions.

At the conclusion of the conference the three city attorneys were appointed a committee to draft a proposed amendment to the constitution and they met yesterday afternoon to outline this work. They will hold a further conference on the subject today.

LOS ANGELES WOMAN SAYS AKOZ GIVES QUICK RELIEF FROM COLDS

Mrs. J. B. Alexander Declares Mineral Compound Is a Wonder Remedy

"I can truthfully say without any exaggeration that Akoz Compound is a valuable preparation for bronchial troubles, pneumonia, or wherever there is acute inflammation or congestion," writes Mrs. J. B. Alexander, 920 Beacon street, Los Angeles, whose marvelous recovery from a complication of ailments was brought about by the use of Akoz remedies. Continuing, she says:

"I feel that the public should know more in regard to the merits of Akoz Compound for severe colds, where the coughing and acute congestion calls for speedy relief. You and the public in general know what the Akoz remedies have done for me when everything else failed, raising me from a helpless invalid to a well woman. My faith in the different Akoz remedies suggested the use of the compound for a severe cold, which my husband and I, among many others, have fallen victims of late. The cough racked our bodies and head until the condition became serious. We were practically helpless with the intensity of suffering. I started with the compound, applying it on the chest and abdomen. The first application relieved the congestion, the second stopped the cough, the third and last, relieved the whole condition. One box for each case was all that was necessary. I send this statement to you to be used as you deem best, if published, would say that it is unsolicited and given cheerfully and freely, as all information will be given concerning what Akoz has done for me.

"I have also noticed that Akoz dusting powder and Akoz ointment are splendid for sunburn and poison oak, and I should suggest that some be taken on all mountain trips and picnic parties."

Akoz is for sale at all Owl drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.
